Preparation of the Annual Security and Annual Fire Safety Report

The Annual Security Report (ASR) and Annual Fire Safety Report (AFSR) is required by the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security and Campus Crime Statistics Act (the Clery Act). The report includes, but is not limited to: campus safety and security policy statements and disclosures; statistics for Clery Act crimes for Texas A&M University-Kingsville property, adjacent property, and non-university property owned or controlled by the university for the previous three years; and fire statistics for on-campus student housing facilities for the previous three years. To prepare the Annual Security Report and Annual Fire Safety Report, the university, through the University Police Department, collects, classifies, and counts crime reports and crime statistics. Crime statistics are collected throughout the year from UPD and members of the university designated as Campus Security Authorities (CSA). Crime statistics are also requested from local law enforcement agencies in jurisdictions where the university owns or controls property.

The Texas A&M University-Kingsville University Police Department (UPD) is responsible for preparing and distributing this report by October 1 each year. Security and Access to Campus Facilities

Campus Buildings and Grounds

Buildings on the Texas A&M University-Kingsville campus remain open only through the completion of the last scheduled event. A daily schedule is provided to the physical plant and buildings are locked on the basis of that schedule. Only employees with maintenance responsibilities for those buildings have access after buildings are locked. Other personnel seeking access after-hours must obtain advance written approval through their administrative chain of command. University police officers have access to all buildings on campus to provide limited access after-hours, in case of an emergency or other special circumstance. Call 361-593-2611 for assistance.

The Physical Plant maintains the university buildings and grounds with concern for security and safety. Campus facilities and grounds are inspected on a regular basis to ensure that broken windows, locks and repairs are made in an expeditious manner. The University Police Department also receives information from the campus community regarding unsafe facility condition (including steps and handrails), damaged roadways, overgrowth of shrubbery and other areas in need of repair. This information is forwarded to the Physical Plant in a timely manner. We encourage community members to promptly report any maintenance concerns to the Physical Plant at 361-593-3312 or the University Police Department at 361-593-2611. Campus Lighting Checks

Texas A&M University-Kingsville is committed to campus safety and security. Exterior lighting and landscape control is a critical part of that commitment. Representatives from various departments continually conduct security surveys to ensure campus lighting is adequate and that the landscape is appropriately controlled. University police officers’ conduct routine checks of lighting on campus during regularly assigned patrol duties, when they observe lights that are out or dim, officers will contact the dispatcher to initiate a work order to Physical Plant which is acted upon by a representative of the appropriate maintenance office, usually within 24 hours or the next business day, to correct the problem. Once a month officers’ conduct a complete canvas of the University campus noting any malfunctioning lights using a schematic provided by Support Services, the form is delivered to Support Services and Physical Plant for appropriate action and repairs. We encourage community members to report any deficiencies in lighting or other physical safety concern to the Physical Plant, 361-593-3312, or the University Police Department, 361-593-2611.

The UPD also coordinates with other members of the university community, student organizations and class projects, in periodic lighting tours. Together, students and staff tour the campus in small groups—after dark—to look for any lighting issues, obstacles, and other items that could impede someone’s safety on the campus. After the tour, notes are collected, compiled, and shared with attendees and forwarded to the appropriate departments. As a result, lights are repaired, bulbs are changed, and improvements made to make campus a safer environment for the campus community.

Lighting surveys are conducted and improvements made, as necessary, in various locations on campus. Anyone aware of a hazardous situation in any building or on the campus grounds should notify Physical Plant (361-593-3312) or University Police Department (361-593-2611) so repairs can be made promptly.

- Report the crime to UPD at a later date.
- Make a complaint to the Dean of Students Office. Such a complaint may be used for actions which include, but are not limited to, on-campus disciplinary proceedings.
- Make an anonymous report to the police. UPD has a website that may be used to report crimes anonymously http://www.tamuk.edu/upd/silent_witness.html
- Make a report using the JavGuard (Rave Guardian) app on a smartphone
- Contact a referral agency for help: University Housing and Residence Life, Student Health and Wellness, or the Title IX Coordinator in the Office of Compliance. Such a complaint may be used for actions which include, but are not limited to, on-campus disciplinary proceedings.

Reporting Crimes to University Police
Texas A&M University-Kingsville and the University Police Department (UPD) encourage the immediate or prompt reporting of any incident that compromises the safety, health or rights of university community members. All students, employees, and visitors should promptly report criminal incidents, accidents, other emergencies (i.e., fire, ambulance, etc.), and suspicious person(s) or activities to the University Police Department (361-593-2611) or 911 (the university police department is not a designated public answering point for 911 calls, the Kingsville Police Department receives and answers all 911 calls in the city’s geographical area and refers any 911 calls from the university to the UPD dispatcher for appropriate action), or to other appropriate law enforcement agencies. Persons who are deaf or hard of hearing should call 911 from a TTY/TDD telephone to reach KPD, KPD also operates its own dispatch center 24 hours a day. The University Police Department also has TTY/TDD for non-emergency calls at 361-593-2611. Individuals also may report incidents in person at the University Police Department, located at 855 N. University Blvd., Kingsville campus.

After receiving information concerning a crime or an emergency, the University Police Department (UPD) will ensure an effective investigation and appropriate follow-up actions, which may include issuing Timely Warning notifications to alert the campus community about crimes that pose a serious or continuing threat to safety, or issuing emergency notification and evacuation procedures to alert the campus community about significant emergencies or dangerous situations. Reporting all incidents to UPD also allows for accurate reporting of crime statistics in public disclosures such as the Annual Security and Fire Safety Report and the Daily Crime and Fire Log.
Campus community members, faculty, staff and students are strongly encouraged to immediately report criminal activity, other emergencies, suspicious activity to the University Police Department or a local law enforcement agency promptly. Reports will be thoroughly investigated and results will be forwarded to the appropriate prosecutorial entity, the Dean of Students Office, the Human Resources office, Compliance Office or Title IX, as appropriate.

The University has installed emergency two-way call boxes in elevators on campus, individuals may use the emergency telephone and/or the call button to directly communicate with the University Police Department dispatcher. The campus community can also take advantage of the university’s Rave Guardian app, which is called JavGuard, to communicate directly with University Police Department or 911 operators, send text or photographic information to the University police about crimes, numerous incidents or request police assistance, or set a timer to notify people you trust to check on you when you are alone or in an unfamiliar place.

The University Police Department will take the following actions as necessary:
• Dispatch police, fire and/or medical assistance as needed to the scene of the incident or if a non-emergency ask the victim to report the incident at the UPD office.
• Investigate or assist allied agencies with the situation.
• Take appropriate actions to identify, apprehend and submit for prosecution to the courts, the responsible person(s).
• Notify or request assistance from other law enforcement agencies and/or other allied agencies as appropriate.
• Document occurrences or take appropriate action and/or notify appropriate agency/departments.
• UPD incident reports involving misconduct by students, faculty or staff may be forwarded to the Dean of Students Office, Compliance Office or the Human Resources office for review and potential disciplinary action. UPD investigators will investigate a report when it is deemed appropriate. Additional information obtained via the investigation also will be forwarded to the Dean of Students Office, Compliance Office or Human Resources Office.

Confidential Crime Reporting
The university encourages anyone who is the victim or witness to any crime to promptly report the incident to UPD or local law enforcement. If you are a victim of a crime and do not want to pursue action within university channels or the criminal justice system, or if you are a witness to a crime and do not want to reveal your identity, you may make a confidential report of the incident to the UPD. However, because police reports are public records, under state law, UPD cannot hold all reports of crime in confidence.

The purpose of a confidential report is to maintain the reporting individual’s confidentiality, while helping the university protect the safety of the campus community. A student’s privacy concerns are weighed against the needs of the university to respond to certain incidents and crimes. To the greatest extent possible, all reports will remain private. In compelling situations, Texas A&M University Kingsville reserves the right to take reasonable action in response to any crime report, and information may be shared with appropriate departments and agencies under a need-to-know basis when it pertains to investigative needs and safety concerns of the campus community.

All reports submitted on a confidential or anonymous basis are evaluated for purposes of issuing a campus-wide “Timely Warning” as well as inclusion in the annual crime statistics. Providing this information also helps the university maintain accurate records regarding the number of incidents involving students, employees and visitors; determine a pattern of crime with regard to location, method or assailant; and alert the campus community to potential dangers when appropriate. Reports filed in this manner are included in the Texas A&M University-Kingsville annual crime statistics, and when they involve allegations of sexual harassment (including sexual violence) they are made available to the University’s Title IX Coordinator. Reports will not include personally identifying information as defined in Section 40002(a) of the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) of 1994.

Voluntary, confidential and/or anonymous reports for purposes of inclusion in the annual disclosure of crime statistics can generally be made to other Campus Security Authorities at Texas A&M University-Kingsville. Anonymous reports of crimes may also be made to the City of Kingsville Crime Stoppers line at 361-592-4636. The only entity on the Texas A&M University-Kingsville campus that can guarantee confidentiality is a licensed professional counselor at the Student Counseling Center located in Student Health and Wellness.

In addition to UPD personnel (police officers, dispatchers and parking enforcement officers) the university has designated individuals as Campus Security Authorities (CSA’s), including officers from local law enforcement who are contracted by the institution to provide campus safety-related services. CSA’s are identified as individuals that have significant responsibility for students or campus activities. CSA’s have a legal obligation to notify UPD of any Clery Act crimes that were conveyed to them in good faith, meaning that there is reasonable basis for believing that the information is not rumor or hearsay. CSAs must report immediately any Clery Act crime that comes to their attention. CSA crime reports should include sufficient detail, such as dates and locations, and, where appropriate, personally identifying information, including name and contact information if available. At the request of the victim(s), identifying information may be excluded from the report (e.g., names, initials, contact information, etc.). CSAs can submit Clery Act crimes to UPD in a number of ways, including:

- Notifying the Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police Department at 361-593-2611
- Residence Hall staff members submit incident reports through an online incident management system (Maxient).

Upon receipt of a Clery Act crime report, UPD and the Dean of Students Office reviews the reports and determines the appropriate action to be taken.

Please refer to the Campus Directory for contact telephone numbers or call (361) 593-2111 to reach the campus operator. CSA’s for the main Texas A&M University-Kingsville campus are the:

The university encourages professional counselors, at their discretion, to inform those they counsel to report crimes in a voluntary, confidential manner for the purposes of collecting crime statistics. Student Health and Wellness Services staff informs their clients of the procedures to report crime to the University Police Department on a voluntary and/or confidential basis. A procedure is in place to anonymously capture crime statistics disclosed confidentially during such a session.

Certain individuals are encouraged to report crime statistics to UPD, but according to federal law, they are not designated as CSAs and are not required to report crime statistics. This reporting exemption extends only to the following:

Professional Counselor: A person whose official responsibilities include providing mental health counseling to members of the institution’s community and who is functioning within the scope of his or her license or certification. This definition applies even to professional counselors who are not employees of the institution, but are under contract to provide counseling at the institution. An example is professional mental health counselors, functioning in that capacity, in the university’s Student Health and Wellness Center.

Triage Nurse: A triage nurse at the student health center or crisis intervention staff at the rape crisis clinic at an institution. Texas A&M University-Kingsville does not employ a triage nurse.

Pastoral Counselor: A person associated with a religious order or denomination who is recognized by that religious order or denomination as someone who provides confidential counseling and is functioning within the scope of that recognition as a pastoral counselor. Crime Victim Information

Reporting with Intent to Press Criminal Charges
When a victim decides to report the crime to police and to file criminal charges, they need to be aware of the steps involved:

- initial law enforcement officer’s interview
- medical examination (if needed)
- investigator’s interview
- prosecutor’s interview
- court procedures

This may all seem overwhelming. An understanding of the benefits of reporting encourages many victims to choose to press criminal charges, resulting in the convictions of more defendants. Contact the University Police Department at 361-593-2611.

Option Not to Report
Not all victims want to report crimes to a law enforcement agency. This is an individual decision. Without an official report, however, the law enforcement agency will not know that a sexual assault has occurred. Law enforcement agencies can only help the community when they are aware of crimes being committed. If the assailant was a stranger, the prospect of identifying the suspect greatly decreases over time, and crucial physical evidence will be lost as well. Even if you choose not to report, it is important for your own well-being that you receive medical attention immediately after the assault. Contact Student Health and Wellness 361-593-3991 or Title IX Coordinator at 361-593-4758.

Compensation for Victims of Crime

The State of Texas, Code of Criminal Procedure, Article 56.31, recognizes that many innocent individuals suffer personal injury or death as a result of criminal acts. Crime victims and persons who intervene to prevent criminal acts often suffer disabilities, incur financial burdens, or become dependent on public assistance. There is a need for the compensation of victims of crime and those who suffer personal injury or death in the prevention of crime or in the apprehension of criminals. The intent of the law is that the compensation of innocent victims of violent crime encourage greater public cooperation in the successful apprehension and prosecution of criminals.

If you are the victim of a crime in Texas; physically/emotionally injured during the crime; injured trying to stop a crime; injured trying to catch a person who committed a crime; or are the surviving spouse, parent, grandparent, sibling, or

2. File the application within three years of the date of the crime.
3. Be a United States resident with the crime occurring in Texas or a Texas resident who becomes a victim in a state or country without a compensation program; United States citizenship not required, claim within 1 year from the date of the crime (or show good cause for not doing so).

No Contact and Protective Orders

No-Contact Orders (issued by the University)

No-Contact Orders issued by the University are designed so that students involved in a campus conduct process do not have any communication with each other to help minimize further altercations between those involved. Students who have no-contact orders are not to contact each other using ANY means. This includes, but is not limited to: comments, words, or gestures in person, through postal mail, email, social networking sites, or through others (friends, acquaintances, family members, etc.) acting on the student’s behalf. An order of no contact will remain in place until both parties agree, in writing, to cancel the order, pending final approval by the Office of the Dean of Students.

Code of Criminal Procedure - Protective Order

Code of Criminal Procedure, Art. 6.08. PROTECTIVE ORDER PROHIBITING OFFENSE CAUSED BY BIAS OR PREJUDICE.

(a) At any proceeding in which the defendant appears in constitutional county court, statutory county court, or district court that is related to an offense under Title 5, (Crimes Against Persons) Penal Code, or Arson, Criminal Mischief or Graffiti, Penal Code, in which it is alleged that the defendant committed the offense because of bias or prejudice as described by Article Family Violence, a person may request the court to render a protective order under Title 4, Family Code, for the protection of the person.

(b) The court shall render a protective order in the manner provided by Title 4, Family Code, if, in lieu of the finding that family violence occurred and is likely to occur in the future as required by Section Family Violence, Family Code, the court finds that probable cause exists to believe that an offense under Title 5, (Crimes Against Persons) Penal Code, or Arson, Criminal Mischief or Graffiti, Penal Code, occurred, that the defendant committed the offense because of bias or prejudice, and that the nature of the scheme or course of conduct engaged in by the defendant in the commission of the offense indicates that the defendant is likely to engage in the future in conduct prohibited by Title 5, Penal Code, or Arson, Criminal Mischief or Graffiti, Penal Code, and committed because of bias or prejudice.

(c) The procedure for the enforcement of a protective order under Title 4, (Protective Orders and Family Violence) Family Code, applies to the fullest extent practicable to the enforcement of a protective order under this article, including provisions relating to findings, contents, duration, warning, delivery, law enforcement duties, and modification, except that: (1) the printed statement on the warning must refer to the prosecution of subsequent offenses committed because of bias or prejudice; (2) the court shall require a constable to serve a protective order issued under this article; and (3) the clerk of the court shall forward a copy of a protective order issued under this article to the Department of Public Safety with a designation indicating that the order was issued to prevent offenses committed because of bias or prejudice.
(d) For an original or modified protective order rendered under this article, on receipt of the order from the clerk of the court, a law enforcement agency shall immediately, but not later than the 10th day after the date the order is received, enter the information required by Section 411.042(b)(6), Government Code, into the statewide law enforcement information system maintained by the Department of Public Safety.

Protective Orders (issued by the Courts) "Protective order" an injunction or other order, issued by a tribunal under the domestic violence or family violence laws or another law of the issuing state, to prevent an individual from engaging in violent or threatening acts against, harassing, contacting or communicating with, or being in physical proximity to another individual. Protective orders are court orders meant to protect victims who have experienced or are reasonably in fear of physical violence, sexual assault or stalking by another individual. If a court finds from the information contained in an application for a protective order that there is a clear and present danger of family violence, the court, without further notice to the individual alleged to have committed family violence and without a hearing, may enter a temporary ex parte order for the protection of the applicant or any other member of the family or household of the applicant.

In a protective order, the court may prohibit the person found to have committed family violence from: (1) committing family violence; (2) communicating: (A) directly with a person protected by an order or a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order, in a threatening or harassing manner; (B) a threat through any person to a person protected by an order or a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order; and (C) if the court finds good cause, in any manner with a person protected by an order or a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order, except through the party's attorney or a person appointed by the court; (3) going to or near the residence or place of employment or business of a person protected by an order or a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order; (4) going to or near the residence, child-care facility, or school a child protected under the order normally attends or in which the child normally resides; (5) engaging in conduct directed specifically toward a person who is a person protected by an order or a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order, including following the person, that is reasonably likely to harass, annoy, alarm, abuse, torment, or embarrass the person; (6) possessing a firearm, unless the person is a peace officer, actively engaged in employment as a sworn, full-time paid employee of a state agency or political subdivision; and (7) harming, threatening, or interfering with the care, custody, or control of a pet, companion animal, or assistance animal, that is possessed by a person protected by an order or by a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order. (c) In an order, the court shall specifically describe each prohibited location and the minimum distances from the location, if any, that the party must maintain. (d) In a protective order, the court shall suspend a license to carry a concealed handgun that is held by a person found to have committed family violence.

If you are a student or employee victim, please inform the Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police of any protection orders. Show these to the police officer, magistrate, prosecutor, or judge if he/she violates the order. Officers shall enforce protective orders from Texas and other states or possessions of the United States.

The Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police Department will explain and provide assistance in the process of obtaining protective orders. The University Police Department officers will provide victims of domestic violence with a “NOTICE TO ADULT VICTIMS OF FAMILY VIOLENCE” which states: "It is a crime for any person to cause you any physical injury or harm even if that person is a member or former member of your family or household. You may report family violence to a law enforcement officer by calling the following telephone numbers: 361-593-2611.” If you, your child, or any other household resident has been injured or if you feel you are going to be in danger after a law enforcement officer investigating family violence leaves your residence or at a later time, you have the right to: "Ask the local prosecutor to file a criminal complaint against the person committing family violence; and apply to a court for an order to protect you. You may want to consult with a legal aid office, a prosecuting attorney, or a private attorney.” A court can enter an order that: "(1) prohibits the abuser from committing further acts of violence; (2) Prohibits the abuser from threatening, harassing, or contacting you at home; (3) directs the abuser to leave your household; and (4) establishes temporary custody of the children or any property.” A VIOLATION OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF COURT-ORDERED PROTECTION MAY BE A FELONY.

If you feel that you qualify for or you would like to obtain a protective order which aims to protect the health or safety of any person regardless of a decision to arrest. Emergency Protective Orders are issued by a Justice of the Peace. In a protective order, the court may prohibit the person found to have committed family violence from: (1) committing family violence; (2) communicating: (A) directly with a person protected by an order or a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order, in a threatening or harassing manner; (B) a threat through any person to a person protected by an order or a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order; and (C) if the court finds good cause, in any manner with a person protected by an order or a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order, except through the party’s attorney or a person appointed by the court; (3) going to or near the residence or place of employment or business of a person protected by an order or a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order, except through the party’s attorney or a person appointed by the court; (4) going to or near the residence, child-care facility, or school a child protected under the order normally attends or in which the child normally resides; (5) engaging in conduct directed specifically toward a person who is a person protected by an order or a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order, including following the person, that is reasonably likely to harass, annoy, alarm, abuse, torment, or embarrass the person; (6) possessing a firearm, unless the person is a peace officer, actively engaged in employment as a sworn, full-time paid employee of a state agency or political subdivision; and (7) harming, threatening, or interfering with the care, custody, or control of a pet, companion animal, or assistance animal, that is possessed by a person protected by an order or by a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order. (c) In an order, the court shall specifically describe each prohibited location and the minimum distances from the location, if any, that the party must maintain. (d) In a protective order, the court shall suspend a license to carry a concealed handgun that is held by a person found to have committed family violence.

The victim may also apply for an arrest warrant. If a warrant is issued, the alleged perpetrator will be arrested. An arrest warrant charges someone with committing a crime.

Daily Crime Log and Fire Log

The University Police Department provides a daily crime log for all campus property and a fire log for all reported fires that occur in on-campus housing facilities for the previous 60-day period. The logs include the date and time the crime occurred, general location and disposition of the complaint, if known. These logs are available to any member of the public, free of charge, upon request and are updated in accordance with federal regulations, within 2 business days of reported incidents. Any portion of the log older than 60 days will be made available within two business days of a request for public inspection. Business days are defined as Monday through Friday, excluding any day when the institution is closed.

An electronic version of the combined Daily Crime and Fire Logs are posted on University Police’s website: http://www.tamuk.edu/upd/clery-reporting.html and are available within two business days of receiving a report, and is also made available, in hard-copy format, to walk-in customers from the University Police Department’s Office located at 855 N. University Blvd. The UPD Office is open to the public 365 days a year.
In the event a situation arises, either on or off campus, that in the judgment of the Director of Public Safety/Chief of Police, University Police Department, or his designee, constitutes an ongoing or continuing threat, a campus-wide “Timely Warning” will be issued using the university email system. The university will issue an alert to provide students, faculty and staff as reasonably and timely as possible, notification of a crime that may represent a serious or on-going threat to the campus community, that will aid in the prevention of similar occurrences and to heighten safety awareness. The Timely Warning message will withhold the names of the victims, because victim’s names are confidential.

University’s Alcohol and Drug Policy

The university recognizes alcohol/drug dependency as an illness and a major health problem. Excessive use of alcohol and other drugs is a serious health problem in itself, but alcohol and drug abuse also can contribute to a host of other physical and mental health problems such as complications in pregnancy, violent behavior, HIV infection and other sexually transmitted diseases, psychological depression, hallucinations and death. Information, assessment and referral services for alcohol or drug-related problems are available on campus. Services for students are available at Student Health and Wellness Services. Services for employees are available through the university’s Human Resources Office.

University disciplinary charges may be pursued against faculty, staff and students alleged to have violated university regulations and/or local, state and federal laws concerning alcohol and/or controlled substances. Violations of any local, state or federal law pertaining to alcohol and/or controlled substances that occur off campus and are not associated with a university-connected activity may result in disciplinary charges in situations in which the continued presence of the individual on campus is likely to interfere with the educational process and the orderly operation of the university. University disciplinary proceedings will be in accordance with procedures outlined in the Student Code of Conduct and university policy (faculty and staff). Voluntary admission to a substance abuse treatment program prior to the issuance of charges may be looked upon favorably in disciplinary cases. Disciplinary action in cases involving serious alcohol and/or drug-related violations will result in termination, suspension, dismissal or expulsion from the university, depending on the nature and seriousness of the case. Participation in a substance abuse education or treatment program may be required in addition to other sanctions. Any disciplinary action imposed by the university may precede and be in addition to any penalty imposed by an off-campus authority.

Carson Starkey Amnesty Policy
The safety and health of university students is a primary concern at Texas A&M University-Kingsville. As such, any student can seek assistance from the University Police Department (361-593-2611) for themselves or others who are intoxicated or drug-impaired. Texas statutes provide that a person may not be cited for illegal possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages if the individual:

- Requested emergency medical assistance in response to the possible alcohol overdose of the minor or another person;
- Was the first person to make a request for medical assistance; and
- If the minor requested emergency medical assistance for the possible alcohol overdose of another person:
  - Remained on the scene until the medical assistance arrived; and
  - Cooperated with medical assistance and law enforcement personnel.

Drugs
Texas A&M University-Kingsville strives to assist students in achieving their potential as human beings and in becoming self-directed in all activities. Because growth and development are shaped by a student’s experience, the university seeks to develop an environment where students can learn how to live fulfilling and productive lives. Substance abuse disrupts this environment and threatens not only the lives and well-being of our students, faculty and staff but also their potential for contribution to society. It is important for all members of the university community to take responsibility for preventing substance abuse from negatively affecting the community’s learning environment and the academic, physical and emotional well-being of its membership. In recognition of the problems of substance abuse, members of the university community have developed a university-wide drug policy. These policies deal with education, prevention, intervention and treatment activities as well as disciplinary sanctions for those found in violation of the policy. The university has established comprehensive substance abuse prevention programs to help eliminate the threat that substance abuse poses. Through education, the university is committed to helping individuals achieve their personal and academic goals.

Legal Aspects and Consequences Concerning Controlled Substances and Illegal Drugs
All members of the university community are expected to abide by local, state and federal laws pertaining to controlled substances and illegal drugs. More specifically, the Texas A&M University-Kingsville policy prohibits “manufacturing, possessing, having under control, selling, transmitting, using or being party thereto any illegal drug, controlled substance or drug paraphernalia on university premises or at university-sponsored activities.” The term “controlled substances,” when used in this policy, shall refer to those drugs and substances whose possession, sale or delivery results in criminal sanctions under the Texas Controlled Substance Act (Texas Health and Safety Code, Chapter 481), as well as substances that possess a chemical structure similar to that of a controlled substance (e.g., “designer drugs”).

Education, Prevention and Referral for Treatment
Texas A&M University-Kingsville is committed to providing comprehensive drug education and prevention as well as early intervention and treatment referral services. Student Health and Wellness provides a broad-based educational program to assist in the prevention of substance abuse. The university realizes the importance of treatment services in assisting faculty, staff and students to overcome substance abuse problems. Assessment and intervention services are available through Student Health and Wellness. If further treatment is necessary, the student may be referred to outside counselors and programs.

Controlled Substance Laws and Sanctions

The following summary is provided for your information. Controlled substances are classified under the Controlled Substances Act into “schedules” that indicate their relative medicinal use and probability of abuse and dependence (addiction), for more information see the Texas Health and Safety Code, Chapter 481, Controlled Substance Act.

Controlled Substance Schedules

Schedule I: substance that has a high potential for abuse; and has no accepted medical use in treatment in the United States or lacks accepted safety for use in treatment under medical supervision. Some examples are heroin, marijuana, LSD, PCP, and crack cocaine.

Schedule II: substance that has a high potential for abuse; the substance has currently accepted medical use in treatment in the United States; and abuse of the substance may lead to severe psychological or physical dependence. Schedule III: substance has a potential for abuse less than that of the substances listed in Schedules I and II; the substance has currently accepted medical use in treatment in the United States; and abuse of the substance may lead to moderate or low physical dependence or high psychological dependence. These contain smaller amounts of certain narcotic and non-narcotic drugs, anti-anxiety drugs, tranquilizers, sedatives, stimulants, and non-narcotic analgesics. Some examples are acetaminophen with codeine (Tylenol® No.3), paregoric, diazepam (Valium®), alprazolam (Xanax®), propoxyphene (Darvon®), and pentazocine (Talwin®).

Schedule V: substance has a lower potential for abuse than that of the substances listed in Schedule IV; has currently accepted medical use in treatment in the United States; and may lead to a more limited physical or psychological dependence liability than that of the substances listed in Schedule IV.

Penalties

Three factors determine offense level for drug possession, the main factors are; (1) the type of drug; (2) the amount; and (3) surrounding aggravating circumstances (such as drug-free zone or possession with intent to deliver.)

Marijuana

Health Risks of Drug Alcohol Misuse and/or Abuse
The list below only a partial list of the health risks caused by the misuse or abuse of alcohol or drugs:

Excessive alcohol use poses immediate health risks as well as long-term physical consequences. Consuming too much alcohol—even on a single occasion—can result in injury, violence, risky sexual behaviors, miscarriage and stillbirth among pregnant women, and alcohol poisoning. Long-term, excessive use can lead to the development of chronic diseases, neurological impairments, and social problems. In addition, people risk significant health problems when they use illicit drugs or prescription drugs for recreational purposes.

Stimulants (e.g., cocaine, speed) raise blood pressure, increase the heart rate, and cause rapid breathing. Frequent and long-term stimulant use may cause paranoia, anxiety, hallucinations, insomnia, and depression. Hallucinogens (e.g., LSD, “shrooms”) can result in memory impairment and flashbacks, and have been known to lead to injuries and deaths if the user gets violent or out of control due to a “trip.” Sedatives (e.g., heroin, GHB) can cause memory loss, vertigo, reduced heart rate, seizures, insomnia, anxiety, tremors, and respiratory failure.

All members of the campus community are notified on an annual basis that they are required to notify the University Police Department or local emergency services of any situation that involves a significant emergency or danger that may pose an immediate or ongoing threat to the health and safety of the campus community.

Campus Emergency Notifications

In the event of a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving the immediate threat to the health or safety of persons on the campus, the university will, without delay, and taking into account the safety of the community, determine the content of the notification and initiate the notification system unless issuing a notification will, in the professional judgement of responsible authorities, compromise efforts to assist a victim or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency.

Emergency Notification (Tier I and Tier II)

When time is of the essence, information may be released to the university community through the Tier I and Tier II mass notification system. Tier I is capable of displaying written commands on interior signs, as well through direct commands and sounds that alert the campus to danger and ways to take necessary precautions through the outdoor public address system. Additionally, in buildings equipped with public address capability through the fire alarm system, announcements can be made. Tier II is capable of sending alerts via telephone call, email messages and text messages to registered users. Students are able to include several telephone numbers and email addresses allowing notification to parents and/or spouses as well. Because Tier I and Tier II uses data provided by the students, it is imperative that contact information remain up-to-date at all times. In emergency situations, the campus also is equipped with an outdoor speaker system that can broadcast direct commands and sounds to alert the campus to danger and ways to take necessary precautions. The system is also accompanied by interior signs placed strategically in campus buildings throughout the campus.

Texas A&M University-Kingsville will use the system to provide official notification of critical emergencies (i.e., situations that pose an imminent threat to the community). When the imminent threat no longer exists the university will send out a follow up notification or an all clear message.

It is the policy of Texas A&M University-Kingsville to notify the campus community, via the Tier I and Tier II Emergency Notification System, upon the confirmation of a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to the health or safety of students or employees occurring on the campus. The University Police Department may receive such information from entities including, but not limited to: law enforcement, fire department, National Weather Service, Office of Enterprise Risk Management or personnel from Environmental Health and Safety. The Tier I and Tier II emergency notification system does not replace Timely Warning requirements. They differ in that the Time Warning requirement applies only to Clery reportable crimes, while the emergency notification system addresses a much wider range of threats (i.e. gas leaks, tornadoes, active shooter, etc.).

Initiation of the Emergency Notification System

The procedure for determining when a Tier I and Tier II emergency alert message is sent and/or activation of the notification system is the responsibility of the Director of Public Safety/Chief of Police or his designee of the Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police Department. The University Police Department functions 24-hours a day, seven days a week. Upon notification from one of the individuals authorized to issue a Tier I and Tier II alert, the University Police Department, without delay, and taking into account the safety of the community, determines the content of the notification and initiates the notification system; unless the notification will, in the professional judgment of responsible authorities, compromise efforts to assist victims or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency.

Personnel authorized to issue a Tier I and Tier II alert are:

- Director of Public Safety/Chief of Police, or designee,
- Police Lieutenant,
- University Police Department patrol supervisors and communications officers,
- Executive Director of Enterprise Risk Management,
- Senior Vice President of Student Affairs and University Administration,
- Assistant Vice President of Student Affairs/Dean of Students, and,
- President of the University, or his designee.

The university conducts weekly pre-scheduled testing of the emergency notification system. These weekly tests are launched by the Office of Enterprise Risk Management and/or the Communications Section of the University Police Department.

Confirming the Existence of a Significant Emergency or Dangerous Situation and Initiating the Emergency Notification System

1. University Police and/or other first responders may become aware of a critical incident or other emergency situation that potentially affects the health or safety of the campus community. Generally, campus first responders become aware of these situations when they are reported to the UPD Dispatch Center or upon discovery during patrol or other assignments.
2. Once first responders confirm that there is, in fact, an emergency or dangerous situation that poses an immediate threat to the health or safety of some or all members of the campus community, first responders will notify supervisors at UPD to issue an emergency notification.
3. The Director of Public Safety/Chief of Police, Senior Vice President for Student Affairs and University Administration, and the Executive Director of Enterprise Risk Management, or their designee will make the appropriate notifications to Texas A&M University—Kingsville’s executive leadership and initiate all or some portions of the emergency notification system.
4. If, in the professional judgment of first responders, issuing a notification potentially compromises efforts to assist a victim or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency, the university may elect to delay issuing an emergency notification. As soon as the condition that may compromise efforts is no longer present, the emergency notification to the campus community will be issued, if there is a continuing threat to the campus community.

Segment(s) of the Campus Community to Receive an Emergency Notification

University Police will share information with those preparing the emergency notification to determine what segment or segments of the campus community should receive the notification. The entire Texas A&M University-Kingsville community including Texas A&M University-Kingsville main campus, Citrus Center in Weslaco, South Texas College Mid Valley Campus in Weslaco, and Texas State Technical College- MIT-C in Harlingen and Irma Rangel School of Pharmacy.
will be notified when there is at least the potential that a very large segment of the community will be affected by a situation or when a situation threatens the operation of the campus as a whole. The university will continue to assess the situation and additional segments of the campus community may be notified if the situation warrants.

The University Police Department will notify/coordinate response efforts with local enforcement authorities and other outside emergency personnel. The Director of Public Safety/Chief of Police or designee is responsible for disseminating emergency information to the public.

Contents of the Emergency Notification
The University Police shares responsibility with other campus divisions and departments for issuing emergency notifications and determining the contents of the notifications. UPD has developed a wide range of template messages addressing several different emergency situations. The individual authorizing the alert will select the template message most appropriate to the ongoing situation and modify it to address the specifics of the present incident. In those cases, where there are no predetermined template messages in the system, the individual authorizing the alert will develop a message to convey the appropriate information to the community. Messages are designed to convey the nature of the emergency and response actions that should be taken to protect life, property, and the environment.

Procedures Used to Notify the Campus Community
When the University Police Department receives notification of a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to the health or safety of students or employees occurring on the Texas A&M University-Kingsville campus, first responders will confirm the emergency/threat. If the emergency warrants, the UPD supervisor shall communicate immediately with the chief of police or designee; and depending on the magnitude of the incident, the Emergency Management Team chair or alternate who will communicate with the president.

Depending on the emergency the Emergency Management Team will execute the emergency management plan for emergency at hand. The university community will be notified using Tier I and Tier II communication systems via:

- SMS text message,
- Email,
- Telephone calls to registered users (home office and cell phones),
- Outdoor warning sirens and public address messages, or
- Scroll messages in campus buildings

In those instances, take appropriate action to evacuate the area and to ensure your safety and give protection to those around you that may need assistance.

The Emergency Management Team chair or designee, shall, consistent with university’s Emergency Management Plan, authorize immediate notification to the university community following confirmation of the threat, unless that notification is delayed for as short a time as possible, if there is a professional determination by law enforcement that issuing a notice would put the university community at greater risk. The content of the notification will be generic in nature to maintain campus safety while responding to, containing, and/or rendering aid or assistance to victims.

Emergency Management Team
Members of the University’s Emergency Management Team include the following:

- Senior Vice President for Student Affairs and University Administration. Serves as the Chair of the Emergency Management Team
- Executive Director, Enterprise Risk Management
- Director of Public Safety/Chief of Police
- Executive Director, Physical Plant
Depending upon the situation, however, other university personnel will be involved in carrying out the university’s emergency response efforts.

Campus Evacuation

The president or designee will authorize university evacuation orders. An announcement of a campus-wide evacuation will come from the Office of the President or the Emergency Management Team. Students and employees should follow the instructions and timeline for leaving the campus and alert others to do the same. Information about returning to the campus will be provided through Tier I and Tier II, the personnel recall process for employees and press releases through the news media outlets.

Building Evacuation

An evacuation will occur when the fire alarm sounds and/or notification is made by the University Police Department, Emergency Management Team, the building emergency managers acting under the instructions of these offices, the Kingsville Fire Department, or the Kingsville Police Department.

All persons (students, employees and campus visitors) are to immediately vacate the area in question, leaving by the nearest marked exit or in accordance with the posted evacuation plan and alert others to do the same. Once outside, proceed to the designated building assembly area. Personnel shall not return to an evacuated building until given the all clear signal by Texas A&M University - Kingsville officials.

Annually, one or more buildings are selected at random, an emergency is declared within or in the vicinity of, and evacuation procedures are executed. The drill is critiqued and an After Action Report (AAR) is generated. The AAR will be retained for a minimum of (2) two years.

Drills, Exercises and Training

Tests of evacuation procedures, (e.g., tornado, fire drills exercises) are coordinated by the Office of Enterprise Risk Management, Environmental Health and Safety Office and University Housing and Residential Life each fall, spring and summer semesters for all residential facilities at Texas A&M University-Kingsville. Test is defined as regularly scheduled drills, exercises and appropriate follow-through activities designed for assessment and evaluation of emergency plans and capabilities. The emergency evacuation procedures for each residential unit (Lucio Hall, Mesquite Village - West, Turner Hall, Bishop Hall, Martin Hall and Lynch Hall) and academic and auxiliary buildings are tested on average at least twice each semester, once in each of the summer session for total of 4 drills per housing residential unit (see the Annual Fire Safety Report included later in this document for detailed information). University Housing and Residential Life conducts announced and unannounced drills. Students become familiar with the locations of the emergency exits in the buildings and are provided guidance about the direction they should travel when exiting each facility for a short-term building evacuation. University Housing and Residence Life does not inform residents in advance about the designated long-term evacuations because those decisions are affected by the time of day, location of the building being evacuated, the availability of the various designated emergency gathering locations on campus, and other factors such as the location and nature of the threat. In all cases, UPD, Enterprise Risk Management, Environmental Health and Safety, University Housing and Residence Life staff on the scene will communicate information to students regarding the developing situation or any evacuation status changes. The purpose of the drills is to prepare building occupants for an organized evacuation in cases of an emergency. Evacuation drills are used as a way to educate and train occupants on issues specific to their facility. During the drill, occupants “practice” drill procedures and familiarize themselves with the location of exits and the sound of the fire alarm. All occupants are instructed that in the cases where fire alarms are activated they must evacuate the building immediately. In addition to educating the occupants of each building about the evacuation procedures during the drills, the process also provides the University an opportunity to test the operation of the fire alarm system components. Any deficient equipment is noted so that appropriate repairs can be performed. Students receive emergency information and procedures during their hall meetings.

The Texas A&M University-Kingsville Emergency Management Plan (EMP) describes the responsibilities and duties of campus personnel, departments, in event of an emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat. The EMP is designed to assist employees to respond appropriately when emergency conditions exist. To ensure emergency plans are appropriate, the university conducts emergency response exercises annually. These tests are designed to assess and evaluate the emergency plans and capabilities of the institution. In conjunction with at least one drill or exercise the University will disseminate emergency response and evacuation procedures to the campus community through the campus e-mail system.

Faculty, staff and students who fail to evacuate during a drill or actual event will be reported to the appropriate university official for possible disciplinary action for unsafe practices.

Fire Drills

Fire drills are also conducted each semester to ensure students understand emergency building evacuation procedures. Students must evacuate the building whenever an alarm sounds. Students who ignore evacuation instruction may be subject to conduct proceedings. The University Housing and Residence Life department schedules 4 or more fire drills for each housing unit, per academic year, usually 2 each semester (1 announced & 1 unannounced).

Emergency Exercises
The university conducts tabletop, functional, and/or full-scale emergency exercises with the various university departments, the university’s Emergency Management Team and community partners. These exercises are designed to prepare university personnel to respond to various emergencies that may occur on campus, recover from emergencies as quickly as possible, and provide the appropriate support to students, employees, and university operations.

Campus Security Awareness and Crime Prevention Programs and Resources

Security Awareness and Crime Prevention Programs

- For Students: Annually the Texas A&M University-Kingsville police department along with Dean of Students, Compliance Office and other university departments address the students in the athletic program, which includes all university sports, on safety awareness, sexual assault, alcohol and drug awareness, university policies, conduct while travelling and how they represent the university. All new first time in college students and new transfer students to Texas A&M University-Kingsville are required to participate in Alcohol EDU and Haven training.

- For Faculty and Staff: New employee orientation: Bi-weekly; Robbery and personal safety ongoing, Rape Aggression Defense (RAD), active shooter (Shots Fired), Building Emergency Managers (BEM); upon request. All faculty and staff are trained through Everfi’s Sexual Assault Prevention Program.

- For Campus Community: The University Police Department conducts crime prevention and crime awareness presentations at student orientations and upon request. These presentations include: Alcohol Awareness, RA Presentations, Crime Prevention and Safety, Crime Prevention Tips, Date Rape, Drug Abuse, Hate Crimes, Rape Aggression Defense (RAD) Program, Personal Safety, Safety in the Workplace, Student Orientation, Shots Fired and others.

The University Police Department, in cooperation with other university organizations and departments, offers security awareness and crime prevention programs to the campus community on an ongoing basis. A common theme of the awareness and crime prevention programs is to encourage new and returning students and employees to be aware of their responsibility for their own security and to be concerned for the security of others. These programs aim to eliminate or reduce incidents of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, stalking, illicit drug use and dangers, theft, vandalism, personal safety and campus/residence hall security.

In addition to seminars, information is disseminated to students and employees through crime prevention awareness packets, displays, videos, security alert posters and articles and on the university’s website and in The South Texan student newspaper.

• Alcohol Awareness Programs, Minor in Consumption and Minor in Possession Enforcement, Fatal Vision - DWEyes
UPD uses both a proactive and reactive approach to addressing the problems of underage drinking and drunk driving. Using a proactive approach, police officers go to various segments of the campus community and provide educational programs regarding the problems associated with alcohol abuse and misuse and its relationship to crimes such as drunk driving. In a reactive approach, UPD officers arrest drunk drivers, and cite violators for minor in consumption and minor in possession of alcohol. In addition, the Student Health and Wellness Services provide education on substance use and abuse issues.

• Civilian Response to Active Shooter Event (CRASE)
UPD offers the CRASE course to the campus community throughout the year. The program developed by the Texas Advanced Law Enforcement Rapid Response Training (ALERRT) Center provides information to the community on what they should do if confronted with an active shooter event. The course is designed and built on the Avoid, Deny, Defend™ strategies for surviving an active shooter event.

• Hoggie Days/Transfer Thursday
UPD presents to incoming students and their parents safety awareness, services offered by the police department and general information about weapons, parking issues, alcohol and drug policies.

• Rape Aggression Defense (RAD)
UPD has trained and certified RAD instructors that offer sexual assault prevention, education and awareness. The course includes lecture, discussion and self-defense techniques suitable for women of all ages and abilities. Classes range from a minimum of nine to twelve hours plus in length.

Additional crime prevention programs and activities are also available to students, faculty, staff and visitors, including, but not limited to:

• Crime Stoppers
In conjunction with the City of Kingsville’s Crime Stoppers organization and Student Government Association, Criminology Club and others, TAMUK Crime Stoppers offers cash rewards for information on crime that may lead to arrests or indictments of criminal activity on campus.

• Emergency Telephones and Emergency/Reporting Smartphone App
The University has installed emergency two-way call boxes in elevators on campus, individuals may use the emergency telephone and/or the call button to directly communicate with the University Police Department dispatcher. The campus community can also take advantage of the university’s Rave Guardian app, which is called JavGuard, to communicate directly with University Police Department or 911 operator, send text or photographic information to the University police about crimes, numerous incidents or request police assistance, or set a timer to notify people you trust to check on you when you are alone or in an unfamiliar place.

• International Student Orientation
The UPD and other university departments conduct orientation for new incoming international students. The orientation includes information on safety awareness, services offered by the police department and general information about weapons, parking issues, alcohol and drug policies, immigration issues concerning I-20’s, possible scam or threats they may encounter.

- Operation Identification (ID)
  Police can help students engrave unique identifiers on personal items kept on campus, such as bikes, computers, radios, and stereo systems. This nationally recognized identification procedure has been shown to facilitate the recovery of stolen items. UPD suggests keeping a record of serial numbers and unique identifiers, and taking photos of valuable items kept on campus to aid in identification and recovery.

- Personal Safety Training: Staff from Health and Wellness Services is available for seminars concerning personal safety for women (361-593-3991).

- Safety Awareness Resources: Brochures are available through the University Police Department, which provide additional information and training. The university’s Emergency Management Plan is available to the campus community through the Office of Environmental Health and Safety and on the web: http://www.tamuk.edu/risk/Safety/EmergencyManagement.html with information concerning procedures for emergency evacuation, responding to fire, earthquake, hurricanes, serious injury, bomb threat, hazardous material leaks and violent crimes.

- Security Cameras
  Video surveillance at the University plays an ever increasing role in the total security package that the University is able to provide for the students, faculty, staff, and visitors. The University maintains and monitors a comprehensive video surveillance system.

- Sexual Assault Prevention Programs: The Texas A&M University - Kingsville Police Department provides educational programs to prevent sexual assault and to increase student awareness to circumstances which could lead to sexual assault. These educational programs include: Date Rape, Drug Abuse, Hate Crimes, RAD Program, and Personal Safety. Student Health and Wellness Services has a brochure on rape prevention and another on acquaintance rape.

- University Police Escort
  The campus community members can request an escort to their vehicle or to their residence hall when alone at night by contacting police dispatch at 361-593-2611. Transportation will be provided based on the availability of patrol officers.

- University Housing & Residence Life Training
  UPD works in conjunction with other university departments and the Texas A&M University-Kingsville University Housing & Residence Life to provide training to the Executive Director University Housing & Residence Life, Director of Residence Life, Associate Director of Residential Education & Living Learning Communities, Assistant Director of Residence Life, Manager, University Housing Business Operations, Assistant Director of Residence Life, Director of University Housing Facilities, and Area Coordinators, Head Residents and Resident Advisors. Topics include campus security authority responsibilities, Title IX, crime prevention, alcohol awareness (including acute alcohol intoxication), safety, security and emergency preparedness.

- University Shuttle Service: The University operates a shuttle service, B&G Express, with continuous shuttle service for the Texas A&M University-Kingsville campus from 7:30 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.; shuttle services from the west side of the Student Union Building to a variety of locations in the City of Kingsville from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.; and, pre-arranged trips to the Corpus Christi airport and local Greyhound bus station for a small fee. More information can be obtained on the website: http://www.tamuk.edu/bgexpress/ • University Police Escort: The campus community members can request an escort to their vehicle or to their residence hall when alone at night by contacting police dispatch at 361-593-2611. Transportation will be provided based on the availability of patrol officers.

Personal Safety Tips

The safety and well-being of our students, faculty, staff, and visitors will always be a primary institutional goal at Texas A&M University-Kingsville. The UPD can help you protect yourself and your property by reducing the possibility of being victimized. As a member of the university community, you can help in reducing the potential for criminal activity.

The university's safety and security measures are designed to address every area of campus life, but a safe environment also depends on the awareness and cooperation of individual campus community members.

Here are some common-sense steps you can take for personal safety and loss prevention:

General:
- Remember to call 9-1-1 in case of an emergency
- Know the non-emergency phone number of the Texas A&M University – Kingsville Police: 361-593-2611, program it into your cell phone.
- Notify University Police or a university employee of any individual who appears not to have legitimate business on campus or whose actions arouse suspicion or concern.
- Remain alert, pay attention to your surroundings, and avoid listening to musical devices such as an iPod to make it more difficult to be taken by surprise.
- When traversing the campus at night, stay within well-lit walkways.
- Never prop doors open, even for a short time.
- Park in well-lighted areas, and check the inside of your vehicle before entering it.
- Although the campuses are considered safe, students and staff are encouraged to walk in pairs or groups after dark. Students may request a security escort by calling UPD at 361-593-2611.
- Utilize the Rave Guardian, known as JavGuard, mobile application.

Walking:
- Have a plan, be aware of your surroundings, and walk with confidence.
- Walk with a friend whenever possible.
- Avoid dark areas, high shrubbery, and shortcuts: stay in well lighted areas.
- Try to walk facing oncoming traffic.
- Cross streets using marked crosswalks or at intersections.
- Use sidewalks.
- Maintain a secure grip on purses and personal items.
- Keep your cell phone at the ready.
- Program the UPD telephone number (361-593-2611) in your cell/smart phone.
- Familiarize yourself with the emergency call box locations on campus.
- Be wary of newly acquired acquaintances.
- Don’t reveal personal information to new found friends.

Residence Halls:
- Never give your key or university ID to anyone.
- Never open your door to strangers.
Never leave your door open or unlocked, even for a short period of time, when no one is in your room. Keep all laptops, electronics, jewelry, and expensive items out of sight. Request I.D. from people you don’t know. Close your blinds or shades after dark. Never “prop” the entrance doors to the residence halls. Never let anyone “piggyback” into the residence halls when you swipe in. Don’t leave keys under the door mat or in other “hiding places” and don’t leave notes.

Laundry room:
- Be cautious.
- Try to never be in the laundry room alone.
- Remove clothes promptly from washers and dryers.
- Consider folding your clothes in your room.

To prevent theft and help in the recovery of stolen property:
- Engrave personal property such as computers, televisions, and stereos.
- Record all serial numbers of property and maintain a receipt of purchase in a safe, secure place.
- Take photographs of all expensive items. These photographs can assist in proving ownership in the event of a fire or a theft. Keep these photographs in a safe, secure place.

Bystander Intervention
Bystander intervention can be as simple as calling the police if you witness a serious situation in progress. If you feel you are being stalked and want to report it as a crime; you should immediately call the call the Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police if the incident occurred on campus at 361-593-2611; if the incident happened in the City of Kingsville call the Emergency 911, or Business 361-592-4311 for assistance. If the incident happened outside of Kingsville, report the incident to local law enforcement or other appropriate campus officials.

Safe and Positive Options for Bystander Intervention
Everyone has a role to play in preventing sexual assault. There are many different ways that you can step in or make a difference if you see someone at risk. This approach to preventing sexual assault is referred to as “bystander intervention.”

Bystander Intervention involves safe and positive options that may be carried out by an individual or individuals to prevent harm or intervene when there is a risk of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking. Bystander intervention includes recognizing situations of potential harm, understanding institutional structures and cultural conditions that facilitate violence, overcoming barriers to intervening, identifying safe and effective intervention options, and taking action to intervene.
- Be aware of comments and behaviors from others that would indicate they are intent on having sexual intercourse even if a partner is unwilling.
- Notice if someone is getting ready to have sexual intercourse with a partner who is incapacitated.
- Never pressure or encourage friends to drink or have sex as often or with as many people as possible.
- Never joke about sexual assault; comments and jokes that are meant to “ease the tension” or are “just kidding around” can trivialize the severity of the behavior.
- Know your level of comfort with conversations and talk about sexual behavior. If you find groups or individuals who talk about sexual relationships that are not in sync with how you feel, or the type of relationship you want, do not be afraid to state your position.
- Many perpetrators are unaware that what they have done is a crime. They may say, “Yeah, that was messed up, but it was fun.” Let them know that what they did was not right and was against the law.
• Speak up when you hear threatening language.
• Respectfully challenge comments that degrade others.

A bystander’s role in preventing sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence or stalking
The key to keeping your friends safe is learning how to intervene in a way that fits the situation and your comfort level. Having this knowledge on hand can give you the confidence to step in when something isn’t right. Stepping in can make all the difference, but it should never put your own safety at risk.
• Create a distraction. Do what you can to interrupt the situation. A distraction can give the person at risk a chance to get to a safe place. Cut off the conversation with a diversion like, “Let’s get pizza, I’m starving,” or “This party is lame. Let’s try somewhere else.” Bring out fresh food or drinks and offer them to everyone at the party, including the people you are concerned about. Start an activity that draws other people in, like a game, a debate, or a dance party.
• Ask directly. Talk directly to the person who might be in trouble. Ask questions such as “Who did you come here with?” or “Would you like me to stay with you?”
• Refer to an authority. Sometimes the safest way to intervene is to refer to a neutral party with the authority to change the situation, such as a resident assistant, security guard, bartender, or other employee. It’s in their best interest to ensure that their patrons are safe, and they will usually be willing to step in. Don’t hesitate to call 9-1-1 if you are concerned for someone else’s safety.
• Enlist others. It can be intimidating to approach a situation alone. Enlist another person to support you or to come with you to approach the person at risk. Or ask someone to intervene in your place. For example, you could ask someone who knows the person at risk to escort that person to the bathroom. Enlist the friend of the person you’re concerned about by saying, “Your friend looks like they’ve had a lot to drink. Can you check on them?”

If you become aware that a sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence or stalking has occurred or are told of an incident occurring:
• Believe the person. He or she will need you to be supportive and understanding.
• Tell the victim it is not their fault.
• Encourage the victim to talk to a professional, such as someone from Student Health and Wellness (confidential resource), University Police, the dean of students, or the Title IX Coordinator. Realize, however, there may be reasons that the person does NOT want to do that at this time. Respect that decision.
• Don’t pry or try to get information out of the person if they are unwilling to be forthcoming with information. Be ready to listen when the individual is ready to talk. The person may feel uncomfortable about involving others, and will open up when ready.
• If you learn of the perpetrator’s identity, do not suggest physical retaliation of any kind.
• Know available resources.
• Listen.
• Be patient.

Tips for Violence Risk Reduction
The following are some strategies to reduce one’s risk of violence (adapted from the Rape, Abuse, and Incest National Network (RAINN) at: www.rainn.org and Love is Respect at: www.loveisrespect.org or other similar help sites). Risk reduction options are designed to decrease perpetration and bystander inaction, and to increase empowerment for victims in order to promote safety and to help individuals and communities address conditions that facilitate violence. With no intent to victim blame and recognizing that only rapists are responsible for rape, the following are some strategies to reduce one’s risk of violence, sexual assault or harassment:
• Be aware of your surroundings. Knowing where you are and who is around you may help you to find a way to
- Get out of a bad situation.
- Walk with purpose. Even if you don’t know where you are going, act like you do.
- Try to avoid isolated areas. It is more difficult to get help if no one is around.
- Don’t allow yourself to be isolated with someone you don’t trust or someone you don’t know.
- When you go to a social gathering, go with a group of friends. Arrive together, check in with each other throughout the evening, and leave together. Knowing where you are and who is around you may help you to find a way out of a bad situation.

- Trust your instincts. If a situation or location feels unsafe or uncomfortable, it probably isn’t the best place to be. If you feel unsafe in any situation, go with your gut. If you see something suspicious, contact law enforcement immediately. (UPD can be reached by calling 361-593-2611 or calling 9-1-1 in most areas of the U.S.).
- Do not leave your drink unattended while talking, dancing, using the restroom, or making a phone call. If you’ve left your drink alone, get a new one.
- Don’t accept drinks from people you don’t know or trust. If you choose to accept a drink, go with the person to the bar to order it, watch it being poured, and carry it yourself. At parties, don’t drink from the punch bowls or other large, common open containers.
- Make or order your own drinks and never feel pressured to have “just one more.”
- Watch out for your friends, and vice versa. If a friend seems out of it, is way too intoxicated for the amount of alcohol they’ve had, or is acting out of character, get him or her to a safe place immediately.
- If you suspect you or a friend has been drugged, contact law enforcement immediately. Be explicit with doctors so they can give you the correct tests (you will need a urine test and possibly others).
- Try not to load yourself down with packages or bags as this can make you appear more vulnerable.
- Make sure your cell phone is with you and charged and that you have cab money.
- Avoid putting music headphones in both ears so that you can be more aware of your surroundings, especially if you are walking alone.

Sexual Harassment

It is the policy of Texas A&M University-Kingsville, that the sexual harassment of students, employees and users of university facilities is unacceptable and prohibited. This stance is consistent with the university's efforts to maintain equal employment opportunity, equal educational opportunity, non-discrimination in program services, use of facilities, and the affirmative action program. The Compliance Office publishes a policy that gives detailed information about sexual harassment. These are available in the Compliance Office and other offices across campus.

Sexual harassment is the introduction of unwanted sexual activities or comments into the work or learning situation. Oftentimes, sexual harassment involves relationships of unequal power and contains elements of coercion—as when compliance with requests for sexual favors becomes a criterion for granting work, study, or grading benefits. However, sexual harassment may also involve relationships among equals, as when repeated sexual advances or demeaning verbal behavior have a harmful effect on a person's ability to study or work.

For general policy purposes, sexual harassment may be described as sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other physical conduct and expressive behavior of a sexual nature when: (1) submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment or education; (2) submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for academic or employment decisions affecting that individual; or (3) such conduct has the purpose or effect of interfering with an individual's academic or professional performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or demeaning employment or educational environment.
In keeping with this policy, Texas A&M University-Kingsville is undertaking an education and prevention plan of action to protect employees, students, and users of university facilities from sexual harassment and to rid the University of such conduct.

Anyone subjected to suspected sexual harassment should contact the Compliance Office at Texas A&M University-Kingsville. Contacts are confidential. Sexual harassment grievances will be handled according to the procedure summarized below.

Confidentiality
The university will protect the identity of persons who report having been victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual exploitation to the fullest extent possible or required by law. However, when accessing university resources, individuals should be aware of the university’s confidentiality and mandatory reporting obligation in order to make informed choices. Some on-campus resources offer confidentiality, sharing options, and advice without an obligation to disclose identifying information unless the complainant wants them to or when state or federal law requires mandatory reporting. Confidentiality is limited to licensed professional counseling staff in Student Health and Wellness Department. In addition, complainants may speak on or off-campus with members of the clergy and chaplains who will keep reports made to them confidential. Any information provided anonymously or formally will be used in compliance with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act for data collection.

Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2013
Overview
(Sexual Assault, Dating Violence, Domestic Violence, and Stalking)

On March 7th, 2013, the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2013 (VAWA) was enacted by the United States Congress. Among other provisions, this law amended sections of the Clery Act. These statutory changes require institutions to compile statistics for certain crimes that are reported to campus security authorities or local police agencies including incidents of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. Additionally, institutions will be required to include certain policies, procedures, and programs pertaining to these crimes in their Annual Security Reports beginning with the 2013 Annual Security Report.

Texas A&M University-Kingsville strictly prohibits the offenses of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, stalking, or other forms of sexual misconduct. Offenders may be subject to appropriate campus adjudication processes, disciplinary action, and/or criminal proceedings. The university utilizes procedures that provide prompt, fair, and impartial investigation and resolution in cases involving domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking. These procedures are carried out by officials who receive specific annual training.

Sexual violence is a form of sexual harassment and services are available to students, faculty, and staff who experience sexual violence, domestic violence, dating violence, and instances of stalking. In these situations, Texas A&M University-Kingsville is committed to providing crisis intervention measures for students, faculty, and staff, as well as appropriate administrative response for the complainant and respondent; referring individuals to criminal authorities; and educating and promoting discussion on interpersonal abuse and violence issues. The university’s process does not preclude adjudication under state law. The University prohibits retaliation by its officers, employees, students, or agents against a person who exercises his or her rights or responsibilities under any provision federal or state law, including Title IX and the Campus SaVE Act, or this policy.

As a crime victim, you will have questions. What should you do? Generally speaking, a victim of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking has four choices:

- Choose to not report the crime to police or any campus authority.
- Report the crime to University Police anonymously.
- Report the crime to University Police 361-593-2611 or local police with the intent of pressing criminal charges.
- Report the crime to the university, including the Title IX Coordinator 361-593-4758, with the intent of using the Student Code of Conduct Process to hold the offender responsible. See Texas A&M University – Kingsville’s Sexual Misconduct Policy in the Student Handbook or online: http://www.tamuk.edu/dean/dean_files/studenthandbook.pdf.

Information for Victims of Sexual Assault, Dating Violence, Domestic Violence or Stalking

When a victim of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence or stalking contacts the University Police Department, the UPD will contact the Director of Student Health and Wellness Services or designee. The Title IX Coordinator will also be notified. Student Health and Wellness staff will guide the victim through the available options and support the victim in his/her decisions. The victim also will be encouraged to access the counseling services offered through Student Health and Wellness.

The University Police Department works in concert with Student Health and Wellness Department and the Health Care Clinic, taking a team approach in dealing with sensitive situations and referring persons to counseling services, as needed. Police officers are trained in threat assessment and licensed professional counselors encourage their clients to report crimes to the University Police Department to prevent the potential for future crimes. Crime information can be forwarded anonymously at the request of the client to the University Police Department.
Counselors do not disclose information to the police department without the consent of the client unless there is an immediate threat to safety.

The victim may choose for the investigation to be pursued through the criminal justice system, the campus disciplinary system or both. The university police, with the victim’s consent, will immediately conduct a criminal investigation of on-campus incidents. Completed investigations will be forwarded to the District Attorney’s Office for review and possible prosecution.

Along with criminal prosecution, University disciplinary action may be imposed on individual students, recognized student organizations and/or university faculty and staff found in violation of the university policy. University action is an option that can be pursued in lieu of/or concurrent with legal prosecution. University proceedings will provide a prompt, fair, and impartial investigation and resolution conducted by officials who receive annual training on issues related to domestic violence as well as dating violence, sexual assault and stalking. Equal access and opportunities for the accused and accuser, including to the appeal procedures and support of an advisor; simultaneously inform the parties in writing of the outcome and appeal process; institutional retaliation is prohibited. While an investigation is occurring, the university will assist the victim in any appropriate interim measures, including but not limited to, changing academic and living situations, if such changes are reasonably available. The accused has the right to a presumption of not being responsible for a violation until proven responsible as determined by a preponderance of the evidence present at the hearing. To begin a university investigation, the counselor, police or victim should contact the Title IX Coordinator at 361-593-4758.

When students are the alleged perpetrator, if they are found responsible for a violation of the Student Code of Conduct the responding student may be placed on probation, suspended or expelled, for committing violent or criminal acts on campus or at campus-related events. University disciplinary proceedings, when students are accused of a violation of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence or stalking, are detailed in the Texas A&M University -Kingsville student handbook.

The institution will upon written request, disclose to the alleged victim of a crime of violence, or non-forcible sex offense, the results of any disciplinary hearing conducted by the university against the student who is the alleged perpetrator of the crime or offense. If the alleged victim is deceased as a result of the crime or offense, the institution will provide the results of the disciplinary hearing to the victim’s next of kin, if so requested.

A victim may choose a pseudonym to be used instead of the victim's name to designate the victim in all public files and records concerning the offense, including police summary reports, press releases, and records of judicial proceedings. A victim who elects to use a pseudonym must complete a pseudonym form developed under this article and return the form to the law enforcement agency investigating the offense.

Things to Remember:

- Obtain necessary medical treatment. This may include a voluntary medical exam post-assault medical care. This can be performed at a local emergency room or designated hospital. Many hospitals have a specialized examiner who can complete an exam for victims of sexual violence. Such an exam can help the victim receive an appropriate medical assessment and treatment, and can preserve evidence for possible future action
- Pursue counseling services with appropriate agencies (e.g., Student Health and Wellness, Employee Assistance Program (EAP), or private providers)
- Call someone that is known and trusted, such as a friend or counselor. This person can help to evaluate the next steps
- Make a police report to the University Police Department or other appropriate law enforcement agency
- make a report to a campus security authority (CSA), Title IX coordinator, deputy Title IX coordinator, or other responsible employee under Title IX
- Make an anonymous report. An anonymous report to the police notifies them that an act of sexual violence has occurred but gives no names or identification.

Procedures for Victims of Sexual Assault, Dating Violence, Domestic Violence or Stalking

If the Assault Just Occurred
- Remember the sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence or stalking is not your fault.
- Your first priority should be to get to a place of safety. If you do not feel safe and need immediate police or medical assistance, call 9-1-1 or if on campus 361-593-2611. Police can also take you to the hospital or meet you there.
- If you are a victim of sexual assault, you should make every attempt to preserve any physical evidence of the assault; avoid destroying evidence by bathing or showering, douching, changing clothes, or cleaning up in any way, or disposing of any damaged clothing or other items that were present after/during the assault.
- Contact someone who can help you: a friend, the University Police Department (at 361-593-2611 if on campus or 9-1-1 if off campus), a relative - any or all of the above.
- Get medical attention at a hospital emergency room right away. You do not have to report the incident to the police to be seen in the emergency room or to have an evidence-gathering exam (e.g., using a sexual assault nurse examiner kit).
- Seek medical help whether or not you want to report the incident. You may have injuries you are not aware of, and a doctor can help you do what you can to prevent pregnancy or sexually transmitted infections.
- Do not shower, drink or eat, douche, or change your clothes. These activities destroy important physical evidence in the event that you decide to press criminal charges against the assailant.
- Know that you have legal choices. Call the University Police at 361-593-2611 or Title IX Coordinator 361-593-4758 for assistance or to learn about your choices.
- As soon as you have a quiet moment, write down everything that you remember happening, with as much detail as possible. This will help with your own healing process and in any legal action you might decide to take.

As soon as possible, the victim of a sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence or stalking should report the incident to the University Police Department or to the appropriate law enforcement agency, if the incident took place off campus. The Office of Compliance, University Housing and Residence Life staff, Dean of Students or other appropriate university staff of Texas A&M University-Kingsville will assist reporting to UPD or outside agencies as appropriate. Filing a police report with law enforcement will not obligate the victim to prosecute, nor will it subject the victim to scrutiny or judgmental opinions from officers. Filing a report will:
- Ensure that a victim of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence or stalking receives the necessary medical treatment and tests. Ideally a victim of sexual assault should not wash, douche, use the toilet or change clothing prior to a medical/legal exam.
- Provide the opportunity for collection of evidence helpful in prosecution or obtaining a protection order, which cannot be obtained later.
- Assure the victim has access to free confidential counseling from counselors specifically trained in the area of crisis intervention.

Preserving Physical Evidence
If an incident of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking occurs, it is important to preserve evidence to aid in the possibility of a successful criminal prosecution or obtaining a protection order. The victim of a sexual assault should not wash, douche, use the toilet, or change clothing prior to a medical exam. Any clothing removed should be placed in a paper bag. Evidence of violence, such as bruising or other visible injuries following an incident of domestic or dating violence should be documented including through the preservation of photographic evidence. Evidence of stalking including any communication, such as written notes, voicemail, or other electronic communications should be saved and not altered in any way. For more information about how to preserve evidence, contact the University Police Department at 361-593-2611.

If someone is pressuring you, or if you need to get out of an uncomfortable or scary situation:

- Remember that being in this situation is not your fault. You did not do anything wrong; it is the person who is making you uncomfortable who is to blame.
- Be true to yourself. Don’t feel obligated to do anything you don’t want to do. “I don’t want to” is always a good enough reason. Do what feels right to you and what you are comfortable with.
- Have a code word or phrase with your friends or family. If you feel uncomfortable in a situation you can call and notify them without alerting the person you are with. Your friends or family can then come get you or make up an excuse for you to leave.
- Lie. If you don’t want to hurt the person’s feelings, it is better to lie and make up a reason to leave than to stay and be uncomfortable, scared, or worse. Some excuses you could use are: needing to take care of a friend or family member, not feeling well, having somewhere else that you need to be, etc.
- Try to think of an escape route. How would you try to get out of the room? Where are the doors or windows? Are there people around who might be able to help you? Is there an emergency phone nearby?
- If you and/or the other person have been drinking, you can say that you would rather wait until you both have your full judgment before doing anything you may regret later.

Sexual Assault

Consent in Reference to Sexual Activity

Texas Penal Code § 1.07 (11) "Consent" means assent in fact, whether express or apparent. (19) "Effective consent" includes consent by a person legally authorized to act for the owner. Consent is not effective if: (A) induced by force, threat, or fraud; (B) given by a person the actor knows is not legally authorized to act for the owner;
(C) given by a person who by reason of youth, mental disease or defect, or intoxication is known by the actor to be unable to make reasonable decisions; or (D) given solely to detect the commission of an offense.

Penal Code § 22.011 Sexual Assault, (b) A sexual assault under Subsection (a)(1) is without the consent of the other person if: (1) the actor compels the other person to submit or participate by the use of physical force or violence; (2) the actor compels the other person to submit or participate by threatening to use force or violence against the other person, and the other person believes that the actor has the present ability to execute the threat; (3) the other person has not consented and the actor knows the other person is unconscious or physically unable to resist; (4) the actor knows that as a result of mental disease or defect the other person is at the time of the sexual assault incapable either of appraising the nature of the act or of resisting it; (5) the other person has not consented and the actor knows the other person is unaware that the sexual assault is occurring; (6) the actor has intentionally impaired the other person's power to appraise or control the other person's conduct by administering any substance without the other person's knowledge; (7) the actor compels the other person to submit or participate by threatening to use force or violence against any person, and the other person believes that the actor has the ability to execute the threat; or actions, as long as those words or actions create mutually understandable clear permission regarding willingness to engage in (and the condition of) sexual activity. Consent to any one form of sexual activity cannot automatically imply consent to other forms of sexual activity. Previous relationships or prior consent cannot imply consent to future sexual acts. Consent can be withdrawn at any time.

Medical Exam Following Sexual Assault

If you go to a hospital as a result of a sexual assault, you are entitled to a free evidence collection examination performed by a sexual assault nurse examiner (SANE). Texas A&M University-Kingsville departments (Student Health and Wellness, University Police, Title IX Coordinator) use area hospitals for such an exam, including Doctor’s Regional Hospital, Corpus Christi; or Driscoll Children’s Hospital, Corpus Christi. These facilities have specially trained nurses on call 24 hours a day for such purposes. The nurse will collect the evidence and ask the university police to pick it up and store it for at least six months. The evidence will be in a box marked only with a number, not your name. You are not required to make an official police report for this evidence to be collected. If you later decide to make such a report, the hospital will give your name to the police and the evidence kit will be tested for possible use in a court case. For assistance in this process, contact the University Police Department at 361-593-2611.

Dating Violence and Domestic Violence

The Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police Department takes dating and domestic/family violence complaints seriously. The nature and seriousness of crimes committed between dating partners, family or household members are not mitigated because of the relationships or living arrangements of those involved. Therefore, law enforcement must be thorough when responding to dating violence and/or domestic violence calls. An immediate criminal justice response can make a major difference in the disputants’ lives. If an assault should occur, the victim should go to a safe place and contact a friend or family member for support. Call the Texas A&M University-Kingsville police if the incident occurred on campus at 361-593-2611; if the incident occurred in the City of Kingsville call the Emergency 911, or Business 361-592-4311 for assistance. For locations not in Kingsville, the incident should be reported to local law enforcement and/or the appropriate campus authorities.

With all due consideration for their own safety, the primary duties of a peace officer of the Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police department responding to a dating and/or domestic disturbance and who investigates a dating/domestic/family violence allegation or who responds to a disturbance call that may involve dating/domestic/family violence are:
  • To protect any potential victim of dating/domestic/family violence,
  • Enforce the law of this state,
  • Enforce a protective order from another jurisdiction and
  • Make lawful arrests of violators.

State law requires a peace officer who investigates a dating/domestic/family violence incident or who responds to a disturbance call that may involve dating/domestic/family violence, (the officer), shall make a written report, including but not limited to:
  • The names of the suspect and complainant;
  • The date, time, and location of the incident;
  • Any visible or reported injuries;
  • A description of the incident and a statement of its disposition; and
  • Whether the suspect is a member of the state military forces or is serving in the armed forces of the United States in an active-duty status.

In Texas domestic violence laws apply to incidents of violence in domestic situations that cause bodily injury, threaten to cause imminent bodily injury, or cause any kind of physical contact that someone could reasonably expect would cause the other person to regard as offensive or provocative, including forceful detention which results in physical injury or places one in reasonable apprehension of bodily injury, impeding the normal breathing or circulation of the blood of the person by applying pressure to the person’s throat or neck or by blocking the person’s nose or mouth and which is committed by a person against such person’s family or household member. "Family violence" means: (1) an act by a member of a family or household against another member of the family or household that is intended to result in physical harm, bodily injury, assault, or sexual assault or that is a threat that reasonably places the member in fear of imminent physical harm, bodily injury, assault, or sexual assault, but does not include defensive measures to protect oneself; (2) abuse by a member of a family or household toward a child of the family or household; or (3) dating violence.

In essence domestic violence is any violent or controlling behavior by a person toward a spouse or partner. Although the partner is the primary target, domestic abuse also affects the children in the household, extended family members, and even the community at large.

"Dating violence" means an act, other than a defensive measure to protect oneself, by an actor that: (1) is committed against a victim: (A) with whom the actor has or has had a dating relationship; or (B) because of the victim's marriage to or dating relationship with an individual with whom the actor is or has been in a dating relationship or marriage; and (2) is intended to result in physical harm, bodily injury, assault, or sexual assault or that is a threat that reasonably places the victim in fear of imminent physical harm, bodily injury, assault, or sexual assault. (b)"dating relationship" means a relationship between individuals who have or have had a continuing relationship of a romantic or intimate nature. The existence of such a relationship shall be determined based on consideration of: (1) the length of the relationship; (2) the nature of the relationship; and (3) the frequency and type of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship. (c) A casual acquaintanceship or ordinary fraternization in a business or social context does not constitute a "dating relationship"

The Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police will arrest the aggressor when probable cause exists by the totality of the circumstances which may include: evidence that any of the parties acted in self-defense; a history of violence (prior assault convictions) of the parties involved, including history of calls for service; the relative severity of injuries inflicted on all parties, plus consideration whether the injuries were offensive or defensive; the relative size, bulk, and strength of the parties involved; evidence from persons involved in or witnesses to the incident; the likelihood of future injury to any party; and, current or previous protection orders filed against either party. As with any crime, it is important to preserve evidence. Physical evidence can include injuries of the victim, evidentiary articles that substantiate an attack and the crime scene itself. Photographs of injuries and the crime scene showing a struggle occurred can be invaluable.

A student victim of dating violence has the right, in addition to filing charges through the criminal justice system, to file a complaint with the Office of Compliance, 361-593-4758 or the Office of the Dean of Students, 361-593-3606, along with criminal prosecution, University judicial action is an option that can be pursued in lieu of or concurrent with legal prosecution. University students may report the incident to the Dean of Students, regardless of whether the act of violence occurred on or off-campus since the university reserves the right to hold students accountable for certain types of off-campus behavior. Disciplinary action will result if a student’s behavior jeopardizes the educational atmosphere or mission of the institution. Sanctions may include disciplinary probation and educational programs and may result in suspension from the university.

Red flags in a relationship:
Indicators in a relationship that might be warning signs of impending dating or domestic violence:

- Always wanting to know where you are and who you are with
- Not wanting you to spend time with others
- Getting angry if you do not answer a call or text immediately
- Always blaming you for their mistakes
- Calling you names or constantly putting you down
- Yelling constantly, throwing or punching objects
- Pressuring you to do more sexually than you are ready for
Do you...
- Feel afraid of your partner most of the time?
- Feel that you can’t do anything right?
- Get embarrassed by your partner’s behavior toward you?
- Believe that you deserve to be hurt or mistreated?
- Avoid topics or situations out of fear of angering your partner?

Does your partner...
- Humiliate, criticize or yell at you?
- Blame you for his behavior?
- Threaten to hurt you?
- Threaten to take your kids away?
- Threaten to harm your kids or pets?
- Force you to have sex?
- Act jealous and possessive?
- Keep you from seeing friends and family?
- Limit your access to money or necessities?
- Keep you from getting a job or going to school?
- Constantly check up on you?
- Threaten to kill or hurt himself if you leave?

Pay attention to the “red flags”, and trust your instincts. Instincts may have told victims that there was something wrong early on but they disregarded the warning signs and didn’t know that these signs were indicative of an abusive relationship. Survivors of domestic violence frequently report that their instincts told them that there was something wrong early on but they disregarded the warning signs and didn’t know that these signs were indicative of an abusive relationship. Always take time to get to know a potential partner and watch for patterns of behavior in a variety of settings.

Understand barriers to getting help such as fear of being judged, embarrassment and not wanting to admit that it’s a real problem. Keep in touch with your support system and confide in them. Participate in good self-care can lower your risk of being involved in an abusive relationship.

If anyone has been hit or abused by dating or domestic partner and they want to report it as a crime; they should immediately call the Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police if the incident occurred on campus at 361-593-2611; or to the appropriate law enforcement agency.

Keeping in touch with your support system and participating in good self-care can lower your risk of being involved in an abusive relationship. The Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police Department, along with the university community, is committed to stopping domestic violence in our community by encouraging its community members to be a courageous bystander with safe and positive options for bystander interventions to prevent harm or intervene.

Stalking is traumatic. You may experience nightmares, lose sleep, get depressed or feel like you’re no longer in control of your life.

(d) In this section:

Stalking Behavior
Stalking behaviors can include:

- Showing up at your home or place of work unannounced or uninvited.
- Sending you unwanted text messages, letters, emails and voicemails.
- Leaving unwanted items, gifts or flowers.
- Constantly calling you and hanging up.
- Use social networking sites/technology to track you.
- Spreading rumors about you via the internet or word of mouth.
- Making unwanted phone calls to you.
- Calling your employer or professor.
- Waiting at places you hang out.
- Damaging your home, car or other property

Safe Practices if you are Experiencing Stalking Behavior

- If you have a protection order, make several copies, and carry a copy with you at all times.
- If someone is following you, never go home. Proceed to a local law enforcement location, or call local law enforcement for direction on where to go.
- Acquaint yourself with 24-hour stores and other public, highly populated areas in your neighborhood.
- Under no circumstances should you agree to meet with the perpetrator face to face to “work it out” or “talk.” Meeting a stalker in person can be very dangerous.
- Tell someone. Resources like University Police Department, Student Health and Wellness, Title IX Coordinator are here to support and assist you. Victims under the age of 18 should tell a parent or other trusted adult about any harassments or threats.
- Inform friends, family, neighbors, and other people you know that you are being stalked so that the stalker cannot get information about you from them.
- If you have a picture of your stalker, give one to people you know at the places you frequent.
- Send one, clear written warning. This warning should convey that the contact is unwanted, and tell the perpetrator to cease all communications of any kind. Do this only once. Then, no matter the response, under no circumstances have further contact with the stalker.
- Collect and document all evidence. Save all email, postings, or other communications in both electronic and hard-copy form. If possible, save all of the header information from emails and newsgroup postings (use the Help feature on whatever service you are using for instructions). Record the dates and times of any contact with the stalker. All evidence of stalking should be preserved to aid in obtaining a protection order against a perpetrator.
- Save any packages, letters, messages, or gifts from the stalker. They may be important if you decide to report to the police.
- Keep a log of incidents including the date, time, type of incident, what occurred, and the names of any witnesses. Even if you decide not to pursue prosecution, you may change your mind and it will be helpful to have documentation of every incident.
- Document how the stalking is affecting you and any steps you have taken to stop it (e.g., blocked number, unfriended on Facebook, asked the stalker to stop). A free Stalking Log is available at: https://www.victimsofcrime.org/docs/src/stalking-incident-log_pdf.pdf?sfvrsn=4
- Ignore or reject calls from anonymous or unknown callers. Block unwanted callers. Consult your service provider for more information.
- Use voicemail to screen calls. Save all voicemail messages from the stalker, or record them to a tape recorder and save the digital recording or tapes.
- File a report with the University Police or local law enforcement. Save copies of police reports and record all contact with law enforcement officials and the prosecutor’s office. Add these notes to your Stalking Log.
• Change your contact information. You may want to consider changing your email address, Internet Service Provider (ISPs), and/or phone number, and consider using encryption software or privacy protection programs. File a complaint with both parties’ ISPs. Many ISPs offer tools that filter or block communications from specific individuals.

• To keep your address confidential, get a post office box and use it on all correspondence. Put this address on your checks. (If you are being sent something from Federal Express or another company that won’t mail to P.O. Boxes, change "P.O. Box" to "Apartment" when giving your address).

• Inform security at your place of employment that you are being stalked.

Law Enforcement Response to Stalking
The responding officer’s primary responsibility will be the victim’s physical well-being and emergency medical needs followed by an investigation to include obtaining preliminary statements, preserving evidence, and documentation with possible arrest. As with any crime, it is important to preserve evidence. Physical and evidentiary articles that substantiate the crime such as text messages, voicemails, videos, letters, photos, cards, unwanted items or gifts and emails should be saved. You should also write down the times, places and dates all the incidents occurred. You should include the names and contact information of people who witnessed what happened and provide this information to the police. Protective orders are meant to protect victims who have experienced or are reasonably in fear of physical violence, sexual assault or stalking by another individual. The Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police Department will provide assistance in the process of obtaining protective orders. Victims have the option of keeping their report of stalking in complete confidence, protecting their right to anonymity, when making a report through licensed professional counselors at the Texas A&M University-Kingsville Health and Wellness, 361-593-3991.

Only the victim can make this decision. It may be difficult to make complex decisions immediately after the assault. Talking with someone who can give immediate support and information, such as a sexual assault crisis counselor, a victim/witness advocate, or a family member or friend, may help you make a decision.

Sexual Assault, Dating Violence, Domestic Violence and Stalking Education and Prevention Programs

The University engages in comprehensive, intentional, and integrated programming, initiatives, strategies, and campaigns intended to end dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking that:

• Are culturally relevant, inclusive of diverse communities and identities, sustainable, responsive to community needs, and informed by research, or assessed for value, effectiveness, or outcome; and

• Consider environmental risk and protective factors as they occur on the individual, relationship, institutional, community and societal levels.

Educational programming consists of primary prevention and awareness programs for all incoming students and new employees and ongoing awareness and prevention campaigns for students and employees that:

a. Identifies domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking as prohibited conduct;

c. Defines what behavior and actions constitute consent to sexual activity in the State of Texas and/or using the definition of consent found in the Student Code of Conduct if state law does not define consent;
d. Provides a description of safe and positive options for bystander intervention. Bystander intervention means safe and positive options that may be carried out by an individual or individuals to prevent harm or intervene when there is a risk of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault or stalking. Bystander intervention includes recognizing situations of potential harm, understanding institutional structures and cultural conditions that facilitate violence, overcoming barriers to intervening, identifying safe and effective intervention options, and taking action to intervene;
e. Information on risk reduction. Risk reduction means options designed to decrease perpetration and bystander inaction, and to increase empowerment for victims in order to promote safety and to help individuals and communities address conditions that facilitate violence.

The University has developed an annual educational campaign consisting of presentations that include distribution of educational materials to new students; participating in and presenting information and materials during new employee orientation;

Ongoing and Primary Prevention and Awareness Campaigns

Ongoing prevention and awareness events feature programming, initiatives, and strategies that are sustained over time and focus on increasing understanding of topics relevant to and skills for addressing dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking, using a range of strategies with audiences throughout the institution and including information described in the university’s most recent Annual Security Report.

Primary prevention programs focus on programming, initiatives, and strategies informed by research or assessed for value, effectiveness, or outcome that are intended to stop dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking before they occur through the promotion of positive and healthy behaviors that foster healthy, mutually respectful relationships and sexuality, encourage safe bystander intervention, and seek to change behavior and social norms in healthy and safe directions.

Sexual Misconduct Complaint Process and Disciplinary Procedures

Sexual Misconduct Policy
Texas A&M University - Kingsville is committed to creating and maintaining an educational environment free from all forms of sex discrimination, including sexual misconduct. Any action involving sexual harassment, violence, coercion, and intimidation will not be tolerated. Specifically, Texas A&M University - Kingsville strictly prohibits the offenses of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking. These acts have a real impact on the lives of victims. They not only violate a person’s feelings of trust and safety, but they can also substantially interfere with employment and/or a student’s education.

It is the policy of Texas A&M University - Kingsville that, upon learning that an act of sexual misconduct has taken place, immediate action will be taken to address the situation. This includes working with state and local law enforcement to bring possible criminal charges and seeking disciplinary action through the university. Texas A&M University - Kingsville encourages the reporting of sexual misconduct that is prompt and accurate. This allows the university community to quickly respond to allegations and offer immediate support to the victim.

Victims and accused individuals are allowed the choice of an advisor or presence in any meeting or institutional disciplinary proceeding. The role of any advisor will be limited to being present and communicating only with their advisee; advisors may not examine witnesses or otherwise actively participate in the process. The advisor’s role is to provide guidance and support throughout the investigation and resolution process. Each party is allowed one advisor.

Texas A&M University - Kingsville is committed to protecting the privacy of victims, and will work closely with victims who wish to obtain confidential assistance regarding an incident of sexual misconduct. The university cannot guarantee complete confidentiality, but it will do everything possible to maintain privacy, and will only share information as needed to address the issue. Licensed professional counselors at Student Health and Wellness are the only Texas A&M University - Kingsville employees who can guarantee confidentiality to a reporter or victim. If you request confidentiality or that the complaint not be pursued, the university may be limited in its ability to respond. Additionally, the university will maintain all student related records in accordance with the requirements of FERPA (the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974), and will be accomplished without the inclusion of identifying information about the victim, to the extent permissible by law.

In circumstances where physical sexual acts are not alleged, an informal resolution may be permitted. Any informal resolution must be approved by the Title IX Coordinator. In cases involving sexual violence, informal resolution is not permitted, even on a voluntary basis.

When the person(s) accused of sexual harassment/violence is not affiliated with the university, the response will vary depending on the level of control the university has over the respondent/accused.

It is the collective responsibility of all members of the Texas A&M University - Kingsville community to foster a safe and secure campus environment. In an effort to promote this environment and prevent acts of sexual misconduct from occurring, the university engages in ongoing prevention and awareness education programs. All incoming students and employees are required to participate in these programs, and all members of the university community are encouraged to participate throughout the year in ongoing campaigns and trainings focused on the prevention of sexual misconduct on campus.

Complaint Reporting Process
In processing reports of sexual misconduct involving students, Texas A&M University - Kingsville follows The Texas A&M University System Policy 08.01, Civil Rights Protections and Compliance and corresponding Regulation 08.01.01, Civil Rights Compliance, located at http://policies.tamus.edu/08-01-01.pdf. Regulation 08.01.01, Civil Rights Compliance was updated on August 17, 2018. The processes provided within the Sexual Misconduct Compliant Process and Disciplinary Procedures section of this report have been updated to reflect these changes. You may also refer to the website for the Texas A&M University - Kingsville Office of Compliance for more information: http://www.tamuk.edu/compliance/index.html

Sexual harassment, sexual assaults, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking should be reported to the Title IX Coordinator, located in the Compliance Office, Lewis Hall 130 or by calling (361) 593-4758. The Title IX Coordinator will work closely with other offices as appropriate. Employees who experience, observe or become aware of alleged discrimination must promptly report the incident(s) to their supervisor or a member official, administrator or other designee. Students and third parties (including, but not limited to, anyone receiving services from the member, vendors and private business associates) are strongly encouraged to report the incident(s) promptly to the Title IX
Coordinator or responsible employee.

An employee or student is not required to report discrimination to a direct supervisor or to the alleged offender. The alleged offense may instead be reported to another member official, administrator, supervisor or the Title IX Coordinator. A link, https://secure.ethicspoint.com/domain/media/en/gui/19681/index.html, to an anonymous electronic reporting option for students and employees is listed on the homepage of Texas A&M University-Kingsville at www.tamuk.edu. As a matter of Texas A&M University System policy, all faculty and staff who have knowledge of a Title IX related issue must report the issues to the Office of Compliance. A third party (including, but not limited to, anyone receiving services from the member, vendors and private business associates) should promptly report the incident(s) involving an employee or student to the University’s Title IX Coordinator.

SECO is designated to receive, review and investigate complaints against the chancellor, the president of the university, or an employee who reports directly to the president of the university or the chancellor. The chancellor or designee will serve as the designated administrator in complaints against the president of the university or an employee who reports directly to the president of the university. The chair of the Board of Regents or designee will serve as the designated administrator in complaints against the chancellor or an employee who reports directly to the chancellor.

An employee’s or student’s complaint alleging discrimination should be reported as soon as possible after the action that caused the complaint. All complaints of discrimination must be reported to SECO and OGC in writing upon receipt by the Office of Compliance. Notification to SECO and OGC must include the: (a) date(s) of the complaint and alleged incident(s); (b) nature and description of the alleged conduct; (c) name(s), category (employee, student, and/or third party) and title(s), if applicable, of the individual who was subjected to the alleged discriminatory conduct; and (4) name(s), category (employee, student, and/or third party) and title(s), if applicable of the respondent(s), if known.

The filing of a discrimination complaint will not stop, delay or affect pending personnel or disciplinary actions. This includes, but is not limited to, performance evaluations or disciplinary actions related to an employee or student who is not performing at acceptable levels or standards or who has violated system policies or Texas A&M University-Kingsville rules.

The University will provide written notification to students and employees about existing counseling, health, mental health, victim advocacy, legal assistance, visa and immigration assistance, and other services available for victims, both within the University and in the community. The University will provide written notification to victims about options for, and available assistance in, changing academic, living, transportation, and working situations. The University will make such accommodations if the victim requests them and if they are reasonably available.

Individuals reporting issues of sexual misconduct/sexual harassment will meet with Title IX coordinator and/or law enforcement (if a criminal report is being made, which is your choice, but is always encouraged). Regardless of whether a victim elects to make a complaint to law enforcement, the University will assist victims of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, and/or stalking. When a student or employee reports to the institution that they have been a victim of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking, whether the offense occurred on or off campus, the University will provide the student or employee a written explanation of their rights and options.

Victims will be provided written notification about available resources including counseling, physical and mental health assistance, victim advocacy, legal assistance, visa and immigration assistance, student financial aid, and other services available within the institution and in the community. A student who has been the victim of sexual misconduct may request interim measures, such as an academic accommodation or change in residence after a report of sexual misconduct. When reasonable and appropriate, the University will provide accommodations to involved parties upon request. Possible requests include the ability to change academic schedules or work schedules, withdraw from or retake a class without penalty, access academic support such as tutoring services, transportation and change residence hall assignments. Employees may also be entitled to interim measures. The University will maintain, as confidential, any accommodations or protective measures provided to the victim, to the extent that maintaining such confidentiality would not impair the ability of the institution to provide the accommodations or protective measures. Additional interim measures that may be taken to protect an individual pending the outcome of an investigation/hearing may include contact restrictions, interim suspension of the accused (not to exceed 10 days), or change in course schedule, residence assignment of the accused, and/or other restrictions.

The filing of an illegal discrimination, sexual harassment and/or related retaliation complaint will not stop, delay or affect pending personnel actions. This includes, but is not limited to, performance evaluations or disciplinary actions related to a reporter who is not performing at acceptable levels or standards or who has violated system policies, regulations or member rules.

Investigations

The individual(s) or office(s) designated by the University to receive complaints, appeals and/or reports of illegal discrimination, sexual harassment, and/or related retaliation will review each one to determine if there is sufficient information to proceed with an investigation or if additional information is needed. If the information is sufficient, the individual or office will forward the complaint, appeal or report to an appointed investigative authority within five business days of receipt. If the information is insufficient, that individual or office, in consultation with the Texas A&M University System Office of General Counsel, may conduct an inquiry into the circumstances of the complaint/report/appeal and (a) dismiss it as baseless; (b) close it for insufficient information to investigate; or (c) refer it to the office(s) which handles complaints or appeals not related to civil rights. The designated office will notify the complainant of such action in writing.

The designated office will provide written notification to the complainant(s) and the respondent(s) of: (1) receipt of the complaint stating the allegation of a violation of this regulation; (2) the appointed investigative authority; (3) the appointed designated administrator; (4) interim protections imposed, if any; and (5) admonishments regarding cooperation and prohibiting retaliation. A redacted version of the complaint will be given to an employee respondent(s) and their advisor, if applicable, with admonishments regarding privacy. When a student respondent(s) is charged with violating a conduct rule(s), both the complainant(s) and the respondent(s) will be provided, to the fullest extent permitted by law, an unredacted copy of the investigation report (without exhibits) prior to a decision being rendered by the designated administrator. If requested, access to exhibits, which may be redacted, may be provided.

At any point in the process, the respondent (Faculty or staff) may be suspended with pay, reassigned, and/or placed in another type of temporary status pending completion of the investigation and final resolution of the allegations. This is not a disciplinary action.

The University will offer the individual subjected to the alleged illegal discrimination, sexual harassment and/or related retaliation, the respondent and other affected individuals interim protections or remedies, such as physical separation, contact limitations, alternative work or other arrangements, academic adjustments, and/or counseling services. Failure to comply with the terms of interim protections may be considered a separate violation of system policies and regulations and member rules and procedures.

Both the individual subjected to the alleged illegal discrimination, sexual harassment and/or related retaliation and the respondent must receive equitable treatment in all facets of the complaint investigation and resolution process, including but not limited to the right to an advisor (if any), the right to present evidence and witnesses, and the right to be informed of the outcome of the investigation.
Timeline for Investigative Process

The investigative authority will review each complaint, interview witnesses (if applicable), review relevant documentation, and provide a draft report on the merits of the allegations to The Office of General Counsel (OGC) for review within 30 business days of receipt of the complaint. OGC will coordinate with SECO and provide its review to the investigative authority within 10 business days. The investigative authority will have five business days to finalize the report and submit it to the designated administrator. Circumstances may warrant extensions to the time frames in this section. The investigative authority should send an extension request, if needed, to the office or individual who appointed them. Both the complainant(s) and respondent(s) should be notified of any extensions in writing.

Investigation reports should include a statement of the allegation(s), a listing of individuals interviewed including the dates of the interviews, and a listing of relevant documents attached to the report as exhibits. Reports should not contain speculation, opinions, findings, decisions, or recommendations for sanctions. However, investigators may provide assessments of the credibility of the parties and any witnesses.

For employee and third-party cases, investigation reports may conclude that each allegation is substantiated, unsubstantiated, or if there is insufficient evidence. In student conduct cases, the investigation report shall be used as directed in the university’s student conduct rules. For a complaint against an employee or third party, the designated administrator will review the investigation report and provide a draft decision to OGC for review within five business days after receiving the investigative authority’s report. OGC will coordinate with SECO and provide its review of the draft decision within five business days. The designated administrator will have five business days to finalize the decision and provide it to the complainant(s), the respondent(s), and the investigative authority. In cases where allegations are substantiated, the final decision will also be provided to the respondent’s supervisor. Circumstances may warrant extensions to the time frames in this section. The designated administrator should send an extension request, if needed, to the office or individuals who appointed them. Both the complainant(s) and the respondent(s) should be notified of the extension in writing. Limited appeal opportunities exist in all cases, as described in TAMUK University Rule 08.01.01.K1, Civil Rights Protections and Compliance.

When the respondent(s) is an employee, both the complainant(s) and the respondent(s) may review the copy of the investigation report and exhibits, with admonishments regarding privacy, after the decision is rendered. The report will be redacted in accordance with state and/or federal law.

The University investigative and disciplinary processes will include a prompt, fair and impartial investigation and resolution process transparent to the accuser and the accused.

Standard of Evidence

In all investigations and subsequent decisions, the standard used to determine the merits of the allegation(s) is the preponderance of the evidence; i.e., more likely than not.

Sanctions

Sanctions may have educational, restorative and rehabilitative components for employees and/or students. In addition, employee sanctions may have punitive components. Examples of sanctions may include, but are not limited to:

- Written warning or reprimand,
- Required training and/or counseling,
- “No contact” order,
- Probation for a definite or indefinite period,
- Suspension for a definite or indefinite period, and
- Employment dismissal and/or student expulsion from an educational institution.
For students, expulsion is a disciplinary action taken to teach a student that their actions and behaviors have consequences, which includes ineligibility to continue as a member of the educational community.

Students found responsible for committing acts of sex-based violence and/or nonconsensual sexual penetration of another person will be subject to a minimum sanction of a one-year suspension, in the absence of significant mitigating factors. Students found responsible for these acts who have demonstrated predation for the purpose of carrying out these acts will be subject to permanent expulsion.

Texas A&M University-Kingsville must establish a minimum sanction guidelines for other sexual violence and sexual harassment student conduct violations. Once available, these guidelines must be disseminated widely to the university community and utilized in the training of adjudicators and appellate officers.

Students found responsible for committing acts of sex-based violence and/or nonconsensual sexual penetration of another person who are allowed to return to the university after a suspension of one year or more will be ineligible to hold an office in any way (including intercollegiate athletics or other competitions, both on and off campus), and ineligible to receive an institutional scholarship, in the absence of significant mitigating factors.

For other sexual violence and sexual harassment student conduct rule violations, the university will establish a process to determine the student’s eligibility to represent the university in extracurricular activities, both on and off campus. The initial determination of eligibility must exclude any administrator who has an inherent conflict of interest in the student’s participation in a particular activity (e.g., the coach of a student-athlete, the advisor to a student club or organization).

When an employee is found to have sexually harassed (as defined by this regulation) another member of the university or agency or community, the sanction will be termination of employment.

Texas A&M University-Kingsville may not take any disciplinary action against an enrolled student who in good faith reports to the university being the victim of, or a witness to, an incident of sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, or stalking, for a violation by the student of the university’s code of conduct occurring at or near the time of the incident, regardless of the location at which the incident occurred or the outcome of the university’s disciplinary process regarding the incident, if any. This does not apply to a student who reports the student’s own commission or assistance in the commission of sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, or stalking.

For sex discrimination complaints, both the complainant(s) and the respondent(s) will be informed in writing of any and all sanctions, except when to do so would violate state or federal law (e.g., Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act).

Institutional Disciplinary Action in Sexual Harassment and Misconduct Involving University Employees

Texas A&M University-Kingsville’s Non Discrimination Statement details our commitment to equal employment and educational opportunity. In conformance with federal and state law and university policy the institution is guided by the principle that there shall be no difference in the treatment of individuals because of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, disability, veteran status or genetic information. Equal opportunity and access to programs shall be available to all members of the university community, both students and employed personnel at every level, and to all units, facilities, and services of the university.

In the employment of all personnel, the university recognizes that, as a public agency, it has a further commitment: it is obligated to support federal and state policies which seek to achieve equal opportunity in employment for members of underrepresented groups, women, individuals with disabilities, and Vietnam era and disabled veterans. As used in this document, underrepresented groups will include African-American, Hispanic, Asian, Hawaiian/Pacific Islander, and American Indian/Alaskan Native. Two important concepts are embodied in equal employment opportunity:

1. Nondiscrimination
2. Affirmative Action

Affirmative action requires more than employment neutrality. It requires Texas A&M University-Kingsville to make efforts to recruit, employ, retain, and promote qualified women, members of underrepresented groups, individuals with disabilities, and Vietnam era and disabled veterans. The affirmative action concept requires positive action to insure against perpetuation of benign neutrality in employment practices.

Appeal of Results of Sexual Misconduct / Sexual Harassment and/or Related Retaliation Reviews

In cases of sexual misconduct/sexual harassment and/or related retaliation involving a student, the appeal must be made in writing to the Senior Vice President for Student Affairs, Enrollment Management and University Administration (SVP) or a designee within three business days after notification of the initial decision. Appeal requests will be reviewed for merit and if filed in a timely manner. Both the complainant and the respondent will be notified simultaneously in writing of the results of the appeal. The victim is required to keep the results of the disciplinary action and appeal confidential. For further information, contact the Dean of Students (361-593-3606).

With respect to allegations of sex discrimination, the designated administrator’s decision and the sanction(s) imposed by the sanctioning authority can be appealed by the complainant(s) and/or respondent(s), but only on the following bases, as applicable:

- a procedural error or omission that significantly impacted the outcome;
- new evidence, unknown or unavailable during the investigation, that could have significantly impacted the outcome; or
- the appropriateness or severity of the sanctions.

The appeal will be confined to a review of the written documentation and record of the investigation and/or hearing, and pertinent documentation regarding the grounds for the appeal. The appeal does not create an entitlement to a new investigation or a full re-hearing of the complaint. The appeal process for both the complainant(s) and the respondent(s) must be equitable, but not necessarily identical. The appeal must be filed within the time period specified in TAMUK University Rule 08.01.01.K1, Civil Rights Protections and Compliance.

An employee disciplined pursuant to System Regulation 08.01.01, Civil Rights Compliance may appeal that action in accordance with System Policy 12.01, Academic Freedom, Responsibility and Tenure; System Policy 32.01, Employee Compliant and Appeal Procedures; System Regulation 32.01.02, Complaint and Appeal Process for Nonfaculty Employees; and/or other system policies and regulations as appropriate.

Employees appealing sanctions issued pursuant to System Regulation 08.01.01, Civil Rights Compliance will receive an unredacted copy of the investigation report and exhibits, upon request, with admonishments regarding privacy.

Procedures for Student Conduct Cases Involving Sexual Misconduct

Student conduct proceedings related to sexual misconduct will provide a prompt, fair, and impartial investigation and resolution conducted by officials who receive annual training on issues related to domestic violence as well as dating violence, sexual assault and stalking.

The accused has the right to a presumption of not being responsible for a violation until proven responsible as determined by a preponderance of the evidence present at the hearing. A counselor, police or victim should report allegations of sexual misconduct to the Compliance Office, 361-593-4758 or the Office of the Dean of Students at 361-593-3606.

Inquiry and Investigation
When the university is made aware of a potential violation, an inquiry or investigation will be initiated to determine what occurred and then take appropriate steps to resolve the situation. All employees must, and students should, cooperate fully with those performing an investigation pursuant to University System Regulation 08.01.01, Civil Rights Compliance. Employees failing to cooperate with those performing an investigation pursuant to this regulation may be disciplined, up to and including dismissal. No employee or student may retaliate against a person for filing a complaint or participating in an investigation under Regulation 08.01.01, Civil Rights Compliance. Employees or students found to have retaliated or intentionally provided false or materially misleading information regarding alleged discrimination under this regulation, may be disciplined, up to and including dismissal or expulsion. Prohibited conduct includes, but is not limited to:

a) attempting to coerce, compel or prevent an individual from reporting alleged discrimination or providing testimony or relevant information;
b) removing, destroying or altering documentation or other evidence (e.g., text messages) relevant to the investigation; or

c) providing false or misleading information to member officials who are involved in the investigation and resolution of a complaint, or encouraging others to do so.

Initial Review by Title IX Coordinator or Deputy Coordinator
The Title IX Coordinator or Deputy Coordinator will conduct an initial review of information in a sexual misconduct report or complaint to determine if there is sufficient information to proceed with an investigation, or if additional information is needed.

a. If the information is sufficient, the Title IX Coordinator will forward the complaint/report to an appointed investigative authority within 5 business days of receipt.
b. If the information is insufficient, the Title IX Coordinator or Deputy Coordinator, in consultation with the System Ethics and Compliance Office, may conduct an inquiry into the circumstances of the complaint or report and;
   1). Dismiss the complaint as baseless;
   2). Close the complaint for insufficient information to investigate;
   3). Refer the complaint to the office(s) which has responsibility for such complaints.

The Office of Compliance will notify the complainant of such action in writing.

Due Process Rights of Both Parties for Sexual Misconduct and/or Related Retaliation
A student or student organization alleged to have engaged in misconduct shall have the right of due process as delineated in the Student Code of Conduct. Additional provisions are in place for cases involving immediate interim suspension of a student for exigent circumstances and adjudication of Sexual Misconduct Policy violations which are detailed in the Student Handbook: http://www.tamuk.edu/dean/dean_files/studenthandbook.pdf.

Both the reporting party and the respondent are entitled to due process and fair and equitable procedures in all facets of the complaint, investigation and adjudication process and shall be:

a. Provided access to support services from the university at their request.
b. Informed of the investigation and adjudication procedures.
c. Allowed to choose to participate or decline to participate in the process with the understanding that the process will continue without their involvement and that the university will determine an outcome with the information available.
d. Allowed to discuss any conflicts of interest (real or perceived) arising from prior interactions by those handling the Title IX grievance procedures.

e. Allowed to have an advisor present during the investigation and adjudication proceedings. The advisor cannot directly participate in the proceedings and must not have involvement in the underlying case.

f. Given the opportunity to present witnesses and submit other evidence on their behalf to the investigators.

g. Notified in writing of the results /outcome of the complaint and subsequent action.

Investigation Procedures

a. When a decision is made to forward an investigation to an investigative authority for allegations of sexual misconduct/sexual harassment and/or related retaliation, the Title IX Coordinator or Deputy Coordinator will appoint two (2) investigating authorities to review the complaint/report unless circumstances warrant otherwise.

b. In all investigations and subsequent decisions, the standard used to determine the merits of the allegation(s) is the preponderance of the evidence, i.e., more likely than not.

c. The investigative authority will review the complaint, interview the complainant, respondent and witnesses (if applicable), review relevant documentation, consult with subject matter experts as appropriate, and review other available evidence or information. The past sexual history or character of an individual is not considered unless it is determined to be highly relevant. The investigative authority may also consult with appropriate management personnel, including but not limited to, the Dean of Students, the Title IX Coordinator, System Office of General Counsel, and/or the System Ethics and Compliance Office for advice and guidance, as applicable. The investigative authority will provide a draft report on the merits of the allegations to the Office of General Counsel (OGC) for legal sufficiency review within 30 business days of receipt of the complaint.

d. The investigative authority’s investigation report may conclude that each allegation is substantiated, unsubstantiated, or there is insufficient evidence. In some instances, after investigation, offensive conduct might not be sufficiently severe, persistent, or pervasive that it unreasonably interferes with an individual’s work or educational performance, or creates an intimidating or hostile work or educational environment. Nevertheless, the investigators may still determine that the offensive conduct is still a violation of university rules or policies, including the Student Code of Conduct or other published rules of the university and so note that finding in their report.

e. OGC will coordinate with SECO and provide its review to the investigative authority within 10 business days. The investigative authority will have five (5) business days to finalize the report and submit it to the designated administrator.

f. Circumstances may warrant extensions to the time frames in this section. The investigative authority should send an extension request, if needed, to the office or individual who appointed them. Both the complainant(s) and respondent(s) should be notified in writing.

g. The complainant and respondent will be notified simultaneously of the conclusion of the investigation and the availability of the investigative report for review.

h. The Dean of Students or designee serves as the designated administrator for cases where the student is a respondent. Upon receiving the investigation report, The Dean of Students has five (5) business days to notify the parties of his/her decision to refer the case to a hearing panel or not.

i. Circumstances may warrant an extension of the time frame in this section. Both the respondent and the complainant will be notified of extensions and the outcome of the investigation simultaneously.
If it is determined to refer the case to a hearing panel, the Dean of Students will oversee the process. The Dean of Students Office will compile the information from the investigative authority, as well as inform all of the parties of the date, time and location for the hearing.

a. The Dean of Students Office will provide written notification of the hearing to the participants at least three (3) business days prior to the hearing.

b. Determinations during the hearing, will be made using the preponderance of the evidence standard, which asks whether it is “more likely than not” that the alleged sexual misconduct occurred.

c. The complainant and/or respondent are allowed to choose to participate or decline to participate in the hearing review process with the understanding that the process will continue without their involvement and that the university will determine an outcome with the information available.

d. Each party may have an advisor of their choice present at the hearing. The advisor cannot directly participate in the proceedings and must not have involvement in the underlying case.

e. The formal hearing will be held as scheduled even in the absence of the complainant or respondent, unless such absence is for good and sufficient cause. Note: this hearing is not a criminal proceeding. Related criminal charges are handled separately.

f. The University Sexual Misconduct Hearing Board will convene the hearing to conduct a review of the investigation results arising from sexual misconduct/sexual harassment and/or related retaliation cases.

1) The purpose of the hearing will be to review the investigative authority’s written report, to work to resolve any issues with the report, provide an opportunity for the complainant or respondent to answer questions and offer rebuttal or support of the completed report, to clarify any questions the board may have about the incident and report, and to deliberate on the outcome and sanctions (if a student is found responsible).

2) Any evidence submitted during the hearing review in rebuttal to or in support of the investigation report must be material and relevant to the issue under consideration as determined by the chair of the hearing board, and may be accepted or rejected by the hearing board.

3) Parties to the hearing may not personally question or cross-examine each other during the hearing.

g. After the review phase of the hearing is concluded, members of the hearing board will deliberate on the charges in closed session. Determination of responsibility will be made on the basis of a preponderance of the evidence. As a result of the hearing, the Sexual Misconduct Hearing Board may take one of the following actions:

1) The respondent may be found not responsible for a violation of the sexual misconduct/sexual harassment and any other applicable charge(s). If the respondent is not found responsible, then the deliberations conclude. While no sanctions are imposed, the Designated Administrator may determine if specific interim measures should continue in place and notify all parties.

2) The student may be found responsible for a violation of the sexual misconduct/sexual harassment or any other applicable charge(s). If the respondent is found responsible for one or more violations of the Student Code of Conduct, the hearing board will discuss sanctions for the student after being informed of the student’s conduct status with the University.

3) Sanctions may have educational, restorative, rehabilitative, and/or punitive components. These include but are not limited to a written warning, reprimand, required training and/or counseling, restrictions, probation for a definite or indefinite period, suspension for a definite or indefinite period, employee termination, and/or expulsion from the institution.

h. Parties will be notified simultaneously, in writing, of the hearing outcome; appeal procedures; any change(s) as a result of the appeal process; and/or when the result becomes final.

Appeal of Results of Sexual Misconduct / Sexual Harassment and/or Related Retaliation Hearing Reviews

In cases of sexual misconduct/sexual harassment and/or related retaliation involving a student, the appeal must be made in writing to the Senior Vice President for Student Affairs, Enrollment Management and University Administration (SVP) or a designee within three business days after notification of the initial decision. Appeal requests will be reviewed for merit and if filed in a timely manner. Both the complainant and the respondent will be notified simultaneously in writing of the results of the appeal. The victim is required to keep the results of the disciplinary action and appeal confidential. For further information, contact the Dean of Students (361-593-3606).

With respect to allegations of sex discrimination, the designated administrator’s decision and the sanction(s) imposed by the sanctioning authority can be appealed by the complainant(s) and/or respondent(s), but only on the following bases, as applicable:

- a procedural error or omission that significantly impacted the outcome;
- new evidence, unknown or unavailable during the investigation, that could have significantly impacted the outcome; or
- the appropriateness or severity of the sanctions.

The appeal will be confined to a review of the written documentation and record of the investigation and/or hearing, and pertinent documentation regarding the grounds for the appeal. The appeal does not create an entitlement to a new investigation or a full re-hearing of the complaint. The appeal process for both the complainant(s) and the respondent(s) must be equitable, but not necessarily identical. The appeal must be filed within the time period specified in TAMUK University Rule 08.01.01.K1, Civil Rights Protections and Compliance.

Any student receiving a sanction of separation (expulsion or suspension) pursuant to this regulation may appeal the sanction in accordance with the member rule and/or code of conduct for student grievances.

Status of Students During An Appeal

Pending final action on a disciplinary charge or appeal, the student’s status should not be altered nor should his/her right to be present on the campus or his/her privilege to attend classes be suspended except for the following: 1) when the university has imposed immediate interim suspension action; 2) when a “disciplinary hold” is placed on the student’s academic and/or financial records pending the outcome of disciplinary proceedings or to enforce a disciplinary sanction; 3) when interim measures or restrictions are taken during a Title IX investigation and/or code of conduct disciplinary process when it is determined that they are necessary and appropriate to the safety of the community, and/or to protect the integrity of the complaint/investigation process; or 4) to assist with maintaining order on campus in incidents involving serious cases of class /facility disruptions or threat of violence whereby student(s) involved may be restricted from certain areas or other accommodations made to minimize the opportunity for verbal/physical conflict or retaliation. Once a student or organization has been finally assessed a disciplinary sanction and the appeals process is complete, no more severe major sanctions may be assessed against the student or organization by any higher university authority for the infraction in question except in instances where the student or organization does not comply with the initial sanctions that have been imposed.

Disciplinary Sanctions

When found responsible for a violation of the Student Code of Conduct, sanctions may be imposed upon any student or organization. The student or organization may be levied a sanction or combination of sanctions. As part of the notification of disciplinary action undertaken, the student or student organization will be notified in writing of the sanctions imposed, their duration, stipulations and deadlines for completion.

Students may be placed on probation with appropriate disciplinary sanctions, suspended or expelled, for committing violent or criminal acts on campus or at campus-related events. In compliance with federal and state laws and regulations, victims of violent crimes, including sexual assaults, will be informed whenever information regarding disciplinary action taken by the university is included in a student file. Both parties are notified simultaneously in writing of the disciplinary outcome and may appeal the outcome.
The sanctions identified below are not inclusive and may be levied in any combination.

1. Warning: A notice in writing to the student/organization that the student /organization is violating or has violated institutional regulations and that the continuation of such conduct or actions could result in further disciplinary action.

2. Probation: a written reprimand for violation of specified regulations. Probation is for a designated period of type and includes the probability of more severe disciplinary sanctions if found to violate any institutional regulations or failure to comply with the sanctions imposed by the hearing body.

3. Loss of Privileges: Denial of specified privileges for a designated period of time.

4. Fines: Previously established and published fines may be imposed.

5. Restitution: Compensation for loss, damage, misappropriation or injury. This may take the form of appropriate service and/or monetary or material replacement.

6. Discretionary Educational Sanctions: A provision to complete work assignments, essays, specific educational requirement (i.e., counseling, attending an alcohol workshop, etc.), service to the university or designated community agency, or other related discretionary assignments.

7. No Contact Order: Directive to cease any and all contact with another party/parties. This includes contact initiated through any means: telephone, correspondence, personal visits, email, social media (i.e., Facebook, Twitter) etc.) as well as contact initiated by any third parties on your behalf or at your request. This also includes making electronic outreach to or statements about the other parties through blogs or other social media, ‘tagging’ them in comments, or through online message boards or other internet sites. This restriction applies to both on and off campus. The directive to avoid contact until such time as this order is lifted.

8. Residence Hall Suspension: Separation of the student from university housing for a definite period of time after which the student is eligible to return. Conditions for readmission may be specified. A student has 36 hours upon notification to vacate the premises (except in the case of an interim suspension where the student may be asked to immediately vacate the premises). The student will forfeit the housing deposit and is liable for the prorated rent amount for the period the student resided in the halls as stipulated in the housing agreement. The student may not enter or visit university housing during this period.

9. Residence Hall Expulsion: Permanent separation of the student from the residence halls. A student has 36 hours upon notification to vacate the premises (except in the case of an interim suspension where the student may be asked to immediately vacate the premises). The student will forfeit the housing deposit and is liable for the prorated rent amount for the period the student resided in the halls as stipulated in the housing agreement. The student may not enter or visit university housing during this period.

10. University Suspension: Separation of the student from the University for a definite period of time, after which the student is eligible to return. Conditions for readmission may be specified. The student is not entitled to a refund of tuition and/or fees for the term in which the student is suspended.

11. Immediate Interim Suspension: – Separation from the university without first receiving notice or a hearing for an initial period up to 10 calendar days. This sanction may be imposed by the President or designee if he/she determines the student poses a continuing danger to persons or property, or the student’s behavior is an ongoing threat of disrupting the academic process. The University will aspire to provide notice and an informational hearing no later than three class days after the day of the interim suspension. If the president or designee believes it is in the best interest of the campus community that the student should not return, the university shall initiate its formal hearing procedures for long-term suspensions or expulsions prior to the expiration of the interim suspension. The student is not entitled to a refund of tuition and/or fees for the term in which the student is on interim suspension

12. University Expulsion: Permanent separation of the student from the University. The student is not entitled to a refund of tuition and/or fees for the term in which the student is expelled.

13. Revocation of Admission and/or Degree: Admission to or a degree awarded from the University may be revoked for fraud, misrepresentation, or other violation of University standards in obtaining the degree, or for other serious violations committed by a student prior to graduation.
14. Withholding Degree: The University may withhold awarding a degree otherwise earned until the completion of the process set forth in this Student Code of Conduct, including the completion of all sanctions imposed, if any.

Student Disciplinary Records
All outcomes of disciplinary proceedings administered under the Code of Conduct become part of the student’s educational record. Student disciplinary records are normally maintained for seven years from the date of the final decision in the Dean of Students Office. Student disciplinary records may be retained for as long as deemed administratively valuable or permanently if the student was suspended or blocked from enrollment. Expulsion records are kept permanently. Additionally, disciplinary records in cases involving gender-based or sexual misconduct/sexual harassment shall be retained for as long as deemed administratively valuable or permanently.

Sex Offender Registration

Registered Sexual Offender Information: The Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act (CSCPA) of 2000 is a federal law that provides for the tracking of convicted sex offenders enrolled at, or employed by, institutions of higher education. In accordance with this act, the University Police Department is providing a link to the Texas Department of Public Safety site for registered sex offenders which can be found at the following Department of Public Safety link: https://records.txdps.state.tx.us/SexOffender/. Definitions for Clery Crime Statistics

The following information comes from a variety of sources, including the Department of Education’s Handbook for Campus Safety and Security Reporting (2011); Uniform Crime Reporting Handbook; Sex Offenses definitions from the National Incident-Based Reporting System Edition of the Uniform Crime Reporting Program; and definitions of domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking adapted from the amendments made to the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2013; and Texas statutes. The following definitions are used when preparing the annual disclosure of crime statistics.

This type of assault usually is accompanied by the use of a weapon or by means likely to produce death or great bodily harm. interaction between the persons involved in the relationship. For the purposes of this definition dating violence includes, but is not limited to, sexual or physical abuse or the threat of such abuse, but dating violence does not include acts covered under the definition of domestic violence. Student Code of Conduct: Dating Violence – An act, other than a defensive measure to protect oneself, by an individual against a victim with whom there is or was a romantic or intimate relationship or marriage, and that is intended to result in physical harm, bodily injury, assault, or sexual assault or that is a threat that reasonably results in a fear of such harm. For the purposes of this section, the categories of bias include the victim’s actual or perceived race, religion, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, ethnicity, national origin, and disability. The incident must be reported as a hate crime if evidence indicates bias in any of the Clery reportable crime categories (outlined above) or in one of the following crimes: larceny-theft; simple assault; intimidation; destruction, damage, or vandalism of property; or any other crime involving bodily injury.

- Race: A preformed negative attitude toward a group of persons who possess common physical characteristics, e.g., color of skin, eyes, and/or hair; facial features, etc., genetically transmitted by descent and heredity which distinguish them as a distinct division of humankind, e.g., Asians, blacks or African Americans, whites.

The recovery of stolen property, the low value of stolen property, the refusal of the victim to cooperate with the prosecution, and the failure to make an arrest do not “unfound” a crime report.

2018 Annual Fire Safety Report
Texas A&M University - Kingsville
(for calendar years 2015, 2016, 2017)
In Compliance with Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act

Kingsville Fire Department
The Kingsville Fire Department (361-592-6440/6445) provides services to Texas A&M University- Kingsville and area residents for the protection of life and property from fire and natural disasters. They maintain a standard of training which encompasses both a prompt response to emergencies and the safety of citizens. Firefighters promote community safety through public education and fire safety programs.

Emergency Response and Evacuation Procedures
Evacuation drills are coordinated by the Office of Enterprise Risk Management, Environmental Health and Safety Office and University Housing and Residential Life each fall, spring and summer semesters for all residential facilities at the Texas A&M University-Kingsville. The emergency evacuation procedures for each residential unit (University Village, Mesquite Village - West, Lewis Hall, Bishop Hall, Martin Hall and Lynch Hall) are tested at least twice each semester, once in each of the summer session for total of 6 drills per housing residential unit. University Housing and Residential Life conducts announced and unannounced drills. Students become familiar with the locations of the emergency exits in the buildings and are provided guidance about the direction they should travel when exiting each facility for a short-term building evacuation. Students are also instructed on fire alarm pull stations and how to activate them in case of a fire or other emergency situation.

University Housing and Residence Life does not inform residents in advance about the designated long-term evacuations because those decisions are affected by the time of day, location of the building being evacuated, the availability of the various designated emergency gathering locations on campus, and other factors such as the location and nature of the threat. In all cases, UPD, Risk Management, Environmental Health and Safety, University Housing and Residence Life staff on the scene will communicate information to students regarding the developing situation or any evacuation status changes. The purpose of the drills is to prepare building occupants for an organized evacuation in cases of an emergency. Evacuation drills are used as a way to educate and train occupants on issues specific to their facility. During the drill, occupants “practice” drill procedures and familiarize themselves with the location of exits and the sound of the fire alarm. All occupants are instructed that in the cases where fire alarms are activated they must evacuate the building immediately. In addition to educating the occupants of each building about the evacuation procedures during the drills, the process also provides the University an opportunity to test the operation of the fire alarm system components. Any deficient equipment is noted so that appropriate repairs can be performed. Students receive emergency information and procedures during their hall meetings. Additionally, students are provided promotional materials titled “Have an Exit Strategy” which are developed by the Texas State Fire Marshal’s Office. The university continues to inspect, test and replace fire detection equipment in residential halls as necessary.

Report Overview
Emergency Notification

Texas A&M University-Kingsville utilizes both Tier 1 and Tier 2 notification systems to notify the campus community. One method the university uses to transmit emergency information is through Tier I and Tier II, a system that quickly notifies registered users of campus emergencies through text messages, emails and voicemail alerts. Additionally, in buildings equipped with public address capability through the fire alarm system, announcements can be made. The university campus exterior loudspeaker notification system provides direct commands and sounds that alert the campus to danger and ways to take necessary precautions. The system is accompanied by interior signs that provide both written and verbal commands— in English and Spanish.

The University Police Department will notify/coordinate response efforts with local enforcement authorities and other outside emergency personnel. The communications specialist or designee is responsible for disseminating emergency information to the public.

- Senior Vice President for Student Affairs and University Administration. Serves as the Chair of the Emergency Management Team

The president or designee will authorize university evacuation orders. An announcement of a campus-wide evacuation will come from the Office of the President or the Emergency Management Team. Students and employees should follow the instructions and timeline for leaving the campus and alert others to do the same. Information about returning to the campus will be provided through Tier I and Tier II, the personnel recall process for employees and press releases through the news media outlets.

Building Evacuation

An evacuation will occur when the fire alarm sounds and/or notification is made by the University Police Department, Emergency Management Team, the building emergency managers acting under the instructions of these offices, the Kingsville Fire Department, or the Kingsville Police Department.

All persons (students, employees and campus visitors) are to immediately vacate the area in question, leaving by the nearest marked exit or in accordance with the posted evacuation plan and alert others to do the same. Once outside, proceed to the designated building assembly area. Personnel shall not return to an evacuated building until given the all clear signal by Texas A&M University-Kingsville officials.

Annually, one or more buildings are selected at random, an emergency is declared within or in the vicinity of, evacuation procedures are posted and executed. The drill is critiqued and an After Action Report (AAR) is generated. The AAR will be retained for a minimum of (2) two years.

Residence Hall Fire Safety Policy
All residence hall students must comply with directives related to building evacuations.

Fire extinguishers and exit signs are strategically located in each hall. These are for the protection of all residents and are expensive to replace. Persons abusing, removing, or tampering with any fire safety equipment, such as fire alarms, fire extinguishers exit lights, etc., are subject to removal from the residence hall, even on a first offense, and to other appropriate disciplinary action. All residents will be expected to participate when the hall staff conducts fire drills. As part of the fire safety program, the residence hall staff will conduct monthly health and safety inspections.

Reporting a Fire

University students and staff reporting a fire on campus should call the Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police Department (361-593-2611) or 911.

If the fire event is no longer a danger they should contact:
Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police Department, (361-593-2611)
Office of Enterprise Risk Management (361-593-2237),
Office of Environmental Health and Safety (361-593-4131), or,
Executive Director of University Housing and Residential Life (361-593-2139)
Texas A&M University-Kingsville Fire Marshal, (361-593-3183)

If the fire event concerned a campus residential unit, students or staff may also activate a fire alarm pull station, located throughout the residential halls, to begin immediate evacuation of the building and notify UPD of the fire.

Emergency Fire Procedures

FIIR(E2) Procedure
If you are involved in an emergency fire situation on the campus of Texas A&M University-Kingsville, implement the FIIR(E2) procedure.
Find: If you see or smell smoke, investigate. You should try to determine the extent of the fire, the type of fire and the location of the fire.

Initiate: Alert the people in the vicinity to the danger as quickly as possible. Pull the fire alarm station and ask other people to assist in evacuation of the building. NEVER try to control a fire before other people in the building and UPD have been notified.

Report: Instruct someone to call UPD at extension 2611 to report the emergency. If you are alone – call UPD prior to any attempt at extinguishing the fire.

Extinguish or... Attempt to extinguish the fire ONLY if it is small enough to be contained AND you know how to use the extinguisher. Place yourself between the fire and an exit when using an extinguisher to prevent from being trapped.

Evacuate: If the fire cannot be extinguished – EVACUATE! Use the stairways to exit the building. Do not use elevators. As you exit the building, close as many doors as possible. Closed doors act as fire barriers.

Once outside, move to a safe meeting place away from the firefighters. Cooperate with the Building Emergency Manager(s) and other university emergency response staff to conduct roll of building occupants. The fire department should be notified if anyone is left in the building. Stay outside the building until the fire department and/or university officials have indicated that the building is safe to re-enter. UPD personnel will give the signal when it is safe for persons to re-enter the building.

- When you hear the fire alarm – LEAVE the area immediately, closing all doors behind you.
- Follow the main evacuation route, but be prepared to use an alternate evacuation route.
- If you must evacuate through smoke, get down and crawl. Heat and deadly smoke rise and cleaner air will be 12” to 24” above the floor.
- If you must open doors while evacuating, test the doors before opening. Use the back of your hand to touch the door, the door knob and the door frame. If they are cool, brace yourself against the door and slowly open the door; if smoke and heat are present, close the door and use an alternate evacuation route.
- Use stairways – NEVER use an elevator. In a fire, elevator shafts may fill with smoke, or may have power failure – leaving you trapped!
- Once outside, move to your designated assembly areas away from the firefighters. So the fire department if anyone is left in the building. Stay outside the building until the fire department has indicated that the building is safe to re-enter.

If you are Trapped

Stay Calm – you can take steps to protect yourself:

- If possible, go to a room with an outside window and a phone. Call UPD at extension: 2611 and give your exact location. If there is no phone – wave an object out the window (a sheet or jacket), to signal for help. Be ready to shut the window if smoke enters the room.
- Keep all doors between you and the fire closed. Cover all vents and seal cracks around the doors to keep out smoke.
- Be patient, trained rescue people will arrive to assist you.

Fire Safety System

Texas A&M University- Kingsville residence halls are protected by sprinkler, fire alarm and smoke detection systems which are monitored 24 hours a day, seven days a week by the University Police Department.

The University Fire Marshal conducts Life & Safety inspections of all the residence halls beginning in October. During this process each room is inspected for any fire hazards (extension cords, piggy back power surge, unauthorized cooking appliances, candles, etc.)

Plans for future improvement

Based on a comprehensive review of the fire alarm and suppression systems in the residence halls, the following is a list of future improvements:

- All required fire alarm and/or fire suppression system projects on the University’s Fire Safety Plan in the Texas A&M University- Kingsville residence halls have been completed.

Fire Safety Training

Faculty, staff and students should be aware of the location of fire safety equipment and building evacuation routes. For on-campus residents, fire evacuation plans and instruction are posted in-hall (posted in each residential unit) copies may be obtained through University Housing/Residence Life.

Resident Advisors have fire safety training each year. Fire safety information is discussed at the first floor meeting of the semester and each wing elects a Fire Marshall to assist the Resident Advisors during drills and evacuations. The University has also designated Building Emergency Managers (BEMs) to assist with emergencies including building evacuations in their respective areas. The BEMs receive annual emergency response training through the Office of Environmental Health & Safety.

Fire drills are also conducted each semester to ensure students understand emergency building evacuation procedures. Students must evacuate the building whenever an alarm sounds. Students who ignore evacuation instruction may be subject to conduct proceedings. Fire drills are also conducted each semester to ensure students understand emergency. building evacuation procedures. Students must evacuate the building whenever an alarm sounds. Students who ignore evacuation instruction may be subject to conduct proceedings. The University Housing and Residence Life department schedules 4 or more fire drills for each housing unit, per academic year, usually 2 each semester (1 announced & 1 unannounced).

Nature of Incident: listed in accord with the Nation Fire Incident Reporting System
Texas A&M University-Kingsville Citrus Center’s (Weslaco, Texas) 2018 Annual Security Report and Annual Fire Safety Report, published October 1, 2018, includes 2015, 2016, 2017 crime and fire statistics, is designed to provide important information about safety on our campus. This report contains information on the resources and services available to the Texas A&M University-Kingsville’s University and Citrus Center community. It also contains statistics about crimes reported on or around the Citrus Center campus, as well as fire safety information and statistics.

Safety and security are everyone’s responsibility; it takes a team effort to ensure that the university community remains safe and crime free. The team is comprised of law enforcement professionals; university departments; staff from the Dean of Students office; Building Emergency Managers; staff from Enterprise Risk Management; administrative staff from all divisions of the university, and, of course, you. You are the most important member of our team. It is important to stress that our campus is safe. However, you are encouraged to be aware of your personal safety and security and to be responsible in your actions while on campus. We count on you to safeguard your valuables by securing them in locked vehicles (away from prying eyes), locked securely in your apartments or offices, and not leaving portable electronic items unattended (not even for a second.)

The Citrus Center is supported by Texas A&M University-Kingsville which has many programs and procedures in place to contribute to a safe campus environment, and you are encouraged to become familiar with them and review them regularly. Please take a moment and familiarize yourself with the information in this report.

Your safety is very important to us. If you notice any suspicious, dangerous or illegal activities on campus, please notify the City of Weslaco Police Department at 956-968-8591 as soon as possible for investigation and resolution. A campus map is included in this report your convenience.

The University Police Department offered a number of personal safety awareness presentations in 2017. The presentations included alcohol awareness issues and laws, active shooter awareness with the Civilian Response To Active Shooter Event (CRASE) program, Campus Security Authority training, Residential Advisor orientation training, new employee orientation, Building Emergency Manager training, Rape Aggression Defense (RAD) Systems training, and many others. These sessions are offered to the university community upon request. The department is also active in the community sponsoring a Teddy Bear drive, hosting annual National Night Out activities on campus, participating in a National Night Event with other law enforcement agencies in October, and sponsoring a fund raising event for Special Olympics every year. Our collaborative efforts working with University Housing and Residential Life staff, other university departments and local law enforcement agencies have made a difference on campus.

We hope your time at the Citrus Center is enjoyable and productive. If you would like more information about this report or campus safety and security in general, please contact the City of Weslaco Police Department at 956-968-8591 or the Dean of Students Office at 361-593-3606. We value your comments and ideas to make our university a safe place to learn, work, live and visit.

Sincerely,

Kirsten Compary
Assistant Vice President of Student Affairs/Dean of Students

Annual Security and Fire Safety Report Overview

Preparation of the Annual Security and Annual Fire Safety Report

The Annual Security Report (ASR) and Annual Fire Safety Report (AFSR) is required by the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security and Campus Crime Statistics Act (the Clery Act). The report includes, but is not limited to: campus safety and security policy statements and disclosures; statistics for Clery Act crimes for Texas A&M University-Kingsville’s Citrus Center property, adjacent property, and non-university property owned or controlled by the university for the previous three years; and fire statistics for on-campus student housing facilities for the previous three years. To prepare the Annual Security Report and the Annual Fire Safety Report, the university, through the University Police Department, collects, classifies, and counts crime reports and crime statistics. Crime statistics are collected throughout the year from UPD and members of the university designated as Campus Security Authorities (CSA). Crime statistics are also requested from local law enforcement agencies in jurisdictions where the university owns or controls property.

The Texas A&M University-Kingsville University Police Department (UPD) is responsible for preparing and distributing this report by October 1 each year. UPD works with many other departments and agencies, such as the Office of the Dean of Students, Citrus Center staff, Compliance Office and the City of Weslaco Police Department to compile the information. UPD encourages members of the campus community to use this report as a guide for safe practices on and off campus. It is available on the Web at http://www.tamuk.edu/dean/cleryreport.html. A PDF version of the report can be located directly at http://www.tamuk.edu/dean/dean_files/cleryreport.pdf

Distribution of the Annual Security Report and the Annual Fire Safety Report

The Annual Security Report and Annual Fire Safety Report is distributed as follows:

3. Current Students and Employees: The Director of Public Safety/Chief of Police and the Assistant Vice President of Student Affairs/Dean of Students, and/or their designees, will distribute information about the availability of the Annual Security Report and Annual Fire Safety Report to all current students and employees of their respective campuses. The information about how to access the report will be distributed to each individual directly by campus electronic mail. A copy may also be obtained by contacting the Citrus Center Office; or in Kingsville, the Dean of Students Office, Room 306 in the Memorial Student Union on the Kingsville Campus, or the Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police Department, Lewis Hall, 855 N. Crime Victim Information

Reporting with Intent to Press Criminal Charges
When a victim decides to report the crime to police and to file criminal charges, they need to be aware of the steps involved:
- initial law enforcement officer’s interview
- medical examination (if needed)
- investigator’s interview
- prosecutor’s interview
- court procedures

Option Not to Report
Not all victims want to report crimes to a law enforcement agency. This is an individual decision. Without an official report, however, the law enforcement agency will not know that a sexual assault has occurred. Law enforcement agencies can only help the community when they are aware of crimes being committed. If the assailant was a stranger, the prospect of identifying the suspect greatly decreases over time, and crucial physical evidence will be lost as well. Even if you choose not to report, it is important for your own well-being that you receive medical attention immediately after the assault. No Contact and Protective Orders
No-Contact Orders (issued by the University)
No-Contact Orders issued by the University are designed so that students involved in a campus conduct process do not have any communication with each other to help minimize further altercations between those involved. Students who have no-contact orders are not to contact each other using ANY means. This includes, but is not limited to: comments, words, or gestures in person, through postal mail, email, social networking sites, or through others (friends, acquaintances, family members, etc.) acting on the student’s behalf. An order of no contact will remain in place until both parties agree, in writing, to cancel the order, pending final approval by the Office of the Dean of Students.

Code of Criminal Procedure- Protective Order

If a court finds from the information contained in an application for a protective order that there is a clear and present danger of family violence, the court, without further notice to the individual alleged to have committed family violence and without a hearing, may enter a temporary ex parte order for the protection of the applicant or any other member of the family or household of the applicant.

In a protective order, the court may prohibit the person found to have committed family violence from: (1) committing family violence; (2) communicating: (A) directly with a person protected by an order or a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order, in a threatening or harassing manner; (B) a threat through any person to a person protected by an order or a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order; and (C) if the court finds good cause, in any manner with a person protected by an order or a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order, except through the party's attorney or a person appointed by the court; (3) going to or near the residence or place of employment or business of a person protected by an order or a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order; (4) going to or near the residence, child-care facility, or school a child protected under the order normally attends or in which the child normally resides; (5) engaging in conduct directed

(d) In a protective order, the court shall suspend a license to carry a concealed handgun that is held by a person found to have committed family violence.

If you are a student or employee victim, please inform the Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police of any protection orders. Show these to the police officer, magistrate, prosecutor, or judge if he/she violates the order. Officers shall enforce protective orders from Texas and other states or possessions of the United States.

The Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police Department will explain and provide assistance in the process of obtaining protective orders. The University Police Department officers will provide victims of domestic violence with a "NOTICE TO ADULT VICTIMS OF FAMILY VIOLENCE" which states: "It is a crime for any person to cause you any physical injury or harm even if that person is a member or former member of your family or household. You may report family violence to a law enforcement officer by calling the following telephone numbers: 361-593-2611 Texas A&M University-Kingsville police department; Weslaco City Police 956-968-8591; or, Hidalgo County Sheriff's Office 956-383-8114. Local law enforcement will provide similar information if the responding agency is not the Texas A&M University Kingsville’s University Police Department. "If you, your child, or any other household resident has been injured or if you feel you are going to be in danger after a law enforcement officer investigating family violence leaves your residence or at a later time, you have the right to: "Ask the local prosecutor to file a criminal complaint against the person committing family violence; and apply to a court for an order to protect you. You may want to consult with a legal aid office, a prosecuting attorney, or a private attorney.” A court can enter an order that: "(1) prohibits the abuser from committing further acts of violence; (2) Prohibits the abuser from threatening, harassing, or contacting you at home; (3) directs the abuser to leave your household; and (4) establishes temporary custody of the children or any property.” A VIOLATION OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF COURT-ORDERED PROTECTION MAY BE A FELONY.

If you feel that you qualify for or you would like to obtain a protective order which aims to protect the health or safety of any person regardless of a decision to arrest. Emergency Protective Orders are issued by a Justice of the Peace. In a protective order, the court may prohibit the person found to have committed family violence from: (1) committing family violence; (2) communicating: (A) directly with a person protected by an order or a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order, in a threatening or harassing manner; (B) a threat through any person to a person protected by an order or a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order; and (C) if the court finds good cause, in any manner with a person protected by an order or a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order, except through the party’s attorney or a person appointed by the court; (3) going to or near the residence or place of employment or business of a person protected by an order or a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order; (4) going to or near the residence, child-care facility, or school a child protected under the order normally attends or in which the child normally resides; (5) engaging in conduct directed specifically toward a person who is a person protected by an order or a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order, including following the person, that is reasonably likely to harass, annoy, alarm, abuse, torment, or embarrass the person; (6) possessing a firearm, unless the person is a peace officer, actively engaged in employment as a sworn, full-time paid employee of a state agency or political subdivision; and (7) harming, threatening, or interfering with the care, custody, or control of a pet, companion animal, or assistance animal, that is possessed by a person protected by an order or by a member of the family or household of a person protected by an order. (c) In an order, the court shall specifically describe each prohibited location and the minimum distances from the location, if any, that the party must maintain. (d) In a protective order, the court shall suspend a license to carry a concealed handgun that is held by a person found to have committed family violence.

The victim may also apply for an arrest warrant. If a warrant is issued, the alleged perpetrator will be arrested. An arrest warrant charges someone with committing a crime.

The TAMUK Citrus Center provides a daily crime log for all campus property and a fire log for all reported fires that occur in on-campus housing facilities for the previous 60-day period. These logs include the date and time the crime occurred, general location and disposition of the complaint, if known. These logs are available to any member of the public upon request, are updated in accordance with federal regulations within 2 business days of reported incidents, and are available from the Assistant to the Director’s office. Any portion of the log older than 60 days will be made available within two business days of a request for public inspection. Business days are defined as Monday through Friday, excluding any day when the institution is closed.

An electronic version of the combined Daily Crime and Fire Logs are posted on Citrus Center website: http://www.tamuk.edu/upd/clery-reporting.html and are available within two business days of receiving a report, and is also made available, in hard-copy format, to walk-in customers from the Office of the Assistant to the Director of the Citrus Center.

Timely Warnings

In the event a situation arises, either on or off campus, that in the judgment of the Director of Public Safety/Chief of Police, University Police Department, or his designee, constitutes an ongoing or continuing threat, a campus-wide “Timely Warning” will be issued using the university email system. The university will issue an alert to provide students, faculty and staff as reasonably and timely as possible, notification of a crime that may represent a serious or on-going threat to the campus community, that will aid in the prevention of similar occurrences and to heighten safety awareness. The Timely Warning message will withhold the names of the victims, because victim’s names are confidential.

The Director of Public Safety/Chief of Police, or his designee, will notify the Senior Vice President of Student Affairs, Enrollment Management and University Administration, who serves as the chair of the Emergency Management Team (EMT), of a situation that needs reporting. They make the decision whether to issue a Timely Warning on a case-by-case basis in light of all the facts surrounding the incident. Timely Warnings are issued as soon as possible after UPD is notified; however, the release of the warning is subject to the availability of accurate facts concerning the incident. Criteria to be evaluated may include:

- The nature of the crime
- The continuing danger to the campus community
- The possible risk of compromising law enforcement efforts Timely warnings include information that promote safety and would aid in the prevention of similar crimes, including, but not limited to:

- Description of suspect(s) and/or any available information to aid in the apprehension of the offender(s) (if applicable)
- Recommended actions
- Precautions for the campus community to protect itself
- Description of crime reporting options at the university

Timely Warnings are issued to the campus community in a manner that is timely and that withholds as confidential the names and other identifying information of victims through university email. When the imminent threat no longer exists the university will send out a follow up notification or an all clear message.

Personnel authorized to issue a Timely Warning notice to the Texas A&M University-Kingsville campus are:

- Director of Public Safety/Chief of Police, or designee,
- Senior Vice President for Student Affairs, Enrollment Management and University Administration,

University disciplinary proceedings will be in accordance with procedures outlined in the Student Code of Conduct and university policy (faculty and staff). Voluntary admission to a substance abuse treatment program prior to the issuance of charges may be looked upon favorably in disciplinary cases. Disciplinary action in cases involving serious alcohol and/or drug-related violations will result in termination, suspension, dismissal or expulsion from the university, depending on the nature and seriousness of the case. Participation in a substance abuse education or treatment program may be required in addition to other sanctions. Any disciplinary action imposed by the university may precede and be in addition to any penalty imposed by an off-campus authority.

In the Fall of 2016 Texas A&M University- Kingsville began offering an online educational program called Alcohol EDU. Alcohol EDU was offered to all students. Beginning in the Fall of 2017, Alcohol EDU be taken by all new first-time in college students and transfer students.
Biennial Review Process
Texas A&M University-Kingsville educates students, faculty, and staff on the use and misuse of alcohol and other drugs, polices, and sanctions via a comprehensive institution-wide program and events sponsored by university departments and a regional and national award winning Peer Educator Program. These include the Dean of Students Office, University Housing & Residence Life, Athletics, Student Health and Wellness, Student Activities, Memorial Student Union, University Police Department, Campus Recreation and Fitness, Human Resources, and PEP Talk (Peer Educator Program).

In compliance with the Drug-Free Schools and Campuses Regulations [EDGAR Part 86] of the Drug Free Schools and Communications Act (DFSCA), in July 2016, a Biennial Review committee met to assess the effectiveness of Texas A&M University-Kingsville’s Alcohol and Other Drug (AOD) program and policies within the academic years of September 1, 2014 – August 31, 2015 and September 1, 2015 – August 31, 2016. This executive summary outlines the procedures used in completing this assignment, findings, and recommendations.

In compliance with the Drug Free Schools and Campuses Regulations (34CFR, Part 86) of the Drug Free Schools and Communications Act (DFSCA), and the Higher Education Act (Section 120A), A&M-Kingsville recognizes that the abuse of alcohol and other drugs is a threat to the mission of this institution and to the members of this university community.

Texas A&M University-Kingsville Citrus Center prohibits the unlawful or unauthorized manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, use, or sale of alcoholic beverages, controlled substances, and illegal drugs on campus. The impairment by alcohol or drugs of any student or employee while participating in an academic function, or of employees when reporting for work or engaging in work – during normal work hours or other times when required to be at work – is also prohibited. The use of alcoholic beverages by members of Texas A&M University-Kingsville community is at all times subject to the alcoholic beverage laws of the State of Texas. Individuals must be at least 21 years old to purchase, possess or consume alcoholic beverages. Violators are subject to university discipline, criminal prosecution and removal from university housing.

On-campus use of alcohol is limited to certain approved events and locations covered by the guidelines of Texas A&M University-Kingsville’s official policy on alcohol and other drugs.

Carson Starkey Amnesty Policy
The safety and health of university students is a primary concern at Texas A&M University-Kingsville. As such, any student can seek assistance from local law enforcement for themselves or others who are intoxicated or drug-impaired. Texas statutes provide that a person may not be cited for illegal possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages if the individual:

- Requested emergency medical assistance in response to the possible alcohol overdose of the minor or another person;
- Was the first person to make a request for medical assistance; and
- If the minor requested emergency medical assistance for the possible alcohol overdose of another person:
  - Remained on the scene until the medical assistance arrived; and
  - Cooperated with medical assistance and law enforcement personnel.

A complete description of these regulations is contained in the University’s Alcohol Policy and Drug Policy. This policy can be located in the student handbook or at the Dean of Students website: http://www.tamuk.edu/dean/dean_files/studenthandbook.pdf

Texas A&M University-Kingsville strives to assist students in achieving their potential as human beings and in becoming self-directed in all activities. Because growth and development are shaped by a student’s experience, the university seeks to develop an environment where students can learn how to live fulfilling and productive lives. Substance abuse disrupts this environment and threatens not only the lives and well-being of our students, faculty and staff but also their potential for contribution to society. It is important for all members of the university community to take responsibility for preventing substance abuse from negatively affecting the community’s learning environment and the academic, physical and emotional well-being of its membership. In recognition of the problems of substance abuse, members of the university community have developed a university-wide drug policy. These policies deal with education, prevention, intervention and treatment activities as well as disciplinary sanctions for those found in violation of the policy. The university has established comprehensive substance abuse prevention programs to help eliminate the threat that substance abuse poses. Through education, the university is committed to helping individuals achieve their personal and academic goals.

Legal Aspects and Consequences Concerning Controlled Substances and Illegal Drugs

All members of the university community are expected to abide by local, state and federal laws pertaining to controlled substances and illegal drugs. More specifically, the Texas A&M University-Kingsville policy prohibits “manufacturing, possessing, having under control, selling, transmitting, using or being party thereto any illegal drug, controlled substance or drug paraphernalia on university premises or at university-sponsored activities.” The term “controlled substances,” when used in this policy, shall refer to those drugs and substances whose possession, sale or delivery results in criminal sanctions under the Texas Controlled Substance Act (Texas Civil Statutes, Article 4476-15), as well as substances that possess a chemical structure similar to that of a controlled substance (e.g., “designer drugs”).

Education, Prevention and Referral for Treatment

Texas A&M University-Kingsville is committed to providing comprehensive drug education and prevention as well as early intervention and treatment referral services. Student Health and Wellness provides a broad-based educational program to assist in the prevention of substance abuse. The university realizes the importance of treatment services in assisting faculty, staff and students to overcome substance abuse problems. Assessment and intervention services are available through Student Health and Wellness. If further treatment is necessary, the student may be referred to outside counselors and programs.

Controlled Substance Laws and Sanctions

The following summary is provided for your information. Controlled substances are classified under the Controlled Substances Act into “schedules” that indicate their relative medicinal use and probability of abuse and dependence (addiction), for more information see the Texas Health and Safety Code, Chapter 481, Controlled Substance Act.

Controlled Substance Schedules

Schedule I: substance that has a high potential for abuse; and has no accepted medical use in treatment in the United States or lacks accepted safety for use in treatment under medical supervision. Some examples are heroin, marijuana, LSD, PCP, and crack cocaine.

Schedule II: substance that has a high potential for abuse; the substance has currently accepted medical use in treatment in the United States; and abuse of the substance may lead to severe psychological or physical dependence. These drugs include certain narcotic, stimulant, and depressant drugs. Some examples are morphine, cocaine, oxycodone (Percodan®), methylphenidate (Ritalin®), and dextroamphetamine (Dexedrine®).

Schedule III: substance has a potential for abuse less than that of the substances listed in Schedules I and II; the substance has currently accepted medical use in treatment in the United States; and abuse of the substance may lead to moderate or low physical dependence or high psychological dependence. These contain smaller amounts of certain narcotic and non-narcotic drugs, anti-anxiety drugs, tranquilizers, sedatives, stimulants, and non-narcotic analgesics. Some examples are acetaminophen with codeine (Tylenol® No.3), paregoric, diazepam (Valium®), alprazolam (Xanax®), propoxyphene (Darvon®), and pentazocine (Talwin®).

Schedule IV: substance has a lower potential for abuse than that of the substances listed in Schedule III; the substance has currently accepted medical use in treatment in the United States; and abuse of the substance may lead to a more limited physical or psychological dependence than that of the substances listed in Schedule III.
Schedule V: substance has a lower potential for abuse than that of the substances listed in Schedule IV; has currently accepted medical use in treatment in the United States; and may lead to a more limited physical or psychological dependence liability than that of the substances listed in Schedule IV.

Penalties
Three factors determine offense level for drug possession, the main factors are; (1) the type of drug; (2) the amount; and (3) surrounding aggravating circumstances (such as drug-free zone or possession with intent to deliver.)

Marijuana
- Usable amount less than 2 ounces, class B misdemeanor;
- Between 2 and 4 ounces, class A misdemeanor;
- 4 ounces to 5 pounds, state jail felony;
- 5 pounds to 50 pounds 3rd degree felony.

Penalty groups 1 and 2
- Less than 1 gram, state jail felony;
- Between 1 to 4 grams, 3rd degree felony;
- Between 4 to 200 grams, 2nd degree felony.

Penalty groups 3 and 4
- Less than 28 grams, 3rd degree felony;
- 28 to 200 grams, 2nd degree felony;
- 400 grams or more, 1st degree felony.

Health Risks of Drug Alcohol Misuse and/or Abuse
The list below only a partial list of the health risks caused by the misuse or abuse of alcohol or drugs:

Excessive alcohol use poses immediate health risks as well as long-term physical consequences. Consuming too much alcohol—even on a single occasion—can result in injury, violence, risky sexual behaviors, miscarriage and stillbirth among pregnant women, and alcohol poisoning. Long-term, excessive use can lead to the development of chronic diseases, neurological impairments, and social problems. In addition, people risk significant health problems when they use illicit drugs or prescription drugs for recreational purposes.

Stimulants (e.g., cocaine, speed) raise blood pressure, increase the heart rate, and cause rapid breathing. Frequent and long-term stimulant use may cause paranoia, anxiety, hallucinations, insomnia, and depression. Hallucinogens (e.g., LSD, “shrooms“) can result in memory impairment and flashbacks, and have been known to lead to injuries and deaths if the user gets violent or out of control due to a “trip.” Sedatives (e.g., heroin, GHB) can cause memory loss, vertigo, reduced heart rate, seizures, insomnia, anxiety, tremors, and respiratory failure.

Description of Drug and Alcohol Abuse Education Programs
Texas A&M University-Kingsville is committed to providing comprehensive drug education and prevention as well as early intervention and treatment referral services. Student Health and Wellness provides a broad-based educational program to assist in the prevention of substance abuse. The university realizes the importance of treatment services in assisting faculty, staff and students to overcome substance abuse problems. Assessment and intervention services are available through Student Health and Wellness. If further treatment is necessary, the student may be referred to outside counselors and programs. The programs are available for all students, faculty and staff to attend, regardless of location of study or assignment/employment.
Emergency Notification, Response and Evacuation Procedures

Emergency Reporting
Notify City of Weslaco police department (956-968-8591) or 9-1-1 in case of emergency. All members of the campus community are notified on an annual basis that they are required to notify the Citrus Center staff or local emergency services of any situation that involves a significant emergency or danger that may pose an immediate or ongoing threat to the health and safety of the campus community.

Campus Emergency Notifications
In the event of a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving the immediate threat to the health or safety of persons on the campus, the university will, without delay, and taking into account the safety of the community, determine the content of the notification and initiate the notification system unless issuing a notification will, in the professional judgement of responsible authorities, compromise efforts to assist a victim or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency.

Emergency Notification (Tier II)
When time is of the essence, information may be released to the university community through the Tier II mass notification system. Tier II is capable of sending alerts via telephone call, email messages and text messages to registered users. Students are able to include several telephone numbers and email addresses allowing notification to parents and/or spouses as well. Because Tier II uses data provided by the students, it is imperative that contact information remain up-to-date at all times. In emergency situations, the campus also is equipped with an indoor speaker system that can broadcast direct commands and sounds to alert the campus to danger and ways to take necessary precautions.

Texas A&M University-Kingsville will use the system only to provide official notification of critical emergencies (i.e., situations that pose an imminent threat to the community). When the imminent threat no longer exists the university will send out a follow up notification or an all clear message.

It is the policy of Texas A&M University-Kingsville to notify the campus community, via the Tier II Emergency Notification System, upon the confirmation of a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to the health or safety of students or employees occurring on the campus. The University Police Department may receive such information from entities including, but not limited to: law enforcement, fire department, National Weather Service, Office of Enterprise Risk Management or personnel from Environmental Health and Safety. The Tier II emergency notification system does not replace Timely Warning requirement. They differ in that the Time Warning requirement applies only to Clery reportable crimes, while the emergency notification system addresses a much wider range of threats (i.e. gas leaks, tornadoes, active shooter, etc.).
Initiation of the Emergency Notification System
The procedure for determining when a Tier II emergency alert message is sent and/or activation of the notification system is the responsibility of the Director of Public Safety/Chief of Police or his designee of the Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police Department. The University Police Department functions 24-hours a day, seven days a week. Upon notification from one of the individuals authorized to issue a Tier II alert, the University Police Department, without delay, and taking into account the safety of the community, determines the content of the notification and initiates the notification system; unless the notification will, in the professional judgment of responsible authorities, compromise efforts to assist victims or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency.

Personnel authorized to issue a Tier II alert are:
- Director of Public Safety/Chief of Police, or designee,
- Police Lieutenant,
- University Police Department patrol supervisors and communications officers,
- Executive Director of Enterprise Risk Management,
- Senior Vice President of Student Affairs, Enrollment Management and University Administration,
- Assistant Vice President of Student Affairs/Dean of Students, and,
- President of the University, or his designee.

The university conducts weekly pre-scheduled testing of the emergency notification system. These weekly tests are launched by the Office of Enterprise Risk Management and/or the Communications Section of the University Police Department.

Confirming the Existence of a Significant Emergency or Dangerous Situation and Initiating the Emergency Notification System
1. University Police and/or other first responders may become aware of a critical incident or other emergency situation that potentially affects the health or safety of the campus community. Generally, campus first responders become aware of these situations when they are reported to the UPD Dispatch Center or upon discovery during patrol or other assignments.
2. Once first responders confirm that there is, in fact, an emergency or dangerous situation that poses an immediate threat to the health or safety of some or all members of the campus community, first responders will notify supervisors at UPD to issue an emergency notification.
3. The Director of Public Safety/Chief of Police, Senior Vice President for Student Affairs, Enrollment Management and University Administration, and the Executive Director of Enterprise Risk Management, or their designee will make the appropriate notifications to Texas A&M University–Kingsville’s executive leadership and initiate all or some portions of the emergency notification system.
4. If, in the professional judgment of first responders, issuing a notification potentially compromises efforts to assist a victim or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency, the university may elect to delay issuing an emergency notification. As soon as the condition that may compromise efforts is no longer present, the emergency notification to the campus community will be issued, if there is a continuing threat to the campus community.

Segment(s) of the Campus Community to Receive an Emergency Notification
University Police will share information with those preparing the emergency notification to determine what segment or segments of the campus community should receive the notification. The entire Texas A&M University-Kingsville community including Texas A&M University-Kingsville main campus, Citrus Center in Weslaco, South Texas College Mid Valley Campus in Weslaco, and Texas State Technical College–MIT-C in Harlingen and Irma Rangel School of Pharmacy will be notified when there is at least the potential that a very large segment of the community will be affected by a situation or when a situation threatens the operation of the campus as a whole. The university will continue to assess the situation and additional segments of the campus community may be notified if the situation warrants.
The University Police Department will notify/coordinate response efforts with local enforcement authorities and other outside emergency personnel. The Director of Public Safety/Chief of Police or designee is responsible for disseminating emergency information to the public.

Contents of the Emergency Notification
The University Police shares responsibility with other campus divisions and departments for issuing emergency notifications and determining the contents of the notifications. UPD has developed a wide range of template messages addressing several different emergency situations. The individual authorizing the alert will select the template message most appropriate to the ongoing situation and modify it to address the specifics of the present incident. In those cases, where there are no predetermined template messages in the system, the individual authorizing the alert will develop a message to convey the appropriate information to the community. Messages are designed to convey the nature of the emergency and response actions that should be taken to protect life, property, and the environment.

Procedures Used to Notify the Campus Community
When the University Police Department receives notification of a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to the health or safety of students or employees occurring on the Texas A&M University-Kingsville campus, first responders will confirm the emergency/threat. If the emergency warrants, the UPD supervisor shall communicate immediately with the chief of police or designee; and depending on the magnitude of the incident, the Emergency Management Team chair or alternate who will communicate with the president.

Depending on the emergency the Emergency Management Team will execute the emergency management plan for emergency at hand. The university community will be notified using Tier I and Tier II communication systems via:

- SMS text message,
- Email,
- Telephone calls to registered users (home office and cell phones),
- Outdoor warning sirens and public address messages, or
- Scroll messages in campus buildings

In those instances, take appropriate action to evacuate the area and to ensure your safety and give protection to those around you that may need assistance.

The Emergency Management Team chair or designee, shall, consistent with university’s Emergency Management Plan, authorize immediate notification to the university community following confirmation of the threat, unless that notification is delayed for as short a time as possible, if there is a professional determination by law enforcement that issuing a notice would put the university community at greater risk. The content of the notification will be generic in nature to maintain campus safety while responding to, containing, and/or rendering aid or assistance to victims.

Emergency Management Team
Members of the University’s Emergency Management Team include the following:
- Senior Vice President for Student Affairs, Enrollment Management and University Administration. Serves as the Chair of the Emergency Management Team
- Executive Director, Enterprise Risk Management
- Director of Public Safety/Chief of Police
- Executive Director, Physical Plant
- Manager, Environmental Health & Safety
• Associate Vice President for Information Technology/Chief Information Officer
• Assistant Vice President of Student Affairs/Dean of Students
• Construction Project Manager III
• Executive Director, University Housing & Residence Life
• Director, Center for Life Service & Wellness
• Associate Dean of Students
• Executive Director, Human Resources
• Assistant Dean for Finance and Administration (College of Pharmacy)
• Assistant Vice President, Marketing and Communications
• Academy High School Principal
• Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs
• Vice President for Finance/Chief Financial Officer
• Director, University Facilities Planning and Construction

Depending upon the situation, however, other university personnel will be involved in carrying out the university’s emergency response efforts.

Campus Evacuation
The president or designee will authorize university evacuation orders. An announcement of a campus-wide evacuation will come from the Office of the President or the Emergency Management Team. Students and employees should follow the instructions and timeline for leaving the campus and alert others to do the same. Information about returning to the campus will be provided through Tier I and Tier II, the personnel recall process for employees and press releases through the news media outlets.

Building Evacuation
An evacuation will occur when the fire alarm sounds and/or notification is made by the Texas A&M University- Kingsville Safety Office (Environmental Health and Safety or the Campus Fire Marshal), Emergency Management Team, Citrus Center staff, the building emergency managers (BEM’s) acting under the instructions of these offices, or in the case of actual alarm or emergency event the Weslaco Fire Department.

All persons (students, employees and campus visitors) are to immediately vacate the area in question, leaving by the nearest marked exit or in accordance with the posted evacuation plan and alert others to do the same. Once outside, proceed to the designated building assembly area or other safe area as designated by the BEM. Personnel shall not return to an evacuated building until given the all clear signal by Texas A&M University - Kingsville Citrus Center officials.

Annually, the administrative Citrus Center building will conduct, at random, an emergency, evacuation drill to ensure proper procedures are followed. Following the drill all involved parties meet to discuss the event and the BEM will fill out the Fire Drill form to ensure all procedures were followed.

Drills, Exercises and Training
Occupants are instructed on evacuation procedures, (tornado, fire drills exercises, etc.) by the Office of Enterprise Risk Management, Environmental Health and Safety Office annually for the residential apartments at Texas A&M University- Kingsville Citrus Center. All occupants are instructed that in the cases where smoke detectors are activated they must evacuate the building immediately and notify (by knocking on doors, yelling, etc.) all other occupants of adjoining apartments. In addition to educating the occupants of each building about the evacuation procedures during the drills, the process also provides the University an opportunity to test the operation of the smoke detectors system.
components. Any deficient equipment is noted so that appropriate repairs can be performed. Students receive emergency information and procedures during their hall meetings.

The Texas A&M University-Kingsville Emergency Management Plan (EMP) describes the responsibilities and duties of campus personnel, departments, in event of an emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat. The EMP is designed to assist employees to respond appropriately when emergency conditions exist. To ensure emergency plans are appropriate, the university conducts emergency response exercises annually. These tests are designed to assess and evaluate the emergency plans and capabilities of the institution. In conjunction with at least one drill or exercise the University will disseminate emergency response and evacuation procedures to the campus community through the campus e-mail system.

Faculty, staff and students who fail to evacuate during a drill or actual event will be reported to the appropriate university official for possible disciplinary action for unsafe practices.

Fire Drills
Fire drills are also conducted each semester to ensure the faculty, staff and students understand emergency building evacuation procedures. All occupants must evacuate the building whenever an alarm sounds. Anyone who ignores evacuation instruction may be subject to conduct proceedings.

Emergency Exercises
The university conducts tabletop, functional, and/or full-scale emergency exercises with the various university departments, the university’s Emergency Management Team and community partners. These exercises are designed to prepare university personnel to respond to various emergencies that may occur on campus, recover from emergencies as quickly as possible, and provide the appropriate support to students, employees, and university operations.

Campus Security Awareness and Crime Prevention Programs and Resources

Security Awareness and Crime Prevention Programs
The University Police Department, in cooperation with Environmental Health and Safety, offers security awareness and crime prevention programs to the campus community on an ongoing basis. A common theme of the awareness and crime prevention programs is to encourage new and returning students and employees to be aware of their responsibility for their own security and to be concerned for the security of others. These programs aim to eliminate or reduce incidents of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, stalking, illicit drug use and dangers, theft, vandalism, personal safety and campus security. The programs are available for all students, faculty and staff to attend, regardless of location of study or assignment/employment.

For Students
Annually the Texas A&M University-Kingsville police department along with Dean of Students, Compliance Office and other university departments address the students in the athletic program, which includes all university sports, on safety awareness, sexual assault, alcohol and drug awareness, university policies, conduct while travelling and how they represent the university. All new first time in college students and new transfer students to Texas A&M University-Kingsville are required to participate in Alcohol EDU and Haven training.

For Faculty and Staff
New employee orientation: Bi-weekly; Robbery and personal safety ongoing, Rape Aggression Defense (RAD), active shooter (Shots Fired), Building Emergency Managers (BEM); upon request. All faculty and staff are trained in Haven, a sexual assault/sexual misconduct training program.

For Campus Community
The University Police Department conducts crime prevention and crime awareness presentations upon request. These presentations include: Alcohol Awareness, RA Presentations, Crime Prevention and Safety, Crime Prevention Tips, Date Rape, Drug Abuse, Hate Crimes, Rape Aggression Defense (RAD) Program, Personal Safety, Safety in the Workplace, Student Orientation, Shots Fired and others.

Alcohol Awareness Programs, Minor in Consumption and Minor in Possession Enforcement, Fatal Vision - DWEyes
UPD, in conjunction with other university departments and outside agencies, demonstrates with the use of Fatal Vision goggles, in varying degrees of perceived intoxication, what one might experience being intoxicated and operating a motor-vehicle or performing motor skill activities while under the influence of intoxicants. This is an ongoing program. UPD uses both a proactive and reactive approach to addressing the problems of underage drinking and drunk driving. Using a proactive approach, police officers go to various segments of the campus community and provide educational programs regarding the problems associated with alcohol abuse and misuse and its relationship to crimes such as drunk driving. In a reactive approach, UPD officers arrest drunk drivers, and cite violators for minor in consumption and minor in possession of alcohol. In addition, the Student Health and Wellness Services provide education on substance use and abuse issues.

Active Shooter Response Training
The UPD offers the “Shots Fired! When Lightning Strikes...” DVD for all campus personnel, including University Housing and Residential Life, Building Emergency Managers, Student health and Wellness, student, faculty and staff organizations and groups on an on-going basis. The program provides valuable information to instill a survivor mindset and teach realistic strategies for dealing with an active shooter situation.

Civilian Response to Active Shooter Event (CRASE)
UPD offers the CRASE course to the campus community throughout the year. The program developed by the Texas Advanced Law Enforcement Rapid Response Training (ALERRT) Center provides information to the community on what they should do if confronted with an active shooter event. The course is designed and built on the Avoid, Deny, Defend™ strategies for surviving an active shooter event.

Rape Aggression Defense (RAD)
UPD has trained and certified RAD instructors that offer sexual assault prevention, education and awareness.
The course includes lecture, discussion and self-defense techniques suitable for women of all ages and abilities. Classes range from a minimum of nine to twelve hours plus in length.

University Police Escort
The campus community members can request an escort to their vehicle or to their residence hall when alone at night by contacting police dispatch at 361-593-2611. Transportation will be provided based on the availability of patrol officers.

Crime Stoppers
In conjunction with the City of Kingsville’s Crime Stoppers organization and Student Government Association, Criminology Club and others, TAMUK Crime Stoppers offers cash rewards for information on crime that may lead to arrests or indictments of criminal activity on campus. Students, faculty and staff in Weslaco are encouraged to report crimes to the local Crime Stoppers organization.

Hoggie Days
UPD presents to incoming students and their parents safety awareness, services offered by the police department and general information about weapons, parking issues, alcohol and drug policies.

Operation Identification (ID)
Police can help students engrave unique identifiers on personal items kept on campus, such as bikes, computers, radios, and stereo systems. This nationally recognized identification procedure has been shown to facilitate the recovery of stolen items. UPD suggests keeping a record of serial numbers and unique identifiers, and taking photos of valuable items kept on campus to aid in identification and recovery.

International Student Orientation
The UPD and other university departments conduct orientation for new incoming international students. The orientation includes information on safety awareness, services offered by the police department and general information about weapons, parking issues, alcohol and drug policies, immigration issues concerning I-20’s, possible scam or threats they may encounter.

Personal Safety Training: Staff from Health and Wellness Services is available for seminars concerning personal safety for women (361-593-3991).

Safety Awareness Resources: Brochures are available through the University Police Department, which provide additional information and training. The university’s Emergency Management Plan is available to the campus community through the Office of Environmental Health and Safety and on the web: http://www.tamuk.edu/risk/Safety/EmergencyManagement.html with information concerning procedures for emergency evacuation, responding to fire, earthquake, hurricanes, serious injury, bomb threat, hazardous material leaks and violent crimes.

Sexual Assault Prevention Programs: The Texas A&M University - Kingsville Police Department provides educational programs to prevent sexual assault and to increase student awareness to circumstances which could lead to sexual assault. These educational programs include: Date Rape, Drug Abuse, Hate Crimes, RAD Program, and Personal Safety. Student Health and Wellness Services has a brochure on rape prevention and another on acquaintance rape.

Emergency/Reporting Smartphone App
The campus community can also take advantage of the university’s Rave Guardian app, which is called JavGuard, to communicate directly with University Police Department or 911 operators, send text or photographic information to the University police about crimes, numerous incidents or request police assistance, or set a timer to notify people you trust to check on you when you are alone or in an unfamiliar place.

Security Cameras

Video surveillance at the University plays an ever increasing role in the total security package that the University is able to provide for the students, faculty, staff, and visitors. The University maintains and monitors a comprehensive video surveillance system.

Personal Safety Tips

The safety and well-being of our students, faculty, staff, and visitors will always be a primary institutional goal at Texas A&M University-Kingsville. The UPD can help you protect yourself and your property by reducing the possibility of being victimized. As a member of the university community, you can help in reducing the potential for criminal activity.

The university's safety and security measures are designed to address every area of campus life, but a safe environment also depends on the awareness and cooperation of individual campus community members.

Here are some common-sense steps you can take for personal safety and loss prevention:

General:
- Remember to call 9-1-1 in case of an emergency
- Know the non-emergency phone number of local and county law enforcement in your area and program it into your cell phone.
- Notify a university employee or local law enforcement of any individual who appears not to have legitimate business on campus or whose actions arouse suspicion or concern.
- Remain alert, pay attention to your surroundings, and avoid listening to musical devices such as an iPod to make it more difficult to be taken by surprise.
- When traversing the campus at night, stay within well-lit walkways.
- Never prop doors open, even for a short time.
- Park in well-lighted areas, and check the inside of your vehicle before entering it.
- Although the campuses are considered safe, students and staff are encouraged to walk in pairs or groups after dark.
- Utilize the Rave Guardian, known as JavGuard, mobile application.

Walking:
- Have a plan, be aware of your surroundings, and walk with confidence
- Walk with a friend whenever possible
- Avoid dark areas, high shrubbery, and shortcuts: stay in well lighted areas
- Try to walk facing oncoming traffic
- Cross streets using marked crosswalks or at intersections
- Use sidewalks
- Maintain a secure grip on purses and personal items
- Keep your cell phone at the ready
- Program the local law enforcement in your cell/smart phone
- Be wary of newly acquired acquaintances
- Don’t reveal personal information to new found friends

Citrus Center Apartments:
- Never give your key or university ID to anyone.
- Never open your door to strangers.
• Never leave your door open or unlocked, even for a short period of time, when no one is in your room/apartment.
• Keep all laptops, electronics, jewelry, and expensive items out of sight.
• Request I.D. from people you don’t know.
• Close your blinds or shades after dark.
• Never “prop” the entrance doors to the apartments.
• Don’t leave keys under the door mat or in other “hiding places” and don’t leave notes.

Laundry Room:
• Be cautious.
• Try to never be in the laundry room alone.
• Remove clothes promptly from washers and dryers.
• Consider folding your clothes in your room/apartment.

To prevent theft and help in the recovery of stolen property:
• Engrave personal property such as computers, televisions, and stereos.
• Record all serial numbers of property and maintain a receipt of purchase in a safe, secure place.
• Take photographs of all expensive items. These photographs can assist in proving ownership in the event of a fire or a theft. Keep these photographs in a safe, secure place.

Bystander Intervention
Bystander intervention can be as simple as calling the police if you witness a serious situation in progress. If you feel you are being stalked and want to report it as a crime; you should immediately call the call the Weslaco Police Department (956-968-8591) if the incident occurred on campus. If the incident happened outside Citrus Center, report the incident to local law enforcement or other appropriate campus officials.

Safe and Positive Options for Bystander Intervention
Everyone has a role to play in preventing sexual assault. There are many different ways that you can step in or make a difference if you see someone at risk. This approach to preventing sexual assault is referred to as “bystander intervention.”

Bystander Intervention involves safe and positive options that may be carried out by an individual or individuals to prevent harm or intervene when there is a risk of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking. Bystander intervention includes recognizing situations of potential harm, understanding institutional structures and cultural conditions that facilitate violence, overcoming barriers to intervening, identifying safe and effective intervention options, and taking action to intervene.

• Be aware of comments and behaviors from others that would indicate they are intent on having sexual intercourse even if a partner is unwilling.
• Notice if someone is getting ready to have sexual intercourse with a partner who is incapacitated.
• Never pressure or encourage friends to drink or have sex as often or with as many people as possible.
• Never joke about sexual assault; comments and jokes that are meant to “ease the tension” or are “just kidding around” can trivialize the severity of the behavior.
• Know your level of comfort with conversations and talk about sexual behavior. If you find groups or individuals who talk about sexual relationships that are not in sync with how you feel, or the type of relationship you want, do not be afraid to state your position.
• Many perpetrators are unaware that what they have done is a crime. They may say, “Yeah, that was messed up, but it was fun.” Let them know that what they did was not right and was against the law.
• Speak up when you hear threatening language.
Respectfully challenge comments that degrade others.

A bystander’s role in preventing sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence or stalking
The key to keeping your friends safe is learning how to intervene in a way that fits the situation and your comfort level. Having this knowledge on hand can give you the confidence to step in when something isn’t right. Stepping in can make all the difference, but it should never put your own safety at risk.

- Create a distraction. Do what you can to interrupt the situation. A distraction can give the person at risk a chance to get to a safe place. Cut off the conversation with a diversion like, “Let’s get pizza, I’m starving,” or “This party is lame. Let’s try somewhere else.” Bring out fresh food or drinks and offer them to everyone at the party, including the people you are concerned about. Start an activity that draws other people in, like a game, a debate, or a dance party.
- Ask directly. Talk directly to the person who might be in trouble. Ask questions such as “Who did you come here with?” or “Would you like me to stay with you?”
- Refer to an authority. Sometimes the safest way to intervene is to refer to a neutral party with the authority to change the situation, such as a resident assistant, security guard, bartender, or other employee. It’s in their best interest to ensure that their patrons are safe, and they will usually be willing to step in. Don’t hesitate to call 9-1-1 if you are concerned for someone else’s safety.
- Enlist others. It can be intimidating to approach a situation alone. Enlist another person to support you or to come with you to approach the person at risk. Or ask someone to intervene in your place. For example, you could ask someone who knows the person at risk to escort that person to the bathroom. Enlist the friend of the person you’re concerned about by saying, “Your friend looks like they’ve had a lot to drink. Can you check on them?”

If you become aware that a sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence or stalking has occurred or are told of an incident occurring:
- Believe the person. He or she will need you to be supportive and understanding.
- Tell the victim it is not their fault.
- Encourage the victim to talk to a professional, such as someone from Student Health and Wellness (confidential resource), University Police, the dean of students, or the Title IX Coordinator. Realize, however, there may be reasons that the person does NOT want to do that at this time. Respect that decision.
- Don’t pry or try to get information out of the person if they are unwilling to be forthcoming with information. Be ready to listen when the individual is ready to talk. The person may feel uncomfortable about involving others, and will open up when ready.
- If you learn of the perpetrator’s identity, do not suggest physical retaliation of any kind.
- Know available resources.
- Listen and be patient.

Tips for Violence Risk Reduction
The following are some strategies to reduce one’s risk of violence (adapted from the Rape, Abuse, and Incest National Network (RAINN) at: www.rainn.org and Love is Respect at: www.loveisrespect.org or other similar help sites). Risk reduction options are designed to decrease perpetration and bystander inaction, and to increase empowerment for victims in order to promote safety and to help individuals and communities address conditions that facilitate violence. With no intent to victim blame and recognizing that only rapists are responsible for rape, the following are some strategies to reduce one’s risk of violence, sexual assault or harassment:

- Be aware of your surroundings. Knowing where you are and who is around you may help you to find a way to get out of a bad situation.
- Walk with purpose. Even if you don’t know where you are going, act like you do.
• Try to avoid isolated areas. It is more difficult to get help if no one is around.
• Don’t allow yourself to be isolated with someone you don’t trust or someone you don’t know.
• When you go to a social gathering, go with a group of friends. Arrive together, check in with each other throughout the evening, and leave together. Knowing where you are and who is around you may help you to find a way out of a bad situation.
• Trust your instincts. If a situation or location feels unsafe or uncomfortable, it probably isn’t the best place to be. If you feel unsafe in any situation, go with your gut. If you see something suspicious, contact law enforcement immediately. (Weslaco Police Department at 956-968-8591 or calling 9-1-1 in most areas of the U.S.).
• Do not leave your drink unattended while talking, dancing, using the restroom, or making a phone call. If you’ve left your drink alone, get a new one.
• Don’t accept drinks from people you don’t know or trust. If you choose to accept a drink, go with the person to the bar to order it, watch it being poured, and carry it yourself. At parties, don’t drink from the punch bowls or other large, common open containers.
• Make or order your own drinks and never feel pressured to have “just one more.”
• Watch out for your friends, and vice versa. If a friend seems out of it, is way too intoxicated for the amount of alcohol they’ve had, or is acting out of character, get him or her to a safe place immediately.
• If you suspect you or a friend has been drugged, contact law enforcement immediately. Be explicit with doctors so they can give you the correct tests (you will need a urine test and possibly others).
• Try not to load yourself down with packages or bags as this can make you appear more vulnerable.
• Make sure your cell phone is with you and charged and that you have cab money.
• Avoid putting music headphones in both ears so that you can be more aware of your surroundings, especially if you are walking alone.

Sexual Harassment

It is the policy of Texas A&M University-Kingsville, that the sexual harassment of students, employees and users of university facilities is unacceptable and prohibited. This stance is consistent with the university’s efforts to maintain equal employment opportunity, equal educational opportunity, non-discrimination in program services, use of facilities, and the affirmative action program. The Compliance Office publishes a policy that gives detailed information about sexual harassment. These are available in the Compliance Office and other offices across campus.

Sexual harassment is the introduction of unwanted sexual activities or comments into the work or learning situation. Oftentimes, sexual harassment involves relationships of unequal power and contains elements of coercion—as when compliance with requests for sexual favors becomes a criterion for granting work, study, or grading benefits. However, sexual harassment may also involve relationships among equals, as when repeated sexual advances or demeaning verbal behavior have a harmful effect on a person’s ability to study or work.

For general policy purposes, sexual harassment may be described as sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other physical conduct and expressive behavior of a sexual nature when: (1) submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual’s employment or education; (2) submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for academic or employment decisions affecting that individual; or (3) such conduct has the purpose or effect of interfering with an individual’s academic or professional performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or demeaning employment or educational environment.
In keeping with this policy, Texas A&M University-Kingsville is undertaking an education and prevention plan of action to protect employees, students, and users of university facilities from sexual harassment and to rid the University of such conduct.

Anyone subjected to suspected sexual harassment should contact the Compliance Office at Texas A&M University-Kingsville. Contacts are confidential. Sexual harassment grievances will be handled according to the procedure summarized below.

Confidentiality
The university will protect the identity of persons who report having been victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual exploitation to the fullest extent possible or required by law. However, when accessing university resources, individuals should be aware of the university’s confidentiality and mandatory reporting obligation in order to make informed choices. Some on-campus resources offer confidentiality, sharing options, and advice without an obligation to disclose identifying information unless the complainant wants them to or when state or federal law requires mandatory reporting. Confidentiality is limited to licensed professional counseling staff in Student Health and Wellness Department. In addition, complainants may speak on or off-campus with members of the clergy and chaplains who will keep reports made to them confidential. Any information provided anonymously or formally will be used in compliance with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act for data collection.

Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2013
Overview

On March 7th, 2013, the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2013 (VAWA) was enacted by the United States Congress. Among other provisions, this law amended sections of the Clery Act. These statutory changes require institutions to compile statistics for certain crimes that are reported to campus security authorities or local police agencies including incidents of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. Additionally, institutions will be required to include certain policies, procedures, and programs pertaining to these crimes in their Annual Security Reports beginning with the 2013 Annual Security Report.

Texas A&M University-Kingsville strictly prohibits the offenses of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, stalking, or other forms of sexual misconduct. Offenders may be subject to appropriate campus adjudication processes, disciplinary action, and/or criminal proceedings. The university utilizes procedures that provide prompt, fair, and impartial investigation and resolution in cases involving domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking. These procedures are carried out by officials who receive specific annual training.

Sexual violence is a form of sexual harassment and services are available to students, faculty, and staff who experience sexual violence, domestic violence, dating violence, and instances of stalking. In these situations, Texas A&M University-Kingsville is committed to providing crisis intervention measures for students, faculty, and staff, as well as appropriate administrative response for the complainant and respondent; referring individuals to criminal authorities; and educating and promoting discussion on interpersonal abuse and violence issues. The university’s process does not preclude adjudication under state law. The University prohibits retaliation by its officers, employees, students, or agents against a person who exercises his or her rights or responsibilities under any provision federal or state law, including Title IX and the Campus SaVE Act, or this policy.

As a crime victim, you will have questions. What should you do? Generally speaking, a victim of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking has four choices:

- Choose to not report the crime to police or any campus authority.
- Report the crime to University Police anonymously.
- Report the crime to University Police 361-593-2611 or local police with the intent of pressing criminal charges.
- Report the crime to the university, including the Title IX Coordinator 361-593-4758, with the intent of using the Student Code of Conduct Process to hold the offender responsible. See Texas A&M University – Kingsville’s Sexual Misconduct Policy the Student Handbook or online:

Information for Victims of Sexual Assault, Dating Violence, Domestic Violence or Stalking

When a victim of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence or stalking contacts the University Police Department, the UPD will contact the Director of Student Health and Wellness Services or designee. The Title IX Coordinator will also be notified. Student Health and Wellness staff will guide the victim through the available options and support the victim in his/her decisions. The victim also will be encouraged to access the counseling services offered through Student Health and Wellness.

The University Police Department works in concert with Student Health and Wellness Department and the Health Care Clinic, taking a team approach in dealing with sensitive situations and referring persons to counseling services, as needed. Police officers are trained in threat assessment and licensed professional counselors encourage their clients to report crimes to the University Police Department to prevent the potential for future crimes. Crime information can be forwarded anonymously at the request of the client to the University Police Department.
Counselors do not disclose information to the police department without the consent of the client unless there is an immediate threat to safety.

The victim may choose for the investigation to be pursued through the criminal justice system, the campus disciplinary system or both. The university police, with the victim’s consent, will immediately conduct a criminal investigation of on-campus incidents. Completed investigations will be forwarded to the District Attorney’s Office for review and possible prosecution.

Along with criminal prosecution, University disciplinary action may be imposed on individual students, recognized student organizations and/or university faculty and staff found in violation of the university policy. University action is an option that can be pursued in lieu of/concurrent with legal prosecution. University proceedings will provide a prompt, fair, and impartial investigation and resolution conducted by officials who receive annual training on issues related to domestic violence as well as dating violence, sexual assault and stalking. Equal access and opportunities for the accused and accuser, including to the appeal procedures and support of an advisor; simultaneously inform the parties in writing of the outcome and appeal process; institutional retaliation is prohibited. While an investigation is occurring, the university will assist the victim in any appropriate interim measures, including but not limited to, changing academic and living situations, if such changes are reasonably available. The accused has the right to a presumption of not being responsible for a violation until proven responsible as determined by a preponderance of the evidence present at the hearing. To begin a university investigation, the counselor, police or victim should contact the Title IX Coordinator at 361-593-4758.

When students are the alleged perpetrator, if they are found responsible for a violation of the Student Code of Conduct the responding student may be placed on probation, suspended or expelled, for committing violent or criminal acts on campus or at campus-related events. University disciplinary proceedings, when students are accused of a violation of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence or stalking, are detailed in the Texas A&M University -Kingsville student handbook.

The institution will upon written request, disclose to the alleged victim of a crime of violence, or non-forcible sex offense, the results of any disciplinary hearing conducted by the university against the student who is the alleged perpetrator of the crime or offense. If the alleged victim is deceased as a result of the crime or offense, the institution will provide the results of the disciplinary hearing to the victim’s next of kin, if so requested.

A victim may choose a pseudonym to be used instead of the victim's name to designate the victim in all public files and records concerning the offense, including police summary reports, press releases, and records of judicial proceedings. A victim who elects to use a pseudonym must complete a pseudonym form developed under this article and return the form to the law enforcement agency investigating the offense.

Things to Remember:
- Obtain necessary medical treatment. This may include a voluntary medical exam post-assault medical care. This can be performed at a local emergency room or designated hospital. Many hospitals have a specialized examiner who can complete an exam for victims of sexual violence. Such an exam can help the victim receive an appropriate medical assessment and treatment, and can preserve evidence for possible future action
- Pursue counseling services with appropriate agencies (e.g., Student Health and Wellness, Employee Assistance Program (EAP), or private providers)
- Call someone that is known and trusted, such as a friend or counselor. This person can help to evaluate the next steps
- Make a police report to the University Police Department or other appropriate law enforcement agency
- make a report to a campus security authority (CSA), Title IX coordinator, deputy Title IX coordinator, or other responsible employee under Title IX
• Make an anonymous report. An anonymous report to the police notifies them that an act of sexual violence has occurred but gives no names or identification.

Procedures for Victims of Sexual Assault, Dating Violence, Domestic Violence or Stalking

If the Assault Just Occurred
• Remember the sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence or stalking is not your fault.
• Your first priority should be to get to a place of safety. If you do not feel safe and need immediate police or medical assistance, call 9-1-1 or if on campus 361-593-2611. Police can also take you to the hospital or meet you there.
• If you are a victim of sexual assault, you should make every attempt to preserve any physical evidence of the assault; avoid destroying evidence by bathing or showering, douching, changing clothes, or cleaning up in any way, or disposing of any damaged clothing or other items that were present after/during the assault.
• Contact someone who can help you: a friend, the University Police Department (at 361-593-2611 if on campus or 9-1-1 if off campus), a relative - any or all of the above.
• Get medical attention at a hospital emergency room right away. You do not have to report the incident to the police to be seen in the emergency room or to have an evidence-gathering exam (e.g., using a sexual assault nurse examiner kit).
• Seek medical help whether or not you want to report the incident. You may have injuries you are not aware of, and a doctor can help you do what you can to prevent pregnancy or sexually transmitted infections.
• Do not shower, drink or eat, douche, or change your clothes. These activities destroy important physical evidence in the event that you decide to press criminal charges against the assailant.
• Know that you have legal choices. Call the University Police at 361-593-2611 or Title IX Coordinator 361-593-4758 for assistance or to learn about your choices.
• As soon as you have a quiet moment, write down everything that you remember happening, with as much detail as possible. This will help with your own healing process and in any legal action you might decide to take.

As soon as possible, the victim of a sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence or stalking should report the incident to the University Police Department or to the appropriate law enforcement agency, if the incident took place off campus. The Office of Compliance, University Housing and Residence Life staff, Dean of Students or other appropriate university staff of Texas A&M University-Kingsville will assist reporting to UPD or outside agencies as appropriate. Filing a police report with law enforcement will not obligate the victim to prosecute, nor will it subject the victim to scrutiny or judgmental opinions from officers. Filing a report will:
• Ensure that a victim of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence or stalking receives the necessary medical treatment and tests. Ideally a victim of sexual assault should not wash, douche, use the toilet or change clothing prior to a medical/legal exam.
• Provide the opportunity for collection of evidence helpful in prosecution or obtaining a protection order, which cannot be obtained later.
• Assure the victim has access to free confidential counseling from counselors specifically trained in the area of crisis intervention.

Preserving Physical Evidence
If an incident of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking occurs, it is important to preserve evidence to aid in the possibility of a successful criminal prosecution or obtaining a protection order. The victim of a sexual assault should not wash, douche, use the toilet, or change clothing prior to a medical exam. Any clothing removed should be placed in a paper bag. Evidence of violence, such as bruising or other visible injuries following an incident of domestic or dating violence should be documented including through the preservation of photographic evidence. Evidence of stalking including any communication, such as written notes, voicemail, or other electronic
If someone is pressuring you, or if you need to get out of an uncomfortable or scary situation:

- Remember that being in this situation is not your fault. You did not do anything wrong; it is the person who is making you uncomfortable who is to blame.
- Be true to yourself. Don’t feel obligated to do anything you don’t want to do. “I don’t want to” is always a good enough reason. Do what feels right to you and what you are comfortable with.
- Have a code word or phrase with your friends or family. If you feel uncomfortable in a situation you can call and notify them without alerting the person you are with. Your friends or family can then come get you or make up an excuse for you to leave.
- Lie. If you don’t want to hurt the person’s feelings, it is better to lie and make up a reason to leave than to stay and be uncomfortable, scared, or worse. Some excuses you could use are: needing to take care of a friend or family member, not feeling well, having somewhere else that you need to be, etc.
- Try to think of an escape route. How would you try to get out of the room? Where are the doors or windows? Are there people around who might be able to help you? Is there an emergency phone nearby?
- If you and/or the other person have been drinking, you can say that you would rather wait until you both have your full judgment before doing anything you may regret later.

Consent in Reference to Sexual Activity

Texas Penal Code § 1.07 (11) "Consent" means assent in fact, whether express or apparent. (19) "Effective consent" includes consent by a person legally authorized to act for the owner. Consent is not effective if: (A) induced by force, threat, or fraud; (B) given by a person the actor knows is not legally authorized to act for the owner;
(C) given by a person who by reason of youth, mental disease or defect, or intoxication is known by the actor to be unable to make reasonable decisions; or (D) given solely to detect the commission of an offense.

Penal Code § 22.011 Sexual Assault, (b) A sexual assault under Subsection (a)(1) is without the consent of the other person if: (1) the actor compels the other person to submit or participate by the use of physical force or violence; (2) the actor compels the other person to submit or participate by threatening to use force or violence against the other person, and the other person believes that the actor has the present ability to execute the threat; (3) the other person has not consented and the actor knows the other person is unconscious or physically unable to resist; (4) the actor knows that as a result of mental disease or defect the other person is at the time of the sexual assault incapable either of appraising the nature of the act or of resisting it; (5) the other person has not consented and the actor knows the other person is unaware that the sexual assault is occurring; (6) the actor has intentionally impaired the other person’s power to appraise or control the other person’s conduct by administering any substance without the other person’s knowledge; (7) the actor compels the other person to submit or participate by threatening to use force or violence against any person, and the other person believes that the actor has the ability to execute the threat; or actions, as long as those words or actions create mutually understandable clear permission regarding willingness to engage in (and the condition of) sexual activity. Consent to any one form of sexual activity cannot automatically imply consent to other forms of sexual activity. Previous relationships or prior consent cannot imply consent to future sexual acts. Consent can be withdrawn at any time.

Medical Exam Following Sexual Assault

If you go to a hospital as a result of a sexual assault, you are entitled to a free evidence collection examination performed by a sexual assault nurse examiner (SANE). Texas A&M University-Kingsville departments (Student Health and Wellness, University Police, Title IX Coordinator) use area hospitals for such an exam, including Doctor’s Regional Hospital, Corpus Christi; or Driscoll Children’s Hospital, Corpus Christi. These facilities have specially trained nurses on call 24 hours a day for such purposes. The nurse will collect the evidence and ask the university police to pick it up and store it for at least six months. The evidence will be in a box marked only with a number, not your name. You are not required to make an official police report for this evidence to be collected. If you later decide to make such a report, the hospital will give your name to the police and the evidence kit will be tested for possible use in a court case. For assistance in this process, contact the University Police Department at 361-593-2611.

Dating Violence and Domestic Violence

The Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police Department takes dating and domestic/family violence complaints seriously. The nature and seriousness of crimes committed between dating partners, family or household members are not mitigated because of the relationships or living arrangements of those involved. Therefore, law enforcement must be thorough when responding to dating violence and/or domestic violence calls. An immediate criminal justice response can make a major difference in the disputants’ lives. If an assault should occur, the victim should go to a safe place and contact a friend or family member for support. Call the Texas A&M University-Kingsville police if the incident occurred on campus at 361-593-2611; if the incident occurred in the City of Kingsville call the Emergency 911, or Business 361-592-4311 for assistance. For locations not in Kingsville, the incident should be reported to local law enforcement and/or the appropriate campus authorities.

With all due consideration for their own safety, the primary duties of a peace officer of the Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police department responding to a dating and/or domestic disturbance and who investigates a dating/domestic/family violence allegation or who responds to a disturbance call that may involve dating/domestic/family violence are:
  • To protect any potential victim of dating/domestic/family violence,
  • Enforce the law of this state,
  • Enforce a protective order from another jurisdiction and
  • Make lawful arrests of violators.

State law requires a peace officer who investigates a dating/domestic/family violence incident or who responds to a disturbance call that may involve dating/domestic/family violence, (the officer), shall make a written report, including but not limited to:
  • The names of the suspect and complainant;
  • The date, time, and location of the incident;
  • Any visible or reported injuries;
  • A description of the incident and a statement of its disposition; and
  • Whether the suspect is a member of the state military forces or is serving in the armed forces of the United States in an active-duty status.

In Texas domestic violence laws apply to incidents of violence in domestic situations that cause bodily injury, threaten to cause imminent bodily injury, or cause any kind of physical contact that someone could reasonably expect would cause the other person to regard as offensive or provocative, including forceful detention which results in physical injury or places one in reasonable apprehension of bodily injury, impeding the normal breathing or circulation of the blood of the person by applying pressure to the person’s throat or neck or by blocking the person’s nose or mouth and which is committed by a person against such person’s family or household member. "Family violence" means: (1) an act by a member of a family or household against another member of the family or household that is intended to result in physical harm, bodily injury, assault, or sexual assault or that is a threat that reasonably places the member in fear of imminent physical harm, bodily injury, assault, or sexual assault, but does not include defensive measures to protect oneself; (2) abuse by a member of a family or household toward a child of the family or household; or (3) dating violence.

In essence domestic violence is any violent or controlling behavior by a person toward a spouse or partner. Although the partner is the primary target, domestic abuse also affects the children in the household, extended family members, and even the community at large.

"Dating violence" means an act, other than a defensive measure to protect oneself, by an actor that: (1) is committed against a victim: (A) with whom the actor has or has had a dating relationship; or (B) because of the victim's marriage to or dating relationship with an individual with whom the actor is or has been in a dating relationship or marriage; and (2) is intended to result in physical harm, bodily injury, assault, or sexual assault or that is a threat that reasonably places the victim in fear of imminent physical harm, bodily injury, assault, or sexual assault. (b)"dating relationship" means a relationship between individuals who have or have had a continuing relationship of a romantic or intimate nature. The existence of such a relationship shall be determined based on consideration of: (1) the length of the relationship; (2) the nature of the relationship; and (3) the frequency and type of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship. (c) A casual acquaintanceship or ordinary fraternization in a business or social context does not constitute a "dating relationship"

The Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police will arrest the aggressor when probable cause exists by the totality of the circumstances which may include: evidence that any of the parties acted in self-defense; a history of violence (prior assault convictions) of the parties involved, including history of calls for service; the relative severity of injuries inflicted on all parties, plus consideration whether the injuries were offensive or defensive; the relative size, bulk, and strength of the parties involved; evidence from persons involved in or witnesses to the incident; the likelihood of future injury to any party; and, current or previous protection orders filed against either party. As with any crime, it is important to preserve evidence. Physical evidence can include injuries of the victim, evidentiary articles that substantiate an attack and the crime scene itself. Photographs of injuries and the crime scene showing a struggle occurred can be invaluable.

A student victim of dating violence has the right, in addition to filing charges through the criminal justice system, to file a complaint with the Office of Compliance, 361-593-4758 or the Office of the Dean of Students, 361-593-3606, along with criminal prosecution, University judicial action is an option that can be pursued in lieu of or concurrent with legal prosecution. University students may report the incident to the Dean of Students, regardless of whether the act of violence occurred on or off-campus since the university reserves the right to hold students accountable for certain types of off-campus behavior. Disciplinary action will result if a student’s behavior jeopardizes the educational atmosphere or mission of the institution. Sanctions may include disciplinary probation and educational programs and may result in suspension from the university.

Red flags in a relationship:
Indicators in a relationship that might be warning signs of impending dating or domestic violence:

- Always wanting to know where you are and who you are with
- Not wanting you to spend time with others
- Getting angry if you do not answer a call or text immediately
- Always blaming you for their mistakes
- Calling you names or constantly putting you down
- Yelling constantly, throwing or punching objects
- Pressuring you to do more sexually than you are ready for
Do you...

- Feel afraid of your partner most of the time?
- Feel that you can’t do anything right?
- Get embarrassed by your partner’s behavior toward you?
- Believe that you deserve to be hurt or mistreated?
- Avoid topics or situations out of fear of angering your partner?

Does your partner...

- Humiliate, criticize or yell at you?
- Blame you for his behavior?
- Threaten to hurt you?
- Threaten to take your kids away?
- Threaten to harm your kids or pets?
- Force you to have sex?
- Act jealous and possessive?
- Keep you from seeing friends and family?
- Limit your access to money or necessities?
- Keep you from getting a job or going to school?
- Constantly check up on you?
- Threaten to kill or hurt himself if you leave?

Pay attention to the “red flags”, and trust your instincts. Instincts may have told victims that there was something wrong early on but they disregarded the warning signs and didn’t know that these signs were indicative of an abusive relationship. Survivors of domestic violence frequently report that their instincts told them that there was something wrong early on but they disregarded the warning signs and didn’t know that these signs were indicative of an abusive relationship. Always take time to get to know a potential partner and watch for patterns of behavior in a variety of settings.

Understand barriers to getting help such as fear of being judged, embarrassment and not wanting to admit that it’s a real problem. Keep in touch with your support system and confide in them. Participate in good self-care can lower your risk of being involved in an abusive relationship.

If anyone has been hit or abused by dating or domestic partner and they want to report it as a crime; they should immediately call the Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police if the incident occurred on campus at 361-593-2611; or to the appropriate law enforcement agency.

Keeping in touch with your support system and participating in good self-care can lower your risk of being involved in an abusive relationship. The Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police Department, along with the university community, is committed to stopping domestic violence in our community by encouraging its community members to be a courageous bystander with safe and positive options for bystander interventions to prevent harm or intervene.

Stalking

Stalking is traumatic. You may experience nightmares, lose sleep, get depressed or feel like you’re no longer in control of your life.

(b) The court shall render a protective order in the manner provided by Title 4, Family Code, if, in lieu of the finding that family violence occurred and is likely to occur in the future as required by Section 85.001, Family Code, the court finds that probable cause exists to believe that an offense under Stalking, Penal Code, occurred and that the nature of the scheme or course of conduct engaged in by the defendant in the commission of the offense indicates that the defendant is likely to engage in the future in conduct prohibited by the Stalking statute, Penal Code.

(c) The procedure for the enforcement of a protective order under Title 4, Family Code, applies to the fullest extent practicable to the enforcement of a protective order under this article, including provisions relating to findings, contents, duration, warning, delivery, law enforcement duties, and modification.

(2) causes the other person, a member of the other person's family or household, or an individual with whom the other person has a dating relationship to be placed in fear of bodily injury or death or in fear that an offense will be committed against the other person's property, or to feel harassed, annoyed, alarmed, abused, tormented, embarrassed, or offended; and

(3) would cause a reasonable person to:

(1) the laws of another state;

(2) "Property" includes a pet, companion animal, or assistance animal, as defined by Section 121.002, Human Resources Code.
Stalking Behavior

Stalking behaviors can include:

- Showing up at your home or place of work unannounced or uninvited.
- Sending you unwanted text messages, letters, emails and voicemails.
- Leaving unwanted items, gifts or flowers.
- Constantly calling you and hanging up.
- Use social networking sites/technology to track you.
- Spreading rumors about you via the internet or word of mouth.
- Making unwanted phone calls to you.
- Calling your employer or professor.
- Waiting at places you hang out.
- Damaging your home, car or other property

Safe Practices if you are Experiencing Stalking Behavior

- If you have a protection order, make several copies, and carry a copy with you at all times.
- If someone is following you, never go home. Proceed to a local law enforcement location, or call local law enforcement for direction on where to go.
- Acquaint yourself with 24-hour stores and other public, highly populated areas in your neighborhood.
- Under no circumstances should you agree to meet with the perpetrator face to face to “work it out” or “talk.” Meeting a stalker in person can be very dangerous.
- Tell someone. Resources like University Police Department, Student Health and Wellness, Title IX Coordinator are here to support and assist you. Victims under the age of 18 should tell a parent or other trusted adult about any harassments or threats.
- Inform friends, family, neighbors, and other people you know that you are being stalked so that the stalker cannot get information about you from them.
- If you have a picture of your stalker, give one to people you know at the places you frequent.
- Send one, clear written warning. This warning should convey that the contact is unwanted, and tell the perpetrator to cease all communications of any kind. Do this only once. Then, no matter the response, under no circumstances have further contact with the stalker.
- Collect and document all evidence. Save all email, postings, or other communications in both electronic and hard-copy form. If possible, save all of the header information from emails and newsgroup postings (use the Help feature on whatever service you are using for instructions). Record the dates and times of any contact with the stalker. All evidence of stalking should be preserved to aid in obtaining a protection order against a perpetrator.
- Save any packages, letters, messages, or gifts from the stalker. They may be important if you decide to report to the police.
- Keep a log of incidents including the date, time, type of incident, what occurred, and the names of any witnesses. Even if you decide not to pursue prosecution, you may change your mind and it will be helpful to have documentation of every incident.
- Document how the stalking is affecting you and any steps you have taken to stop it (e.g., blocked number, unfriended on Facebook, asked the stalker to stop). A free Stalking Log is available at: https://www.victimsofcrime.org/docs/src/stalking-incident-log_pdf.pdf?sfvrsn=4
- Ignore or reject calls from anonymous or unknown callers. Block unwanted callers. Consult your service provider for more information.
- Use voicemail to screen calls. Save all voicemail messages from the stalker, or record them to a tape recorder and save the digital recording or tapes.
- File a report with the University Police or local law enforcement. Save copies of police reports and record all contact with law enforcement officials and the prosecutor’s office. Add these notes to your Stalking Log.
• Change your contact information. You may want to consider changing your email address, Internet Service Provider (ISPs), and/or phone number, and consider using encryption software or privacy protection programs. File a complaint with both parties’ ISPs. Many ISPs offer tools that filter or block communications from specific individuals.
• To keep your address confidential, get a post office box and use it on all correspondence. Put this address on your checks. (If you are being sent something from Federal Express or another company that won’t mail to P.O. Boxes, change “P.O. Box” to “Apartment” when giving your address).
• Inform security at your place of employment that you are being stalked.

Law Enforcement Response to Stalking
The responding officer’s primary responsibility will be the victim’s physical well-being and emergency medical needs followed by an investigation to include obtaining preliminary statements, preserving evidence, and documentation with possible arrest. As with any crime, it is important to preserve evidence. Physical and evidentiary articles that substantiate the crime such as text messages, voicemails, videos, letters, photos, cards, unwanted items or gifts and emails should be saved. You should also write down the times, places and dates all the incidents occurred. You should include the names and contact information of people who witnessed what happened and provide this information to the police. Protective orders are meant to protect victims who have experienced or are reasonably in fear of physical violence, sexual assault or stalking by another individual. The Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police Department will provide assistance in the process of obtaining protective orders. Victims have the option of keeping their report of stalking in complete confidence, protecting their right to anonymity, when making a report through licensed professional counselors at the Texas A&M University-Kingsville Health and Wellness, 361-593-3991.

Only the victim can make this decision. It may be difficult to make complex decisions immediately after the assault. Talking with someone who can give immediate support and information, such as a sexual assault crisis counselor, a victim/witness advocate, or a family member or friend, may help you make a decision.

Sexual Assault, Dating Violence, Domestic Violence and Stalking Education and Prevention Programs

The University engages in comprehensive, intentional, and integrated programming, initiatives, strategies, and campaigns intended to end dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking that:
• Are culturally relevant, inclusive of diverse communities and identities, sustainable, responsive to community needs, and informed by research, or assessed for value, effectiveness, or outcome; and
• Consider environmental risk and protective factors as they occur on the individual, relationship, institutional, community and societal levels.

Educational programming consists of primary prevention and awareness programs for all incoming students and new employees and ongoing awareness and prevention campaigns for students and employees that:
  g. Identifies domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking as prohibited conduct;
  h. Defines using definitions provided both by the Department of Education as well as state law what behavior constitutes domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking;
i. Defines what behavior and actions constitute consent to sexual activity in the State of Texas and/or using the definition of consent found in the Student Code of Conduct if state law does not define consent;

j. Provides a description of safe and positive options for bystander intervention. Bystander intervention means safe and positive options that may be carried out by an individual or individuals to prevent harm or intervene when there is a risk of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault or stalking. Ongoing and Primary Prevention and Awareness Campaigns

Ongoing prevention and awareness events feature programming, initiatives, and strategies that are sustained over time and focus on increasing understanding of topics relevant to and skills for addressing dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking, using a range of strategies with audiences throughout the institution and including information described in the university’s most recent Annual Security Report.

Primary prevention programs focus on programming, initiatives, and strategies informed by research or assessed for value, effectiveness, or outcome that are intended to stop dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking before they occur through the promotion of positive and healthy behaviors that foster healthy, mutually respectful relationships and sexuality, encourage safe bystander intervention, and seek to change behavior and social norms in healthy and safe directions.

Sexual Misconduct Policy
Texas A&M University - Kingsville is committed to creating and maintaining an educational environment free from all forms of sex discrimination, including sexual misconduct. Any action involving sexual harassment, violence, coercion, and intimidation will not be tolerated. Specifically, Texas A&M University - Kingsville strictly prohibits the offenses of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking. These acts have a real impact on the lives of victims. They not only violate a person’s feelings of trust and safety, but they can also substantially interfere with employment and/or a student’s education.

It is the policy of Texas A&M University - Kingsville that, upon learning that an act of sexual misconduct has taken place, immediate action will be taken to address the situation. This includes working with state and local law enforcement to bring possible criminal charges and seeking disciplinary action through the university. Texas A&M University - Kingsville encourages the reporting of sexual misconduct that is prompt and accurate. This allows the university community to quickly respond to allegations and offer immediate support to the victim.

Victims and accused individuals are allowed the choice of an advisor or presence in any meeting or institutional disciplinary proceeding. The role of any advisor will be limited to being present and communicating only with their advisee; advisors may not examine witnesses or otherwise actively participate in the process. The advisor's role is to provide guidance and support throughout the investigation and resolution process. Each party is allowed one advisor.

Texas A&M University - Kingsville is committed to protecting the privacy of victims, and will work closely with victims who wish to obtain confidential assistance regarding an incident of sexual misconduct. The university cannot guarantee complete confidentiality, but it will do everything possible to maintain privacy, and will only share information as needed to address the issue. Licensed professional counselors at Student Health and Wellness are the only Texas A&M University- Kingsville employees who can guarantee confidentiality to a reporter or victim. If you request confidentiality or that the complaint not be pursued, the university may be limited in its ability to respond. Additionally, the university will maintain all student related records in accordance with the requirements of FERPA (the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974), and will be accomplished without the inclusion of identifying information about the victim, to the extent permissible by law.

In circumstances where physical sexual acts are not alleged, an informal resolution may be permitted. Any informal resolution must be approved by the Title IX Coordinator. In cases involving sexual violence, informal resolution is not permitted, even on a voluntary basis.

When the person(s) accused of sexual harassment/violence is not affiliated with the university, the response will vary depending on the level of control the university has over the respondent/accused.
It is the collective responsibility of all members of the Texas A&M University - Kingsville community to foster a safe and secure campus environment. In an effort to promote this environment and prevent acts of sexual misconduct from occurring, the university engages in ongoing prevention and awareness education programs. All incoming students and employees are required to participate in these programs, and all members of the university community are encouraged to participate throughout the year in ongoing campaigns and trainings focused on the prevention of sexual misconduct on campus.

Complaint Reporting Process

In processing reports of sexual misconduct involving students, Texas A&M University - Kingsville follows The Texas A&M University System Policy 08.01, Civil Rights Protections and Compliance and corresponding Regulation 08.01.01, Civil Rights Compliance, located at http://policies.tamus.edu/08-01-01.pdf. Regulation 08.01.01, Civil Rights Compliance was updated on August 17, 2018. The processes provided within the Sexual Misconduct Compliant Process and Disciplinary Procedures section of this report have been updated to reflect these changes. You may also refer to the website for the Texas A&M University - Kingsville Office of Compliance for more information: http://www.tamuk.edu/compliance/index.html

Sexual harassment, sexual assaults, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking should be reported to the Title IX Coordinator, located in the Compliance Office, Lewis Hall 130 or by calling (361) 593-4758. The Title IX Coordinator will work closely with other offices as appropriate. Employees who experience, observe or become aware of alleged discrimination must promptly report the incident(s) to their supervisor or a member official, administrator or other designee. Students and third parties (including, but not limited to, anyone receiving services from the member, vendors and private business associates) are strongly encouraged to report the incident(s) promptly to the Title IX Coordinator or responsible employee.

An employee or student is not required to report discrimination to a direct supervisor or to the alleged offender. The alleged offense may instead be reported to another member official, administrator, supervisor or the Title IX Coordinator. A link, https://secure.ethicspoint.com/domain/media/en/gui/19681/index.html, to an anonymous electronic reporting option for students and employees is listed on the homepage of Texas A&M University-Kingsville at www.tamuk.edu. As a matter of Texas A&M University System policy, all faculty and staff who have knowledge of a Title IX related issue must report the issues to the Office of Compliance. A third party (including, but not limited to, anyone receiving services from the member, vendors and private business associates) should promptly report the incident(s) involving an employee or student to the University’s Title IX Coordinator.

SECO is designated to receive, review and investigate complaints against the chancellor, the president of the university, or an employee who reports directly to the president of the university or the chancellor. The chancellor or designee will serve as the designated administrator in complaints against the president of the university or an employee who reports directly to the president of the university. The chair of the Board of Regents or designee will serve as the designated administrator in complaints against the chancellor or an employee who reports directly to the chancellor.

An employee’s or student’s complaint alleging discrimination should be reported as soon as possible after the action that caused the complaint. All complaints of discrimination must be reported to SECO and OGC in writing upon receipt by the Office of Compliance. Notification to SECO and OGC must include the: (a) date(s) of the complaint and alleged incident(s); (b) nature and description of the alleged conduct; (c) name(s), category (employee, student, and/or third party) and title(s), if applicable, of the individual who was subjected to the alleged discriminatory conduct; and (4) name(s), category (employee, student, and/or third party) and title(s), if applicable of the respondent(s), if known

The filing of a discrimination complaint will not stop, delay or affect pending personnel or disciplinary actions. This includes, but is not limited to, performance evaluations or disciplinary actions related to an employee or student who is not performing at acceptable levels or standards or who has violated system policies or Texas A&M University-Kingsville rules.

The University will provide written notification to students and employees about existing counseling, health, mental health, victim advocacy, legal assistance, visa and immigration assistance, and other services available for victims, both within the University and in the community. The University will provide written notification to victims about options for, and available assistance in, changing academic, living, transportation, and working situations. The University will make such accommodations if the victim requests them and if they are reasonably available.

Individuals reporting issues of sexual misconduct/sexual harassment will meet with Title IX coordinator and/or law enforcement (if a criminal report is being made, which is your choice, but is always encouraged). Regardless of whether a victim elects to make a complaint to law enforcement, the University will assist victims of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, and/or stalking. When a student or employee reports to the institution that they have been a victim of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking, whether the offense occurred on or off campus, the University will provide the student or employee a written explanation of their rights and options.

Victims will be provided written notification about available resources including counseling, physical and mental health assistance, victim advocacy, legal assistance, visa and immigration assistance, student financial aid, and other services available within the institution and in the community. A student who has been the victim of sexual misconduct may request interim measures, such as an academic accommodation or change in residence after a report of sexual misconduct. When reasonable and appropriate, the University will provide accommodations to involved parties upon request. Possible requests include the ability to change academic schedules or work schedules, withdraw from or retake a class without penalty, access academic support such as tutoring services, transportation and change residence hall assignments. Employees may also be entitled to interim measures. The University will maintain, as confidential, any accommodations or protective measures provided to the victim, to the extent that maintaining such confidentiality would not impair the ability of the institution to provide the accommodations or protective measures. Additional interim measures that may be taken to protect an individual pending the outcome of an investigation/hearing may include contact restrictions, interim suspension of the accused (not to exceed 10 days), or change in course schedule, residence assignment of the accused, and/or other restrictions.

The filing of an illegal discrimination, sexual harassment and/or related retaliation complaint will not stop, delay or affect pending personnel actions. This includes, but is not limited to, performance evaluations or disciplinary actions related to a reporter who is not performing at acceptable levels or standards or who has violated system policies, regulations or member rules.

Investigations

The individual(s) or office(s) designated by the University to receive complaints, appeals and/or reports of illegal discrimination, sexual harassment, and/or related retaliation will review each one to determine if there is sufficient information to proceed with an investigation or if additional information is needed. If the information is sufficient, the individual or office will forward the complaint, appeal or report to an appointed investigative authority within five business days of receipt. If the information is insufficient, that individual or office, in consultation with the Texas A&M University System Office of General Counsel, may conduct an inquiry into the circumstances of the complaint/report/appeal and (a) dismiss it as baseless; (b) close it for insufficient information to investigate; or (c) refer it to the office(s) which handles complaints or appeals not related to civil rights. The designated office will notify the complainant of such action in writing.

The designated office will provide written notification to the complainant(s) and the respondent(s) of: (1) receipt of the complaint stating the allegation of a violation of this regulation; (2) the appointed investigative authority; (3) the appointed designated administrator; (4) interim protections imposed, if any; and (5) admonishments regarding cooperation and prohibiting retaliation. A redacted version of the complaint will be given to an employee respondent(s) and their advisor, if applicable, with admonishments regarding privacy. When a student respondent(s) is charged with violating a conduct rule(s), both the complainant(s) and the respondent(s) will be provided, to the fullest extent permitted by law, an unredacted copy of the investigation report (without exhibits) prior to a decision being rendered by the designated administrator. If requested, access to exhibits, which may be redacted, may be provided.

At any point in the process, the respondent (Faculty or staff) may be suspended with pay, reassigned, and/or placed in another type of temporary status pending completion of the investigation and final resolution of the allegations. This is not a disciplinary action.

The University will offer the individual subjected to the alleged illegal discrimination, sexual harassment and/or related retaliation, the respondent and other affected individuals interim protections or remedies, such as physical separation, contact limitations, alternative work or other arrangements, academic adjustments, and/or counseling services. Failure to comply with the terms of interim protections may be considered a separate violation of system policies and regulations and member rules and procedures.

Both the individual subjected to the alleged illegal discrimination, sexual harassment and/or related retaliation and the respondent must receive equitable treatment in all facets of the complaint investigation and resolution process, including but not limited to the right to an advisor (if any), the right to present evidence and witnesses, and the right to be informed of the outcome of the investigation.

Timeline for Investigative Process

The investigative authority will review each complaint, interview witnesses (if applicable), review relevant documentation, and provide a draft report on the merits of the allegations to The Office of General Counsel (OGC) for review within 30 business days of receipt of the complaint. OGC will coordinate with SECO and provide its review to the investigative authority within 10 business days. The investigative authority will have five business days to finalize the report and submit it to the designated administrator. Circumstances may warrant extensions to the time frames in this section. The investigative authority should send an extension request, if needed, to the office or individual who appointed them. Both the complainant(s) and respondent(s) should be notified of any extensions in writing.

Investigation reports should include a statement of the allegation(s), a listing of individuals interviewed including the dates of the interviews, and a listing of relevant documents attached to the report as exhibits. Reports should not contain speculation, opinions, findings, decisions, or recommendations for sanctions. However, investigators may provide assessments of the credibility of the parties and any witnesses.

For employee and third-party cases, investigation reports may conclude that each allegation is substantiated, unsubstantiated, or if there is insufficient evidence. In student conduct cases, the investigation report shall be used as directed in the university’s student conduct rules. For a complaint against an employee or third party, the designated administrator will review the investigation report and provide a draft decision to OGC for review within five business days after receiving the investigative authority’s report. OGC will coordinate with SECO and provide its review of the draft decision within five business days. The designated administrator will have five business days to finalize the decision and provide it to the complainant(s), the respondent(s), and the investigative authority. In cases where allegations are substantiated, the final decision will also be provided to the respondent’s supervisor. Circumstances may warrant extensions to the time frames in this section. The designated administrator should send an extension request, if needed, to the office or individuals who appointed them. Both the complainant(s) and the respondent(s) should be notified of the extension in writing. Limited appeal opportunities exist in all cases, as described in TAMUK University Rule 08.01.01.K1, Civil Rights Protections and Compliance.
When the respondent(s) is an employee, both the complainant(s) and the respondent(s) may review the copy of the investigation report and exhibits, with admonishments regarding privacy, after the decision is rendered. The report will be redacted in accordance with state and/or federal law.

The University investigative and disciplinary processes will include a prompt, fair and impartial investigation and resolution process transparent to the accuser and the accused.

Standard of Evidence

In all investigations and subsequent decisions, the standard used to determine the merits of the allegation(s) is the preponderance of the evidence; i.e., more likely than not.

Sanctions

Sanctions may have educational, restorative and rehabilitative components for employees and/or students. In addition, employee sanctions may have punitive components. Examples of sanctions may include, but are not limited to:

- Written warning or reprimand,
- Required training and/or counseling,
- “No contact” order,
- Probation for a definite or indefinite period,
- Suspension for a definite or indefinite period, and
- Employment dismissal and/or student expulsion from an educational institution.

For students, expulsion is a disciplinary action taken to teach a student that their actions and behaviors have consequences, which includes ineligibility to continue as a member of the educational community.

Students found responsible for committing acts of sex-based violence and/or nonconsensual sexual penetration of another person will be subject to a minimum sanction of a one-year suspension, in the absence of significant mitigating factors. Students found responsible for these acts who have demonstrated predation for the purpose of carrying out these acts will be subject to permanent expulsion.

Texas A&M University-Kingsville must establish a minimum sanction guidelines for other sexual violence and sexual harassment student conduct violations. Once available, these guidelines must be disseminated widely to the university community and utilized in the training of adjudicators and appellate officers.

Students found responsible for committing acts of sex-based violence and/or nonconsensual sexual penetration of another person who are allowed to return to the university after a suspension of one year or more will be ineligible to hold an office in any way (including intercollegiate athletics or other competitions, both on and off campus), and ineligible to receive an institutional scholarship, in the absence of significant mitigating factors.

For other sexual violence and sexual harassment student conduct rule violations, the university will establish a process to determine the student’s eligibility to represent the university in extracurricular activities, both on and off campus. The initial determination of eligibility must exclude any administrator who has an inherent conflict of interest in the student’s participation in a particular activity (e.g., the coach of a student-athlete, the advisor to a student club or organization).

When an employee is found to have sexually harassed (as defined by this regulation) another member of the university or agency or community, the sanction will be termination of employment.
Texas A&M University-Kingsville may not take any disciplinary action against an enrolled student who in good faith reports to the university being the victim of, or a witness to, an incident of sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, or stalking for a violation by the student of the university’s code of conduct occurring at or near the time of the incident, regardless of the location at which the incident occurred or the outcome of the university’s disciplinary process regarding the incident, if any. This does not apply to a student who reports the student’s own commission or assistance in the commission of sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, or stalking.

For sex discrimination complaints, both the complainant(s) and the respondent(s) will be informed in writing of any and all sanctions, except when to do so would violate state or federal law (e.g., Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act).

Institutional Disciplinary Action in Sexual Harassment and Misconduct Involving University Employees

Texas A&M University-Kingsville’s Non Discrimination Statement details our commitment to equal employment and educational opportunity. In conformance with federal and state law and university policy the institution is guided by the principle that there shall be no difference in the treatment of individuals because of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, disability, veteran status or genetic information. Equal opportunity and access to programs shall be available to all members of the university community, both students and employed personnel at every level, and to all units, facilities, and services of the university.

In the employment of all personnel, the university recognizes that, as a public agency, it has a further commitment: it is obligated to support federal and state policies which seek to achieve equal opportunity in employment for members of underrepresented groups, women, individuals with disabilities, and Vietnam era and disabled veterans. As used in this document, underrepresented groups will include African-American, Hispanic, Asian, Hawaiian/Pacific Islander, and American Indian/Alaskan Native. Two important concepts are embodied in equal employment opportunity:

3. Nondiscrimination
4. Affirmative Action

Affirmative action requires more than employment neutrality. It requires Texas A&M University-Kingsville to make efforts to recruit, employ, retain, and promote qualified women, members of underrepresented groups, individuals with disabilities, and Vietnam era and disabled veterans. The affirmative action concept requires positive action to insure against perpetuation of benign neutrality in employment practices.

Appeal of Results of Sexual Misconduct / Sexual Harassment and/or Related Retaliation Reviews

In cases of sexual misconduct/sexual harassment and/or related retaliation involving a student, the appeal must be made in writing to the Senior Vice President for Student Affairs, Enrollment Management and University Administration (SVP) or a designee within three business days after notification of the initial decision. Appeal requests will be reviewed for merit and if filed in a timely manner. Both the complainant and the respondent will be notified simultaneously in writing of the results of the appeal. The victim is required to keep the results of the disciplinary action and appeal confidential. For further information, contact the Dean of Students (361-593-3606).

With respect to allegations of sex discrimination, the designated administrator’s decision and the sanction(s) imposed by the sanctioning authority can be appealed by the complainant(s) and/or respondent(s), but only on the following bases, as applicable:

- g) a procedural error or omission that significantly impacted the outcome;
- h) new evidence, unknown or unavailable during the investigation, that could have significantly impacted the outcome; or
- i) the appropriateness or severity of the sanctions.

The appeal will be confined to a review of the written documentation and record of the investigation and/or hearing.
and pertinent documentation regarding the grounds for the appeal. The appeal does not create an entitlement to a new investigation or a full re-hearing of the complaint. The appeal process for both the complainant(s) and the respondent(s) must be equitable, but not necessarily identical. The appeal must be filed within the time period specified in TAMUK University Rule 08.01.01.K1, Civil Rights Protections and Compliance.

An employee disciplined pursuant to System Regulation 08.01.01, Civil Rights Compliance may appeal that action in accordance with System Policy 12.01, Academic Freedom, Responsibility and Tenure; System Policy 32.01, Employee Compliant and Appeal Procedures; System Regulation 32.01.02, Complaint and Appeal Process for Nonfaculty Employees; and/or other system policies and regulations as appropriate.

Employees appealing sanctions issued pursuant to System Regulation 08.01.01, Civil Rights Compliance will receive an unredacted copy of the investigation report and exhibits, upon request, with admonishments regarding privacy.

Procedures for Student Conduct Cases Involving Sexual Misconduct

Student conduct proceedings related to sexual misconduct will provide a prompt, fair, and impartial investigation and resolution conducted by officials who receive annual training on issues related to domestic violence as well as dating violence, sexual assault and stalking.

The accused has the right to a presumption of not being responsible for a violation until proven responsible as determined by a preponderance of the evidence present at the hearing. A counselor, police or victim should report allegations of sexual misconduct to the Compliance Office, 361-593-4758 or the Office of the Dean of Students at 361-593-3606.

Inquiry and Investigation

When the university is made aware of a potential violation, an inquiry or investigation will be initiated to determine what occurred and then take appropriate steps to resolve the situation. All employees must, and students should, cooperate fully with those performing an investigation pursuant to University System Regulation 08.01.01, Civil Rights Compliance. Employees failing to cooperate with those performing an investigation pursuant to this regulation may be disciplined, up to and including dismissal. No employee or student may retaliate against a person for filing a complaint or participating in an investigation under Regulation 08.01.01, Civil Rights Compliance. Employees or students found to have retaliated or intentionally provided false or materially misleading information regarding alleged discrimination under this regulation, may be disciplined, up to and including dismissal or expulsion. Prohibited conduct includes, but is not limited to:

- d) attempting to coerce, compel or prevent an individual from reporting alleged discrimination or providing testimony or relevant information;
- e) removing, destroying or altering documentation or other evidence (e.g., text messages) relevant to the investigation; or
- f) providing false or misleading information to member officials who are involved in the investigation and resolution of a complaint, or encouraging others to do so.

Initial Review by Title IX Coordinator or Deputy Coordinator

The Title IX Coordinator or Deputy Coordinator will conduct an initial review of information in a sexual misconduct report or complaint to determine if there is sufficient information to proceed with an investigation, or if additional information is needed.

- a. If the information is sufficient, the Title IX Coordinator will forward the complaint/report to an appointed investigative authority within 5 business days of receipt.
- b. If the information is insufficient, the Title IX Coordinator or Deputy Coordinator, in consultation with the System
Ethics and Compliance Office, may conduct an inquiry into the circumstances of the complaint or report and;
1). Dismiss the complaint as baseless;
2). Close the complaint for insufficient information to investigate;
3). Refer the complaint to the office(s) which has responsibility for such complaints.
The Office of Compliance will notify the complainant of such action in writing.

Due Process Rights of Both Parties for Sexual Misconduct and/or Related Retaliation

A student or student organization alleged to have engaged in misconduct shall have the right of due process as delineated in the Student Code of Conduct. Additional provisions are in place for cases involving immediate interim suspension of a student for exigent circumstances and adjudication of Sexual Misconduct Policy violations which are detailed in the Student Handbook: http://www.tamuk.edu/dean/dean_files/studenthandbook.pdf,
Both the reporting party and the respondent are entitled to due process and fair and equitable procedures in all facets of the complaint, investigation and adjudication process and shall be:

h. Provided access to support services from the university at their request.
i. Informed of the investigation and adjudication procedures.
j. Allowed to choose to participate or decline to participate in the process with the understanding that the process will continue without their involvement and that the university will determine an outcome with the information available.
k. Allowed to discuss any conflicts of interest (real or perceived) arising from prior interactions by those handling the Title IX grievance procedures.
l. Allowed to have an advisor present during the investigation and adjudication proceedings. The advisor cannot directly participate in the proceedings and must not have involvement in the underlying case.
m. Given the opportunity to present witnesses and submit other evidence on their behalf to the investigators.
n. Notified in writing of the results/outcome of the complaint and subsequent action.

Investigation Procedures
j. When a decision is made to forward an investigation to an investigative authority for allegations of sexual misconduct/sexual harassment and/or related retaliation, the Title IX Coordinator or Deputy Coordinator will appoint two (2) investigating authorities to review the complaint/report unless circumstances warrant otherwise.
k. In all investigations and subsequent decisions, the standard used to determine the merits of the allegation(s) is the preponderance of the evidence, i.e., more likely than not.
l. The investigative authority will review the complaint, interview the complainant, respondent and witnesses (if applicable), review relevant documentation, consult with subject matter experts as appropriate, and review other available evidence or information. The past sexual history or character of an individual is not considered unless it is determined to be highly relevant. The investigative authority may also consult with appropriate management personnel, including but not limited to, the Dean of Students, the Title IX Coordinator, System Office of General Counsel, and/or the System Ethics and Compliance Office for advice and guidance, as applicable. The investigative authority will provide a draft report on the merits of the allegations to the Office of General Counsel (OGC) for legal sufficiency review within 30 business days of receipt of the complaint.
m. The investigative authority’s investigation report may conclude that each allegation is substantiated, unsubstantiated, or there is insufficient evidence. In some instances, after investigation, offensive conduct might not be sufficiently severe, persistent, or pervasive that it unreasonably interferes with an individual’s work or educational performance, or creates an intimidating or hostile work or educational environment. Nevertheless, the investigators may still determine that the offensive conduct is still a violation of university rules or policies, including the Student Code of Conduct or other published rules of the university and so note that finding in their report.
OGC will coordinate with SECO and provide its review to the investigative authority within 10 business days. The investigative authority will have five (5) business days to finalize the report and submit it to the designated administrator.

Circumstances may warrant extensions to the time frames in this section. The investigative authority should send an extension request, if needed, to the office or individual who appointed them. Both the complainant(s) and respondent(s) should be notified in writing.

The complainant and respondent will be notified simultaneously of the conclusion of the investigation and the availability of the investigative report for review.

The Dean of Students or designee serves as the designated administrator for cases where the student is a respondent. Upon receiving the investigation report, The Dean of Students has five (5) business days to notify the parties of his/her decision to refer the case to a hearing panel or not.

Circumstances may warrant an extension of the time frame in this section. Both the respondent and the complainant will be notified of extensions and the outcome of the investigation simultaneously.

Sexual Misconduct / Sexual Harassment and Related Retaliation Hearing Procedures

If it is determined to refer the case to a hearing panel, the Dean of Students will oversee the process. The Dean of Students Office will compile the information from the investigative authority, as well as inform all of the parties of the date, time and location for the hearing.

The Dean of Students Office will provide written notification of the hearing to the participants at least three (3) business days prior to the hearing.

Determinations during the hearing, will be made using the preponderance of the evidence standard, which asks whether it is “more likely than not” that the alleged sexual misconduct occurred.

The complainant and/or respondent are allowed to choose to participate or decline to participate in the hearing review process with the understanding that the process will continue without their involvement and that the university will determine an outcome with the information available.

Each party may have an advisor of their choice present at the hearing. The advisor cannot directly participate in the proceedings and must not have involvement in the underlying case.

The formal hearing will be held as scheduled even in the absence of the complainant or respondent, unless such absence is for good and sufficient cause. Note: this hearing is not a criminal proceeding. Related criminal charges are handled separately.

The University Sexual Misconduct Hearing Board will convene the hearing to conduct a review of the investigation results arising from sexual misconduct/sexual harassment and/or related retaliation cases.

4) The purpose of the hearing will be to review the investigative authority’s written report, to work to resolve any issues with the report, provide an opportunity for the complainant or respondent to answer questions and offer rebuttal or support of the completed report, to clarify any questions the board may have about the incident and report, and to deliberate on the outcome and sanctions (if a student is found responsible).

5) Any evidence submitted during the hearing review in rebuttal to or in support of the investigation report must be material and relevant to the issue under consideration as determined by the chair of the hearing board, and may be accepted or rejected by the hearing board.

6) Parties to the hearing may not personally question or cross-examine each other during the hearing.

After the review phase of the hearing is concluded, members of the hearing board will deliberate on the charges in closed session. Determination of responsibility will be made on the basis of a preponderance of the evidence. As a result of the hearing, the Sexual Misconduct Hearing Board may take one of the following actions:

4) The respondent may be found not responsible for a violation of the sexual misconduct/sexual harassment and any other applicable charge(s). If the respondent is not found responsible, then the deliberations conclude. While no sanctions are imposed, the Designated Administrator may determine if specific interim measures should continue in place and notify all parties.
5) The student may be found responsible for a violation of the sexual misconduct/sexual harassment or any other applicable charge(s). If the respondent is found responsible for one or more violations of the Student Code of Conduct, the hearing board will discuss sanctions for the student after being informed of the student's conduct status with the University.

6) Sanctions may have educational, restorative, rehabilitative, and/or punitive components. These include but are not limited to a written warning, reprimand, required training and/or counseling, restrictions, probation for a definite or indefinite period, suspension for a definite or indefinite period, employee termination, and/or expulsion from the institution.

h. Parties will be notified simultaneously, in writing, of the hearing outcome; appeal procedures; any change(s) as a result of the appeal process; and/or when the result becomes final.

Appeal of Results of Sexual Misconduct / Sexual Harassment and/or Related Retaliation Hearing Reviews

In cases of sexual misconduct/sexual harassment and/or related retaliation involving a student, the appeal must be made in writing to the Senior Vice President for Student Affairs, Enrollment Management and University Administration (SVP) or a designee within three business days after notification of the initial decision. Appeal requests will be reviewed for merit and if filed in a timely manner. Both the complainant and the respondent will be notified simultaneously in writing of the results of the appeal. The victim is required to keep the results of the disciplinary action and appeal confidential. For further information, contact the Dean of Students (361-593-3606).

With respect to allegations of sex discrimination, the designated administrator’s decision and the sanction(s) imposed by the sanctioning authority can be appealed by the complainant(s) and/or respondent(s), but only on the following bases, as applicable:
   j) a procedural error or omission that significantly impacted the outcome;
   k) new evidence, unknown or unavailable during the investigation, that could have significantly impacted the outcome; or
   l) the appropriateness or severity of the sanctions.

The appeal will be confined to a review of the written documentation and record of the investigation and/or hearing, and pertinent documentation regarding the grounds for the appeal. The appeal does not create an entitlement to a new investigation or a full re-hearing of the complaint. The appeal process for both the complainant(s) and the respondent(s) must be equitable, but not necessarily identical. The appeal must be filed within the time period specified in TAMUK University Rule 08.01.01.K1, Civil Rights Protections and Compliance.

Any student receiving a sanction of separation (expulsion or suspension) pursuant to this regulation may appeal the sanction in accordance with the member rule and/or code of conduct for student grievances.

Status of Students During An Appeal

Pending final action on a disciplinary charge or appeal, the student’s status should not be altered nor should his/her right to be present on the campus or his/her privilege to attend classes be suspended except for the following: 1) when the university has imposed immediate interim suspension action; 2) when a “disciplinary hold” is placed on the student’s academic and/or financial records pending the outcome of disciplinary proceedings or to enforce a disciplinary sanction; 3) when interim measures or restrictions are taken during a Title IX investigation and/or code of conduct disciplinary process when it is determined that they are necessary and appropriate to the safety of the community, and/or to protect the integrity of the complaint/investigation process; or 4) to assist with maintaining order on campus in incidents involving serious cases of class/facility disruptions or threat of violence whereby student(s) involved may be restricted from certain areas or other accommodations made to minimize the opportunity for verbal/physical conflict or retaliation. Once a student or organization has been finally assessed a disciplinary sanction and the appeals process is complete, no more severe major sanctions may be assessed against the student or organization by any higher university authority for the infraction in question except in instances where the student or organization does not comply with the initial sanctions that have been imposed.

Disciplinary Sanctions
When found responsible for a violation of the Student Code of Conduct, sanctions may be imposed upon any student or organization. The student or organization may be levied a sanction or combination of sanctions. As part of the notification of disciplinary action undertaken, the student or student organization will be notified in writing of the sanctions imposed, their duration, stipulations and deadlines for completion.

Students may be placed on probation with appropriate disciplinary sanctions, suspended or expelled, for committing violent or criminal acts on campus or at campus-related events. In compliance with federal and state laws and regulations, victims of violent crimes, including sexual assaults, will be informed whenever information regarding disciplinary action taken by the university is included in a student file. Both parties are notified simultaneously in writing of the disciplinary outcome and may appeal the outcome.

The sanctions identified below are not inclusive and may be levied in any combination.

15. Warning: A notice in writing to the student/organization that the student/organization is violating or has violated institutional regulations and that the continuation of such conduct or actions could result in further disciplinary action.

16. Probation: A written reprimand for violation of specified regulations. Probation is for a designated period of time and includes the probability of more severe disciplinary sanctions if found to violate any institutional regulations or failure to comply with the sanctions imposed by the hearing body.

17. Loss of Privileges: Denial of specified privileges for a designated period of time.

18. Fines: Previously established and published fines may be imposed.

19. Restitution: Compensation for loss, damage, misappropriation or injury. This may take the form of appropriate service and/or monetary or material replacement.

20. Discretionary Educational Sanctions: A provision to complete work assignments, essays, specific educational requirement (i.e., counseling, attending an alcohol workshop, etc.), service to the university or designated community agency, or other related discretionary assignments.

21. No Contact Order: Directive to cease any and all contact with another party/parties. This includes contact initiated through any means: telephone, correspondence, personal visits, email, social media (i.e., Facebook, Twitter) etc.) as well as contact initiated by any third parties on your behalf or at your request. This also includes making electronic outreaches to or statements about the other parties through blogs or other social media, ‘tagging’ them in comments, or through online message boards or other internet sites. This restriction applies to both on and off campus. The directive to avoid contact until such time as this order is lifted.

22. Residence Hall Suspension: Separation of the student from university housing for a definite period of time after which the student is eligible to return. Conditions for readmission may be specified. A student has 36 hours upon notification to vacate the premises (except in the case of an interim suspension where the student may be asked to immediately vacate the premises). The student will forfeit the housing deposit and is liable for the prorated rent amount for the period the student resided in the halls as stipulated in the housing agreement. The student may not enter or visit university housing during this period.

23. Residence Hall Expulsion: Permanent separation of the student from the residence halls. A student has 36 hours upon notification to vacate the premises (except in the case of an interim suspension where the student may be asked to immediately vacate the premises). The student will forfeit the housing deposit and is liable for the prorated rent amount for the period the student resided in the halls as stipulated in the housing agreement. The student may not enter or visit university housing during this period.
24. University Suspension: Separation of the student from the University for a definite period of time, after which the student is eligible to return. Conditions for readmission may be specified. The student is not entitled to a refund of tuition and/or fees for the term in which the student is suspended.

25. Immediate Interim Suspension: – Separation from the university without first receiving notice or a hearing for an initial period up to 10 calendar days. This sanction may be imposed by the President or designee if he/she determines the student poses a continuing danger to persons or property, or the student’s behavior is an ongoing threat of disrupting the academic process. The University will aspire to provide notice and an informational hearing no later than three class days after the day of the interim suspension. If the president or designee believes it is in the best interest of the campus community that the student should not return, the university shall initiate its formal hearing procedures for long-term suspensions or expulsions prior to the expiration of the interim suspension. The student is not entitled to a refund of tuition and/or fees for the term in which the student is on interim suspension.

26. University Expulsion: Permanent separation of the student from the University. The student is not entitled to a refund of tuition and/or fees for the term in which the student is expelled.

27. Revocation of Admission and/or Degree: Admission to or a degree awarded from the University may be revoked for fraud, misrepresentation, or other violation of University standards in obtaining the degree, or for other serious violations committed by a student prior to graduation.

28. Withholding Degree: The University may withhold awarding a degree otherwise earned until the completion of the process set forth in this Student Code of Conduct, including the completion of all sanctions imposed, if any.

Student Disciplinary Records

All outcomes of disciplinary proceedings administered under the Code of Conduct become part of the student’s educational record. Student disciplinary records are normally maintained for seven years from the date of the final decision in the Dean of Students Office. Student disciplinary records may be retained for as long as deemed administratively valuable or permanently if the student was suspended or blocked from enrollment. Expulsion records are kept permanently. Additionally, disciplinary records in cases involving gender-based or sexual misconduct/sexual harassment shall be retained for as long as deemed administratively valuable or permanently.

Sex Offender Registration

Registered Sexual Offender Information: The Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act (CSCPA) of 2000 is a federal law that provides for the tracking of convicted sex offenders enrolled at, or employed by, institutions of higher education. In accordance with this act, the University Police Department is providing a link to the Texas Department of Public Safety site for registered sex offenders which can be found at the following Department of Public Safety link: https://records.txdps.state.tx.us/SexOffender/. This site allows individuals to search for registered sex offenders by physical address, registrant name, or institution name.

Other states may provide a free search for sex offenders. You may find the information at http://criminalcheck.com/ or at https://www.familywatchdog.us/Default.asp
Reporting Requirements

An institution must report statistics concerning the occurrence on campus, on related non-campus property and on public property of the following crimes:

- Negligent Manslaughter
- Sex offenses, including rape, fondling, incest and statutory rape
- Aggravated assault
- Burglary
- Arson
- Motor-vehicle theft

Hierarchy Rule: A requirement in the FBI’s UCR program that, for purposes of reporting crimes in that system, when more than one criminal offense was committed during a single incident, only the most serious offense be counted. There are exceptions to the Hierarchy Rule when counting arson, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, stalking and hate crimes within the criminal offenses categories.

Definitions for Clery Crime Statistics

The following information comes from a variety of sources, including the Department of Education’s Handbook for Campus Safety and Security Reporting (2011); Uniform Crime Reporting Handbook; Sex Offenses definitions from the National Incident-Based Reporting System Edition of the Uniform Crime Reporting Program; and definitions of domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking adapted from the amendments made to the Violence Against Women
Reauthorization Act of 2013; and Texas statutes. The following definitions are used when preparing the annual disclosure of crime statistics.

This type of assault usually is accompanied by the use of a weapon or by means likely to produce death or great bodily harm. For the purposes of this definition dating violence includes, but is not limited to, sexual or physical abuse or the threat of such abuse, but dating violence does not include acts covered under the definition of domestic violence. Student Code of Conduct: Dating Violence – An act, other than a defensive measure to protect oneself, by an individual against a victim with whom there is or was a romantic or intimate relationship or marriage, and that is intended to result in physical harm, bodily injury, assault, or sexual assault or that is a threat that reasonably results in a fear of such harm. (Texas Family Code 71.0021) (Texas A&M University System policy 08.01.01)

Hate Crimes: A criminal offense that manifests evidence that the victim was intentionally selected because of the perpetrator's bias against the victim. For the purposes of this section, the categories of bias include the victim's actual or perceived race, religion, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, ethnicity, national origin, and disability. The incident must be reported as a hate crime if evidence indicates bias in any of the Clery reportable crime categories (outlined above) or in one of the following crimes: larceny-theft; simple assault; intimidation; destruction, damage, or vandalism of property; or any other crime involving bodily injury.

Race: A preformed negative attitude toward a group of persons who possess common physical characteristics, e.g., color of skin, eyes, and/or hair; facial features, etc., genetically transmitted by descent and heredity which distinguish them as a distinct division of humankind, e.g., Asians, blacks or African Americans, whites.

Unfounded crimes: An institution may withhold, or subsequently remove, a reported crime from its crime statistics in the rare situation where sworn or commissioned law enforcement personnel have fully investigated the reported crime and, based on the results of this full investigation and evidence, have made a formal determination that the crime report is false or baseless and therefore “unfounded.” Only sworn or commissioned law enforcement personnel may “unfound” a crime report. The recovery of stolen property, the low value of stolen property, the refusal of the victim to cooperate with the prosecution, and the failure to make an arrest do not “unfound” a crime report.

Weslaco Fire Department

The Weslaco Fire Department (956-968-7581 or 911) provides services to Texas A&M University- Kingsville Citrus Center Weslaco campus and area residents for the protection of life and property from fire and natural disasters. They maintain a standard of training which encompasses both a prompt response to emergencies and the safety of citizens. Firefighters promote community safety through public education and fire safety programs.

Emergency Response and Evacuation Procedures

Procedures for evacuations are coordinated by the Office of Enterprise Risk Management, Environmental Health and Safety Office. Annual instruction is provided on emergency evacuation procedures for the residential apartments (Visiting Scientists and Student Housing Facility). Occupants should become familiar with the locations of the emergency exits in the buildings.

Texas A&M University- Kingsville does not inform residents in advance about the designated long-term evacuations because those decisions are affected by the time of day, location of the building being evacuated, the availability of the various designated emergency gathering locations on campus, and other factors such as the location and nature of the threat. In all cases, UPD, Enterprise Risk Management, Environmental Health and Safety, University Housing and Residence Life staff on the scene will communicate information to students regarding the developing situation or any evacuation status changes.

The purpose of the drills is to prepare building occupants for an organized evacuation in cases of an emergency. Evacuation drills are used as a way to educate and train occupants on issues specific to their facility. During the drill, occupants “practice” drill procedures and familiarize themselves with the location of exits and the sound of the fire alarm. All occupants are instructed that in the cases where fire alarms are activated they must evacuate the building immediately. In addition to educating the occupants of each building about the evacuation procedures during the drills, the process also provides the University an opportunity to test the operation of the fire alarm system components. Any deficient equipment is noted so that appropriate repairs can be performed. Students receive emergency information and procedures during their hall meetings. The university continues to inspect, test and replace fire detection equipment in residential halls as necessary.

Emergency Notification

messages to registered users. Students are able to include several telephone numbers and email addresses allowing notification to parents and/or spouses as well. Because Tier II uses data provided by the students, it is imperative that contact information remain up-to-date at all times.

Texas A&M University-Kingsville will use the system only to provide official notification of critical emergencies (i.e., situations that pose an imminent threat to the community). When the imminent threat no longer exists the university will send out a follow up notification or an all clear message.

Emergency Management Team Members
Members of the University’s Emergency Management Team include the following:

- Senior Vice President for Student Affairs and University Administration. Serves as the Chair of the Emergency Management Team
- Executive Director, Enterprise Risk Management
- Director of Public Safety/Chief of Police
- Director, University Facilities Planning and Construction
- Executive Director, Physical Plant
- Manager, Environmental Health & Safety
- Chief Information Officer
- Assistant Vice President of Student Affairs/Dean of Students
- Communications Specialist
- Executive Director, University Housing & Residence Life
- Director, Center for Life Service & Wellness
- Associate Dean of Students
- Executive Director, Human Resources
- Assistant Dean for Finance and Administration (College of Pharmacy)
- Assistant Vice President, Marketing and Communications
- Academy High School Principal
- Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs

Depending upon the situation, however, other university personnel will be involved in carrying out the university’s emergency response efforts.

Campus Evacuation
The president or designee will authorize university evacuation orders. An announcement of a campus-wide evacuation will come from the Office of the President or the Emergency Management Team. Students and employees should follow the instructions and timeline for leaving the campus and alert others to do the same. Information about returning to the campus will be provided through Tier II, the personnel recall process for employees and press releases through the news media outlets.

Building Evacuation
An evacuation will occur when the smoke detector sounds and/or notification is made by the other occupants or the building emergency managers acting under the instructions of these offices, the Weslaco Fire Department.

All persons (students, employees and campus visitors) are to immediately vacate the area in question, leaving by the nearest marked exit or in accordance with the posted evacuation plan and alert others to do the same. Once outside, proceed to the designated building assembly area. Personnel shall not return to an evacuated building until given the all clear signal by Texas A&M University-Kingsville Citrus Center officials.
Apartments Fire Safety Policy
All apartment occupants must comply with directives related to building evacuations.

Fire extinguishers are strategically located in each apartment. These are for the protection of all residents and are expensive to replace. Persons abusing, removing, or tampering with any fire safety equipment, etc., are subject to removal from the residence facility, even on a first offense, and to other appropriate disciplinary action.

Reporting a Fire
Citrus Center university students and staff reporting a fire on campus should call the Weslaco City Fire Station at 956-968-7581 or 911.

If the fire event is no longer a danger they should contact:
- Citrus Center Director: (956) 447-3361
- Assistant to the Director: (956) 447-3362
- Farm Superintendent: (956) 447-3366
- Texas A&M University-Kingsville Police Department, (361-593-2611)
- Office of Enterprise Risk Management (361-593-2237),
- Office of Environmental Health and Safety (361-593-4131), or,
- Texas A&M University-Kingsville Fire Marshal, (361-593-3183)

If the fire event is located in a campus residential unit, students or staff should begin immediate evacuation of the building and notify other occupants of the emergency. The Director and/or the Assistant to the Director should be notified of the fire.

Emergency Fire Procedures

FIR(E2) Procedure
If you are involved in an emergency fire situation on the campus of Texas A&M University-Kingsville, implement the FIR(E2) procedure.

Find: If you see or smell smoke, investigate. You should try to determine the extent of the fire, the type of fire and the location of the fire.

Initiate: Alert the people in the vicinity to the danger as quickly as possible. Pull the fire alarm station and ask other people to assist in evacuation of the building. NEVER try to control a fire before other people in the building and UPD have been notified.

Report: Instruct someone to call UPD at extension 2611 to report the emergency. If you are alone – call UPD prior to any attempt at extinguishing the fire.
Extinguish or... Attempt to extinguish the fire ONLY if it is small enough to be contained AND you know how to use the extinguisher. Place yourself between the fire and an exit when using an extinguisher to prevent from being trapped.

Evacuate: If the fire cannot be extinguished – EVACUATE! Use the stairways to exit the building. Do not use elevators. As you exit the building, close as many doors as possible. Closed doors act as fire barriers.

Once outside, move to a safe meeting place away from the firefighters. Cooperate with the Building Emergency Manager(s) and other university emergency response staff to conduct roll of building occupants. The fire department should be notified if anyone is left in the building. Stay outside the building until the fire department and/or university officials have indicated that the building is safe to re-enter. UPD personnel will give the signal when it is safe for persons to re-enter the building.

- When you hear the fire alarm – LEAVE the area immediately, closing all doors behind you.
- Follow the main evacuation route, but be prepared to use an alternate evacuation route.
- If you must evacuate through smoke, get down and crawl. Heat and deadly smoke rise and cleaner air will be 12” to 24” above the floor.
- If you must open doors while evacuating, test the doors before opening. Use the back of your hand to touch the door, the door knob and the door frame. If they are cool, brace yourself against the door and slowly open the door; if smoke and heat are present, close the door and use an alternate evacuation route.
- Use stairways – NEVER use an elevator. In a fire, elevator shafts may fill with smoke, or may have power failure – leaving you trapped!
- Once outside, move to your designated assembly areas away from the firefighters. So the fire department if anyone is left in the building. Stay outside the building until the fire department has indicated that the building is safe to re-enter.

If you are Trapped

Stay Calm – you can take steps to protect yourself:

- If possible, go to a room with an outside window and a phone. Call 911 and give your exact location. If there is no phone – wave an object out the window (a sheet or jacket), to signal for help. Be ready to shut the window if smoke enters the room.
- Keep all doors between you and the fire closed. Cover all vents and seal cracks around the doors to keep out smoke.
- Be patient, trained rescue people will arrive to assist you.

Fire Safety System

Texas A&M University-Kingsville Citrus Center residential apartments are protected by battery powered smoke detection units.

The University Fire Marshal will conduct Life & Safety inspections of all the apartments annually. During this process each room is inspected for any fire hazards.

Plans for future improvement
Evacuation plans are in the process of being posted on the back of each apartment door.

Fire Safety Training

National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) Code 1(Fire Safety) Chapter 31.7.1, and NFPA Code 101 (Life Safety) Chapter 20.9.2.1, require the following in the Visiting Scientist and Student Housing Facility at the Weslaco Citrus Center: Emergency instructions shall be provided annually to each dwelling unit to indicate the location of alarms, egress paths, and actions to be taken, both in response to a fire in the dwelling unit and in response to the sounding of the alarm system.

Fire safety training for each apartment in the Visiting Scientists and Student Housing Facility is provided upon request. Each apartment was provided instruction on egress paths (building evacuation), notification of neighboring apartment occupants, tenant meeting location, 911 notification instructions, other actions to be taken in the event of a fire, locations and testing of smoke detectors, and fire extinguisher education.

Faculty, staff and students should be aware of the location of fire safety equipment and building evacuation routes. For on-campus residents, fire evacuation plans are in the process of being posted in the main entrance door of each residential apartment (posted in each residential unit) copies may be obtained through Office of the Director of the Citrus Center.

Citrus Center staff will receive fire safety training each year. Fire safety information will be discussed at training sessions conducted by the Office of Environmental Health and Safety (361-593-4131), or, Texas A&M University Kingsville Fire Marshal, (361-593-3183) and a BEM may be designated to assist during drills and evacuations. The University has also designated Building Emergency Managers (BEMs) to assist with emergencies including administrative building evacuations in their respective areas. The BEMs receive annual emergency response training through the Office of Environmental Health & Safety.

Tampering with emergency equipment such as fire extinguishers, fire alarms, or emergency exit signs is prohibited by state law and the University Code of Conduct.
Residential Unit Guidelines

Smoking
In order to ensure a safe, healthy and pleasant work, educational and living environment, Texas A&M University-Kingsville maintains rules and guidelines that limit smoking on all university owned or leased property.

Areas in which smoking is prohibited (except as noted in this role): Smoking is prohibited in all "No Smoking" areas and in all university-owned buildings, athletic stadium seating areas, retail service areas and all vehicles owned or leased by Texas A&M University-Kingsville.

Areas and circumstances in which smoking is permitted:
- On university property, smoking is permitted in open-air areas outside of buildings at a distance of at least 20 feet from any entrance door or window so that second hand smoke will not interfere with the occupants of the buildings or individuals entering and exiting the buildings. In athletic stadiums, smoking is permitted downwind and at least 20 feet away from the seating and vending areas.
- University student artists or actors who participate in authorized performances will be allowed to smoke as part of an artistic production provided that appropriate disposal receptacles and smoke filtration units are available and the audience is informed prior to the performance.
- If approved by the Provost and Vice-President for Academic Affairs, smoking is permitted by participants in academic research projects involving smoking provided that it is conducted in a designated area and informational signs are posted indicating the presence of tobacco smoke. The Principal Investigator must have a smoke filtration unit operating during the smoking event.

Compliance and fire safety: This rule relies on thoughtfulness, consideration and cooperation of smokers and non-smokers for its success. It is the responsibility of all members of the Texas A&M University-Kingsville community to observe the provisions and comply with the spirit and intent of this rule. It is expected that smokers will utilize proper receptacles to contain the ignited tobacco and will properly discard all smoking materials in a manner as to prevent fire.
