Certified occupational therapy assistants (OTA) deliver occupational therapy services under the supervision of a registered occupational therapists. Training for an OTA requires completion of a two-year educational program through an accredited school.

The accrediting agency for Occupational Therapy Assistant Programs is the Accreditation Council for Occupational Therapy Education and on their website, www.aota.org, they list 12 programs in Texas. Ten of the programs award an Associates Degree and 2 award a certificate in OTA. The Certificate Program at the Army Medical Department Center and School is limited to enlisted personnel in the Army, Navy, Army Reserves, and DOD civilians.
