Course Requirements and Evaluation (400 total points)
       Students will be expected to participate on a weekly basis in the online environment and in person as scheduled. Online participation constitutes "virtual attendance." Students will be graded on this weekly online participation as well as the following:

1. Online Attendance/Discussion Boards. Each student will provide a) a reaction to the topic posted by the professor and b) a response to at least two other students' reactions. These reactions will be due by 11:59pm on each Friday for the week we post. Your responses are due by 11:59pm on each Monday following each of the weeks we post. For example: If I post the discussion board topic on Tuesday 1/23, you are to post your reaction by Friday 1/26 and your two student responses by Monday 1/29. (100 total points toward final grade).

2. Developmental Guidance Unit: Each student will develop a 15-30 minute developmental guidance presenting a topic that could be used in a classroom and adheres to the ASCA curriculum. You may choose to present an elementary, middle school, or high school lesson. The lesson should be developmentally appropriate for the level chosen. The lessons will be presented through BlackBoard Collaborate to your colleagues, who will be your "students." You must be prepared exactly as if you were presenting this lesson in a school setting.(100 total points toward final grade)

3. Brochure: For this assignment you will create a trifold brochure for your School's Counseling program. Rely on the information in the presentations as well as the Program Guide to help you with this assignment. The brochure should be appropriate for the School level (High School, Middle School, or Elementary School). Include items that you think both students and their parents should know about the counselor and the counseling program. (50 total points toward final grade)
Your brochure should include (but is not limited to) all of the following:

- A statement that "Developmental Counseling and Guidance is for ALL Students."

- Your name and Contact information

- The role of the school counselor

- The 4 components of a developmental counseling and guidance program (from the Guide)

4. Schedule: For this assignment, you will create a Schedule of activities for the Counselor for one week that demonstrates a Balanced Time Distribution. The schedule should be based upon the appropriate grade level (High School, Middle School, or Element ary School). Use the Program Guide (the section entitled "Program Balance" beginning on page 22) as a guide for how much time should be spent on each component. Don't forget that you may have crises arise and factor in some "flex time" to attend to the unexpected. The Schedule should be suitable for posting on your office door so that all may see where you are and when you are available (50 total points toward final grade)

5.Final Exam (100 points toward final grade)

The exams will be in a multiple choice format. These exams will be taken online through BlackBoard and will be posted during the midterm and final exam weeks posted on the class schedule.

UNIVERSITY POLICIES

*Six Drop Policy:
The following provision does not apply to students with Texas public college or university credits prior to Fall 2007. The Texas Senate Bill 1231 specifies the number of course drops allowed to a student without penalty.   After a student has dropped six courses, a grade of QF will normally be recorded for each subsequent drop. Additional information on Senate Bill 1231 is available at the Registrar's Office at (361) 593-2811 and at http://www.tamuk.edu/registrar/drop_policy.html.

*Students with Disabilities
The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disability. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation please contact the Disability Resource Center (DRC) as early as possible in the term at (361) 593-2904. DRC is located in the Life Service and Wellness building at 1210 Retama Drive.

*Classroom Conduct Expectations Students are referred to the Student Code of Conduct section of the Student Handbook (handbook).

Students are expected to assume individual responsibility for maintaining a productive learning environment and conduct themselves with the highest regard for respect and consideration of others. Ongoing or single behaviors considered distracting will be addressed by the faculty member initially, but if the behavior becomes excessive and the student refuses to respond to the faculty member's efforts, the issue will be referred to the Dean of Students. In the case of serious disruptive behavior in a classroom, the instructor will first request compliance from the student and if the student fails to comply, the instructor has the authority to ask the student to leave the classroom. The student is expected to comply with the instructor's request and may subsequently contest this action using procedures established by the department. If the student fails to leave after being directed to do so, assistance may be obtained from other university personnel, including the University Police Department. The incident shall be handled as an academic misconduct matter using established departmental procedures for academic misconduct to determine if the student should be allowed to return to the classroom.

*Academic Misconduct
Students are expected to adhere to the highest academic standards of behavior and personal conduct in this course and all other courses. Students who engage in academic misconduct are subject to University disciplinary procedures. Students are expected to be familiar with the current Student Handbook, especially the section on academic misconduct, which discusses conduct expectations and academic dishonesty rules.
 Academic dishonesty includes but is not limited to:
1. Cheating: deception in which the student misrepresents that he/she has mastered information on an academic exercise that he/she has not mastered; giving or receiving aid unauthorized by the professor on assignments or examinations. Using unauthorized notes or study aids; allowing another party to do one's work/exam and turning in that work/exam as one's own; getting help from another party without the instructor's consent; submitting the same or similar work in more than one course without permission from the course instructors.

2. Aid of academic dishonesty: Intentionally facilitating any act of academic dishonesty. Tampering with grades or taking part in obtaining or distributing any part of a scheduled test.

3. Fabrication: use of invented information or falsified research.

4. Plagiarism: unacknowledged quotation, and/or paraphrase of someone else's work, ideas, or data as one's own in work submitted for credit. Failure to identify information or essays from the internet and submitting them as one's own work also constitutes plagiarism. Please be aware that the University subscribes to the Turnitin plagiarism detection service. Your paper may be submitted to this service at the discretion of the instructor.

5. Lying: deliberate falsification with the intent to deceive in written or verbal form as it applies to an academic submission.

6. Bribery: providing, offering or taking rewards in exchange for a grade, an assignment, or the aid of academic dishonesty.

7. Threat: an attempt to intimidate a student, staff or faculty member for the purpose of receiving an unearned grade or in an effort to prevent reporting of an Honor Code violation.

Other forms of academic misconduct include but are not limited to:

1. Failure to follow published departmental guidelines, professor's syllabi, and other posted academic policies in place for the orderly and efficient instruction of classes, including laboratories, and use of academic resources or equipment.

2. Unauthorized possession of examinations, reserved library materials, laboratory materials or other course related materials.

3. Failure to follow the instructor or proctor's test-taking instructions, including but not limited to not setting aside notes, books or study guides while the test is in progress, failing to sit in designated locations and/or leaving the classroom/ test site without permission during a test.

4. Prevention of the convening, continuation or orderly conduct of any class, lab or class activity. Engaging in conduct that interferes with or disrupts university teaching, research or class activities such as making loud and distracting noises, repeatedly answering cell phones/text messaging or allowing pagers to beep, exhibiting erratic or irrational behavior, persisting in speaking without being recognized, repeatedly leaving and entering the classroom or test site without authorization, and making physical threats or verbal insults to the faculty member, or other students and staff.

The following needs to be added ONLY on syllabi for classes that may involve a circumstance that could be harmful to an unborn child:
Any pregnant students, or students planning to become pregnant, should consult their health care provider to determine what, if any, additional precautions are needed, based on their individual situation. It is the responsibility of the student to communicate their needs to the faculty member or Office of Compliance as soon as possible in order for risk-reduction to begin when it can be most effective, and to determine if additional modifications are necessary. While the university cannot mandate that the student notify it that she is pregnant or is planning to become pregnant, the university strongly recommends that students do provide notification, so appropriate steps can be taken to ensure the health of both parent and child. To communicate health circumstances or to request additional information, please contact Karen Royal, Director of Compliance at karen.royal@tamuk.edu or (361) 593-4758.
