TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY KINGSVILLE®

Your Voice Matters! Submit your Feedback on our Proposed Mission, Vision, and Shared Values

Texas A&M University-Kingsville has launched a collaborative and intentional planning process to define the new vision and strategic priorities for Javelina Nation. As the first institution of higher learning in South Texas, Texas A&M University-Kingsville has changed students' lives for nearly a century and has helped shape our region. The 2024-2027 Strategic Plan will further reaffirm our commitment to our North Star—student success—into our next century of service.

The Cultural Definition Taskforce was convened in February 2023 to examine and redefine the foundation of our Strategic Plan: our Mission, Vision, and Shared Values. Comprised of faculty, staff, and administrators from across the university, the taskforce participated in multiple workshops through June 2023.

The result of their work is a proposal that is now available for review on the TAMUK Strategic Planning website.

Javelina faculty, staff, students, and community members are asked to review the proposal and to provide feedback using the link available on the webpage. The feedback survey will be open through Monday, October 9.
