Spring 2026 Superintendent Practicum

Dear Superintendent Practicum Candidate,

Welcome to the Superintendent Practicum at Texas A&M University–Kingsville. On behalf of the College of Education and Human Performance and the Educational Administration program, I am pleased to welcome you to this culminating and transformative experience in your superintendent preparation.

The superintendent serves as the district’s chief executive leader and is ultimately responsible for ensuring that all district systems work coherently to improve student outcomes. The Texas Superintendent Standards emphasize that effective superintendents provide vision and leadership for student success, ensure high-quality instruction, manage resources strategically, model ethical and legal behavior, and foster effective governance and community relationships. While superintendents may not work directly in classrooms, their leadership decisions create the conditions that significantly influence instructional quality and student achievement across the district.

This practicum is intentionally aligned to the Texas Superintendent Standards and provides authentic, system-level leadership experiences that reflect the full scope of the superintendency. Throughout the practicum, candidates will demonstrate proficiency in the following areas:

- Strategic Leadership for Student Achievement by guiding districtwide planning, continuous improvement, and instructional alignment;
- Instructional Leadership through the use of data to monitor performance, support instructional leaders, and close achievement gaps;
- Organizational Leadership and Management by overseeing finance, human resources, operations, and policy implementation;
- Ethical Leadership and Legal Compliance by modeling integrity, transparency, and sound professional judgment;
- Governance and Community Leadership by working effectively with school boards, families, and community stakeholders.

As a superintendent candidate, you are expected to think systemically, lead collaboratively, and maintain a relentless focus on equity and student success. This practicum requires reflection, professional judgment, and the ability to translate leadership standards into effective district-level action. The work you complete during this experience is designed to prepare you not only for certification, but for the real and complex responsibilities of the superintendency.

We recognize that our superintendent practicum candidates are accomplished professionals with extensive leadership experience. This practicum is an opportunity to refine your leadership practice, deepen your understanding of district governance, and strengthen your ability to lead complex systems in service of students, staff, and communities.

We are honored to support you as you prepare for district-level leadership. We look forward to partnering with you throughout this practicum and supporting your continued growth as a superintendent leader.

INTRODUCTION: THE SUPERINTENDENT PRACTICUM

The Superintendent Practicum serves as the capstone field-based experience in the Superintendent Certification Program at Texas A&M University–Kingsville. As such, it is intended to be completed near the end of the candidate's program of study, after the completion of required foundational coursework. The practicum provides candidates with the opportunity to demonstrate readiness for district-level leadership through authentic, supervised experiences aligned to the Texas Superintendent Standards and Texas Education Agency (TEA) requirements.

EDAD 5385 is a one-semester, field-based course designed to bridge theory and practice through structured leadership experiences in a public school district setting. Candidates engage in district-level administrative activities under the supervision of a qualified mentor superintendent and with ongoing support from a university supervisor. Each candidate is required to document 160 approved hours of activities aligned with the Superintendent Standards. A required leadership project, completed during the practicum, serves as a culminating demonstration of the candidate's ability to apply superintendent-level leadership skills to real-world district challenges with a clear focus on student achievement and organizational effectiveness.

Candidates enrolled in the superintendent certification program are expected to have completed a minimum number of required program hours toward certification prior to beginning the practicum, ensuring adequate preparation for district-level leadership responsibilities. Many of the suggested activities/experiences could serve as the foundation of the practicum projects.

Suggested activities:

Observe leaders in the field who demonstrate a respect for the rights of others with regard to confidentiality dignity and engage in honest interactions. Describe the specific behaviors which leaders demonstrate or write a short vignette to use as a basis for discussion in a group of staff members.

Identify aspects of district functioning or district policy and procedures designed to promote fairness among students and families.

Prepare a short presentation to the board of education to explain your decision in a recent highly controversial matter. Your decision was based upon ethical and legal principles, although the decision was not the one all board members would have made. Distinguish between legal and ethical principles for decision-making.

Meet with a group of stakeholders to facilitate the development of a vision that promotes the success of all learners. How will you move toward consensus in a diverse group?

Analyze the strategic planning process used by the district and compare it to a model from professional literature. Do theory and knowledge align with the local context?

Analyze and report district data in order to help the leadership team develop a vision that considers the needs of diverse student learners.

Propose to the leadership team ways to use a shared vision to mobilize resources to support the vision.

Identify barriers to achieving the vision of the district and propose ways to overcome barriers.

Draw upon relevant information sources such as assessment results, demographic data, and analysis of the needs of the learning community to articulate the vision.

Plan and conduct a program to motivate a group of stakeholders to achieve the district's vision.

Design a research-based process to effectively implement the district's vision.

Identify motivational strategies influencing the school board in working together toward achieving the school's vision.

Analyze the alignment of administrative policies and practices required for full implementation of the learning community's vision. Do some policies need redesign? If so, propose a redesign of a particular policy or practice.

Collect, organize, and analyze a variety of information necessary to assess progress toward the district's visions, missions, and goals. Is the district making progress?

Identify and review all of the grants operating in the district and consider how each grant contributes to the shared vision of the district.

Identify, if possible, the impact of the various grants on the cultures represented in the district.

Present the data (with identifiers removed), your analysis of the data, and a proposed action plan to resolve the problem. Apply best practices, research findings, and emerging trends related to the school leadership.

Assist the leadership team in the selection of appropriate research methodologies for studying the effectiveness of various district systems. Outline the comparable strengths and weaknesses of each method.

The following step-by-step process is designed to guide and assist all parties in the practicum:

1. The candidate notifies the university's practicum coordinator of his/her intention to enroll in the course. This notification must take place during the semester prior to the beginning of the practicum. Practicums are not offered in the summer.
2. The university coordinator checks the candidate's degree/certification plan to ascertain the candidate's eligibility for the practicum. To be eligible to register for the practicum, a candidate enrolled in superintendency program should have completed at least 6 semester hours toward the superintendent's certification prior to the beginning of the practicum. The practicum should be one of the last courses taken for candidates seeking "only" certification. Candidates should see their advisor before enrolling.
3. The candidate is responsible for securing the superintendent's signature on the permission forms. The supervising administrator is normally a superintendent of the district in which the candidate is employed; it is possible that the candidate might work with an administrator from another district. However, the supervising administrator must hold a valid superintendent certificate.
4. Candidates attend a virtual orientation meeting at the beginning of the practicum. This orientation includes a discussion of the obligations of the candidate and the development of the practicum proposal that is done in conjunction with the supervising administrator (superintendent).
- . Between the first-class session and the first visit of the university supervisor, the candidate in conjunction with his/her supervising administrator develops a proposal for a major project that is specifically related to the nine TExES Superintendent Competencies. The proposal will provide direction for the candidate. The proposal is to be developed with the input and assistance of the supervising administrator and the university supervisor. The proposal should be designed to help candidates in fulfilling not only their own personal learning needs, but also district goals and tasks identified by the supervising administrator. As a result, the practicum experiences for each candidate will be different, based on the local context, the candidate's needs and interests, and the supervising administrator's needs for his/her district. The proposal should concentrate on significant, meaningful tasks that cause the candidate to integrate many smaller skills-based assignments into holistic projects and activities/experiences. A draft of these proposals must be turned in to both the supervising administrator and the university supervisor before the first site meeting, which will be held at the candidate's workplace.
6. Early in the semester, the university supervisor will visit with the candidate and the mentor if possible, and review the candidate's proposals with the supervising administrator and the candidate. The proposal, which must be approved by all three parties, becomes the "backbone" of the practicum. The university supervisor, supervising administrator, and candidate will attest that the candidate proposals are appropriate and agreed upon by signing the appropriate form. However, the candidate and supervising administrator should capitalize on any other learning opportunities that present themselves, whether or not those are included in the proposals. In a sense, that proposals are a “living document” which may change with approval as opportunities present themselves.

7. The candidate begins work on the projects and activities/experiences set forth in the proposals and is available for administrative work whenever she/he is not meeting regular work-related responsibilities, including before and after traditional work hours. Work on proposal tasks may be pursued outside of work hours. This pattern of work continues throughout the semester until the projects and 160 hours of the practicum are completed.
8. The university supervisor visits (virtually) the candidate and his/her supervising administrator during the semester. The first visit, as stated previously, is to review and agree on the proposals. The second visit (and subsequent visits, if needed) is to assess progress and adjust when needed. The final visit is an exit conference in which the university supervisor evaluates, with the supervising administrator and candidate, the candidate’s performance and progress toward meeting all obligations as stated in the proposal. The university supervisor assigns the final grade for the candidate. Other visits may be scheduled upon request by the university supervisor, the candidate, or the supervising administrator.
9. The number of required seminars held at the university will number no more than five, with one dedicated to orientation, one for TExES review, and one at the end to share candidate projects. The candidate is required to attend all class meetings. In the event of an emergency, the candidate is required to contact the professor. Additionally, the candidate will be given an extra assignment which will be due the week after the emergency. This additional assignment will require that the candidate spend the time allotted to a class meeting to effectively complete the additional assignment. Seminars involve activities and assignments that comprise part of the grade given for the practicum. Failure to complete these activities and assignments may result in failure to complete the practicum.
10. Additionally, all candidates will be required to complete a practicum portfolio, and keep a practicum log of activities and experiences that will include
 - (a) the date of the activity/experience,
 - (b) a brief description of the activity/experience,
 - (c) the code for each activity/experience,
 - (d) a well-constructed and thoughtful monthly reflection on activities/experiences,
 - (e) the amount of time spent on each activity/experience and
 - (f) the total number of hours completed for the practicum.

1. Demonstrates a desire to take full advantage of the learning opportunities that are available in the practicum.
2. Keeps confidences.
