

Methods of Instruction

Each of our courses has a consistent delivery method. The class with a section code of 600 or 601 is offered through an online format. The class with a section code of 900 or 901 is offered through the hybrid format. Most of courses in our program are offered through an online format via blackboard. Some courses that are currently offered in the hybrid format include EDCG 5329 Research in Counseling, EDCG 5312 Counseling Techniques, EDCG 5323 Group Counseling, EDCG 5357 Field Practicum, EDCG 5366 Internship I, EDCG 5368 Internship II, EDCG 5358 School Counseling Techniques, and EDCG 5354 Program Development for School Counselors. The hybrid format classes are offered via (a) online through blackboard every other week and (b) face-to-face in Rhode Hall every other week throughout the semester. Therefore, students who take the hybrid format class would come campus biweekly attending the face-to-face class of the hybrid format and attend the online class biweekly via blackboard. EDCG 5347 Multicultural Counseling will be offered in online format beginning Spring 2020. It is our plan that all courses will be offered through online format in the nearly future.
