EDUCATIONAL ADMINISTRATION PROGRAM

Student Handbook
MASTER OF SCIENCE IN EDUCATIONAL ADMINISTRATION

This handbook reflects several policies that directly impact students enrolled in the Educational Administration program. The purpose of this handbook is to provide students with information concerning the nature and progression of the program. Changes to the handbook may occur at any time at the discretion of the program administration. The current version is posted on the website. As a general rule, these policies will be uniformly applied. However, the faculty recognizes that from time to time exceptional circumstances may arise that necessitate an exception. In such cases the core faculty reserves the right to review the matter and make a final determination.

Texas A&M University-Kingsville offers a Master of Science in Educational Administration and a Principalship Certification Only program. The Master of Science in Educational Administration is a professional degree designed to prepare leaders throughout the state at the mid-management level. Courses emphasizing leadership in the areas of educational theory, philosophy, and policy development, as well as courses in educational innovations, curriculum and instruction, school improvement, are required in the program. The degree program has been approved by the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board and TEA. The degree is designed primarily for persons who desire to attain or who aspire to hold positions of leadership in educational institutions. The term "positions of leadership" is broadly construed to include teacher collegial leaders. Indeed, one of the assumptions underlying the program is that leadership in educational organizations should be broadly defined and distributed. The certification program is designed for students already in possession of a Master’s Degree and want to become certified as a principal in the state of Texas.

Students may apply to be accepted for a Master of Science in Educational Administration with certification program. Students may also apply to be accepted for the Master of Science in Educational Administration only (without becoming certified). Application must be made through www.applytexas.org. Once student has been accepted to the College of Graduate Studies, the application is sent to the program level for the graduate coordinator’s decision. Student may or may not be accepted at the program level. Just because the student has been accepted by the College of Graduate Studies, that doesn’t necessarily mean the student will be accepted at the program level, as there are different requirements at the program level for admission. For specific admission requirements at the program level see the section below titled, “Admittance to a Specific Program.”

Master of Science Degree Program in Educational Administration Features
The Master of Science in Educational Administration degree is a 36-hour online program (see degree plan below):

Master’s Degree

- EDAD 5301 Behavioral and Organizational Foundations of Education (3)
- EDAD 5302 Elementary & Secondary Curricula (3)
- EDAD 5330 Multicultural Education (3)
- EDAD 5344 Supervision (3) (resource course)
  - Instructional Leadership Development
  - Professional Development & Appraisal System
- EDAD 5382 School Public Relations (3)
- EDAD 5343 Managing School Resources (3)
- EDAD 5341 School Administration (3)
- EDAD 5320 Education: Special Problems
- EDAD 5383 Public School Law
- EDAD 5342 Principalship (3)
- EDAD 5307 School Administration: Advanced Problems (3)
- EDAD 5345 Internship (3)

The courses in the degree plans are aligned in a specific order and are to be taken in that order. This sequence allows the student to build knowledge and comprehension with each course in preparation for the next course on the degree plan. If the student is seeking certification with the Master’s Degree the process is as follows: once all courses are successfully completed, comprehensive examination is successfully completed within the last term of classes and the six hour practice test must be taken at the university (fall or spring) in the last semester of the program, student may then apply for permission to sit for the principal examination through the certification office at Texas A&M University-Kingsville.
Certification Only
The certification for the Principalship is a 27 credit hour online certificate. For the certificate program, a minimum undergraduate GPA of 2.8, the GRE or MAT score is not required. A Master’s Degree is required prior to applying for certification. Once the student has successfully completed the required courses on the certification plan, the student is required to take a six-hour practice examination prior to applying for permission to sit for the Principalship examination. The practice examination is held spring and fall at Texas A&M University-Kingsville. No other test location is permissible. No prior courses will be considered or accepted to apply towards the courses on the certification plan. Course longevity is a maximum of 7 years.

Required Courses for Certification in the Principalship:

EDAD 5301 Behavioral and Organizational Foundations of Education (3)
EDAD 5302 Elementary & Secondary Curricula (3)
EDAD 5330 Multicultural Education (3) EDAD 5341 School Administration (3)
EDAD 5344 Supervision (3) (resource course)
EDAD 5343 Managing School Resources (3)
EDAD 5383 Public School Law
EDAD 5342 Principalship (3)
EDAD 5307 School Administration: Advanced Problems (3)
EDAD 5345 Internship (3)

For specific TEA requirements to become certified as a principal in the state of Texas, see the Texas Education Agency website:

Program Outcomes
The overarching goal of the program is for the student to develop a style of thinking, feeling, and behaving that centers on knowledge of professional literature; a respect for data of various kinds; careful, reflective, and constructive reasoning; effective leadership behavior; and an overall leadership vision. Our students exercise high levels of independent scholarship, remain current with issues of the field, and give a great deal of emphasis to educational administration theory and research. The applications of theory and research experiences impact personal and organizational change to improve educational programs.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION AND REQUIREMENTS

Education Administration Program Policy

The following policies apply to all students unless otherwise stated.

Degree Plan

The student must file a signed initial degree plan with the College of Graduate Studies, through the graduate coordinator/adviser, before or during the first semester of graduate course work. A final degree plan must be submitted to the graduate coordinator for review and signature when the student files for candidacy and a copy of the signed final degree plan with any revisions must also be forwarded to the graduate dean at the time of candidacy. The student is responsible for knowing and meeting all university policy and deadlines.

Transfer of credits to Master’s Degree Program

Up to six credit hours of previous work from an accredited university may be transferred in to substitute for credit hours in the current degree plan. The credit hours may not have been used from a previously completed degree. The grade must be a “B” or better to be considered. The coursework will not be older than 7 years old. The course content of the course being considered for substitution must be very similar to the content of the class in the Educational Administration Program. It is at the program coordinator’s discretion as to whether or not the course(s) will or will not be transferred into the student’s Educational Administration Program degree plan.

Attendance

A vital part of each student’s education is regular attendance at all class meetings. Every faculty member will keep a current attendance record on all students. Frequent absences tend to lower the quality of a student’s work in a course, and frequent or persistent absences may preclude a passing grade or cause a student to be dropped from one or more courses upon the request of a faculty member.

The administration of the Educational Administration Program defines certain types of absences as "official" or "excused" absences. These are absences due to confining illness, serious illness or death in the family, and documented participation in an officially approved class activity. Students wishing to be excused for any other reason must obtain the approval of each instructor concerned. These should be kept to a minimum. A student will not be penalized for official or excused absences provided the work missed is made up in a manner satisfactory to the faculty member. In the case of unexcused absences, the faculty member concerned will determine whether or not the student will be permitted to make up the missed work. Students with excessive unexcused absences may be dropped from the course regardless of whether or not they are passing.

Required Grades
A minimum grade point average of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale is required to be maintained while in the program. Grades of D or F do not apply toward the graduate degree but are used to calculate grade point averages. Courses may be repeated for credit, in which case the last grade of record is the official grade.

Scholastic Probation
A student may be placed on scholastic probation if, at the end of either long semester or the second summer session, the student’s cumulative graduate grade point average falls below 3.0. If the probationary status is not removed during the next full semester for which the student enrolls (combined summer terms count as one full semester), the student must be reinstated before registering for further graduate work.

Reinstatement
The graduate student who is dismissed for any reason may request reinstatement through the Graduate Dean, who will consult with the graduate program coordinator and program advisee.

Professionalism when Communicating with Faculty
Communication between faculty and students through email, text, or phone is expected to be professional and courteous, as expected of educational leaders.
Academic Misconduct

Full-Time Status
A full-time graduate student is one registered for 9 semester credit hours in a fall or spring semester, and 6 hours in each of the two summer terms. Students wishing to register an overload, first obtain permission from the Dean of the College of Education and Human Performance.

Course Longevity
A student must complete all requirements for the Educational Administration degree, within seven consecutive years of initial registration for that degree. Graduate credits older than those stipulated are not applicable toward the graduate degree without written approval from the Graduate Dean. Further information can be found at the office of Graduate Studies website: http://www.tamuk.edu/grad/

Graduation Under a Particular Catalog
Students receive the graduate degree when they satisfy the requirements of the first or any subsequent catalog under which they earned credit for the degree, as long as that catalog is not more than five years old.

Continuous Enrollment
Continuous enrollment consists of fall, spring semesters and summer semesters.

Graduate Readmission
Students who have been inactive in the program for two long semesters (fall and spring) must resubmit an application via www.applytexas.org. Students returning for certification must complete another application for admission (www.applytexas.org) to be admitted to the certification program.
Admittance to a Specific Program

Admittance to the College of Graduate Studies does not guarantee acceptance into the Educational Administration graduate program. Standards for admittance to the program are set by the coordinator of the program. The graduate coordinator for the program is responsible for acceptance or denial of admission of the student to the program. The program adviser will direct the degree plan. Students must therefore check the admission requirements to the program before they seek admission to the College of Graduate Studies.

Advanced study in Educational Administration provides an opportunity for individuals to prepare for leadership positions in the field of education. Degrees and/or certification are available in Principalship and Superintendent. Included in each course of study is a one-semester supervised internship at an approved public school. All GPA requirements for a master's degree apply. Admission to the master’s program requires the following

- 2.8 undergraduate GPA
- An acceptable score(s) that is not older than five years in one of the two following tests:

  GRE Scores of: 142 or better in the V and 142 or better in the Q (under the new score reports for the GRE) or a MAT Score of 388 or higher.

Test must be taken, meet minimum score requirements and acceptable score(s) presented to the Office of Graduate Studies within the first semester of taking classes. For those students who don’t meet the minimal score requirements, they will be considered on a case by case basis. If the Program Coordinator deems it advisable, the student will be allowed to enroll for one semester. If the student maintains a “B” or higher in each class for that semester, he or she may be allowed to register for the following semester. If the student does not maintain a “B” or higher for each class, the student will not be allowed to register for any further classes in the program.

Library Resources
The resources of the library at TAMUK in fields relevant to this program are made available to students in the program. The library holds a complete file of ERIC (the Education Resources Information Center) materials; this includes both Resources in Education and Current Index to Journals in Education. Students also have access to the on-line resources which locates references and summaries or articles in a variety of electronic and other databases.

The TAMUK library is a depository for both federal and state documents. The Jernigan library takes all state documents offered. In addition, almost all documents generated by the U.S. Department of Education, the National Center for Educational Statistics, and the National Institute of Education are available. Media material collections are provided. Faculty and students in the educational administration program at TAMUK have reciprocal borrowing/use privileges at institutions of higher education in Texas through TexShare. Jernigan Library can be accessed on the web at: http://lib.tamuk.edu/
EDAD PROGRAM ASSESSMENTS

Course Assessments
Each course has student learning outcomes and assessments of those outcomes.

Comprehensive Examinations
The comprehensive examination should be completed no later than the first week of April (for May candidates), first two weeks of July (for August candidates) and first week of November (for December graduates). Comprehensive examinations are administered to ascertain whether the student is sufficiently prepared in professional knowledge, inquiry, and mastery of personal leadership skills. Comprehensive examinations will be scheduled and administered to students seeking a Master’s Degree in Educational Administration after they have completed all course work in the program, excluding EDAD 5342 and EDAD 5345.

The Written Comprehensive Examination
The written phase of the examination consists of essay questions submitted by faculty members and generally covers any course information ascertained in the Educational Administration Program while the student was enrolled. Specific guidelines for the completion of the comprehensive examination questions are defined on each examination disseminated to the student. Strict adherences to these guidelines are the sole responsibility of the Educational Administration student completing the examination.

Papers received from students are marked as “Pass” or “Fail.” Grading of the comprehensive examination will be the responsibility of the Program Coordinator. Failing grades may be accompanied by recommendations for additional course work, outside reading, or field experience prior to retaking the examination. This decision is made by the Program Coordinator. This policy is effective as of August 2013.

Retaking Comprehensive Examination
In the event of failure on any part of the written examination, the program coordinator may require a professional growth plan, which may include additional course work, a research paper, additional face to face meetings with faculty, or other plans to remediate area(s) of concern before repeating the examination. The student may retake the comprehensive examination, totally or in part, three times in writing within a minimum of one week and up to no more than six months from the time of first failure. If after three attempts student fails the retaken portion(s) of the examination, student will be removed from the program at such time.

Disability statement:
The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disability. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation please contact the Disability Resource Center (DRC) as early as possible in the term at (361) 593-2904. DRC is located in the Life Service and Wellness building at 1210 Retama Drive.

Six-drop policy:
The following provision does not apply to students with Texas public college or university credits prior to Fall 2007. The Texas Senate Bill 1231 specifies the number of course drops allowed to a student without penalty. After a student has dropped six courses, a grade of QF will normally be recorded for each subsequent drop. Additional information on Senate Bill 1231 is available at the Registrar’s Office at (361) 593-2811 and at http://www.tamuk.edu/registrar/drop_policy.html.

Academic misconduct statement:
You are expected to adhere to the highest academic standards of behavior and personal conduct in this course and all other courses. Students who engage in academic misconduct are subject to university disciplinary procedures. Make sure you are familiar with your Student Handbook, especially the section on academic misconduct, which discusses conduct expectations and academic dishonesty rules.

Forms of academic dishonesty:
1) Cheating: Using unauthorized notes or study aids, allowing another party to do one’s work/exam and turning in that work/exam as one’s own; submitting the same or similar work in more than one course without permission from the course instructors; deception in which a student misrepresents that he/she has mastered information on an academic exercise that he/she has not mastered; giving or receiving aid unauthorized by the instructor on assignments or examinations.
2) Aid of academic dishonesty: Intentionally facilitating any act of academic dishonesty. Tampering with grades or taking part in obtaining or distributing any part of a scheduled test.
3) Fabrication: Falsification or creation of data, research or resources, or altering a graded work without the prior consent of the course instructor.
4) Plagiarism: Portrayal of another’s work or ideas as one’s own. Examples include unacknowledged quotation and/or paraphrase of someone else’s words, ideas, or data as one’s own in work submitted for credit. Failure to identify information or essays from the Internet and submitting them as one’s own work also constitutes plagiarism.
5) Lying: Deliberate falsification with the intent to deceive in written or verbal form as it applies to an academic submission.
6) Bribery: Providing, offering or taking rewards in exchange for a grade, an assignment, or the aid of academic dishonesty.
7) Threat: An attempt to intimidate a student, staff or faculty member for the purpose of receiving an unearned grade or in an effort to prevent reporting of an Honor Code violation.

Please be aware that the University subscribes to the Turnitin plagiarism detection service. Your paper may be submitted to this service at the discretion of the instructor.

Other Forms of Academic Misconduct:

1) Failure to follow published departmental guidelines, professor's syllabi, and other posted academic policies in place for the orderly and efficient instruction of classes, including laboratories, and use of academic resources or equipment.

2) Unauthorized possession of examinations, reserved library materials, laboratory materials or other course related materials.

3) Failure to follow the instructor or proctor's test-taking instructions, including but not limited to not setting aside notes, books or study guides while the test is in progress, failing to sit in designated locations and/or leaving the classroom/test site without permission during a test.

4) Prevention of the convening, continuation or orderly conduct of any class, lab or class activity. Engaging in conduct that interferes with or disrupts university teaching, research or class activities such as making loud and distracting noises, repeatedly answering cell phones/text messaging or allowing pagers to beep, exhibiting erratic or irrational behavior, persisting in speaking without being recognized, repeatedly leaving and entering the classroom or test site without authorization, and making physical threats or verbal insults to the faculty member, or other students and staff.

5) Falsification of student transcript or other academic records; or unauthorized access to academic computer records.

6) Nondisclosure or misrepresentation in filling out applications or other university records.

7) Any action which may be deemed as unprofessional or inappropriate in the professional community of the discipline being studied.

Non-academic misconduct:
The university respects the rights of instructors to teach and of students to learn. Maintenance of these rights requires campus conditions that do not impede their exercise. Campus behavior that interferes with these rights will not be tolerated; examples include

1) interfering with the instructor's ability to conduct the class,

2) causing inability of other students to profit from the instructional program, or

3) any interference with the rights of others.

An individual engaging in such disruptive behavior may be subject to disciplinary action. Such incidents will be adjudicated by the Dean of Students under non-academic procedures.

Ongoing behaviors or single behaviors considered distracting (e.g., coming late to class, performing a repetitive act that is annoying, sleeping or reading a newspaper in class, etc.) will be addressed by the faculty member initially either generally or individually. Cases in which such annoying behavior becomes excessive and the student refuses to respond to the faculty member’s efforts can be referred to the Dean of Students. In the case of serious disruptive behavior in a classroom the instructor may first request compliance from the student and if it is not received, an instructor has the authority to ask the student to leave the classroom. If the student fails to leave after being directed to do so, assistance may be obtained from other university personnel, including University Police Department. An individual engaging in such disruptive behavior is subject to disciplinary action. Such incidents will be adjudicated by the Dean of Students under non-academic procedures to determine if the student should be allowed to return to the classroom.

Harassment /Discrimination:
Texas A&M University-Kingsville does not tolerate discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity or sexual orientation (or any other illegal basis) and will investigate all complaints that indicate sexual harassment, harassment, or discrimination may have occurred. Sexual harassment and sexual assault are types of sex discrimination. Such sexual misconduct is unacceptable and will not be tolerated. Any member of the university community violating this policy will be subject to disciplinary action. A person who believes he/she has been the victim of sexual misconduct harassment, harassment, or discrimination may pursue either the informal or the formal complaint resolution procedure. A complaint may be initially made to the Office of Compliance at (361) 593-4758, complainant’s immediate supervisor, a department head, a supervisory employee, or the Dean of Students at (361)-593-3606 or the Office of Compliance at (361) 593-4758. Regardless of who the complaint is filed with, the Compliance Office will be notified of the complaint so it can be investigated.
