Description

We are a 2000-acre ranch located 45 minutes northwest of Austin and are looking for an intern to work over the summer. This internship will mainly be a bottle-feeding internship but will also include the following duties:

- finding and tagging fawns as well as administering vaccinations.
- identification of sick deer and how to go about treatment
- feeding and daily herd check of both whitetail and fallow
- chemical immobilization techniques and daily ranch maintenance.

This is a high-end ranch looking for someone that is interested in learning about the deer industry.

Qualifications

Looking for a very motivated individual that is responsible and willing to work long hours. Experience in the deer/wildlife industry is a plus but not a requirement. Must be able to lift 50lbs and preferred degree in animal science, wildlife management, or something similar. Please send resume and cover letter to Kayla.malatek@keeperranch.com
